TELLS OF 8TH'S TRIP TO BORDER

Going Wasn't So Bad, Thanks to Quartermaster Ed. H. Schell

[By Special Correspondence]

El Paso, Texas, July 14. — Well here we are at El Paso and believe a tired private, if you will, we are mighty glad to have arrived at last. At that we had an interesting and not altogether unpleasant journey. Each one of the privates had a full seat to himself. From a point in Kansas, the name of which I have forgotten, we rode in tourist sleeper cars, which was a great improvement. We have no complaint to make — plenty of ice, plenty of good water and as much comfort as day coaches could afford. Of course it was not traveling Pullman, but then, what can a soldier expect on an emergency call?

Every man here will tell you that this was largely due to Ed. H. Schell, the best regimental quartermaster the division has. Schell had experience in the coal strikes and he knows all about handling men under difficulties and what they need. We got out of Mt. Gretna a day after the Fourth Regiment and got here ahead of them. Schell was the man who greased the ways and made it easy for the boys.

Hailed With Joy

The people here hailed us with joy as we piled out of the cars. They took us as protectors. All along the way, also, we were well received and at various places where there were lakes they "shooed" the crowds back while we shook ourselves out of our clothes and plunged into the cooling water. The camp here is in a very pleasant place, but we are putting it into condition rapidly. Lads who a few days ago were scratching away over desks are now plugging away clearing company streets of cactus roots, which are turned over to the cooks for firewood, killing horned lizards and a million kinds of bugs that conspire against our peace of mind. After we left our cars last night we had only a few hundred yards to march until we were told to camp, and camp we did where we now are on the banks of Texas. The evening was warm but the night was cool.

To-day delegations of Elks, Knights of Columbus, Masons and other lodges visited the camp and men who are fortunate enough to belong to these orders were told that the El Paso lodges would make them welcome. The Y. M. C. A. also sent out agents to make us welcome and we have some hopes of enjoying a bath or two there, for there is not such luxury as yet at camp and water is scarce. Men and women of the town have joined together in an organization to provide entertainments each evening for the troops, so time may not hang heavy on our hands while we are here.

This morning we were surprised to receive mail, some of which had accumulated here in advance of us, and among the lot was a bundle of Telegraphs, which we eagerly devoured. Our health is generally good, but the officers have cautioned everybody to slow on the eats' until we get used to the climate.

CAROTHERS IS WORKING ON PLAN

Farmers' Institute to Be Conducted on More Economic Basis Next Winter

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture C. E. Carothers, who is head of farmers' institutes, is working out plans for the Farmers' Institutes to be held in every county of the State during the winter and every effort is being made to have the 1916-17 season the most successful since these instruction schools for the farmers of the State were undertaken. County chairmen have already selected and notified the Department of Agriculture of the places selected and dates desired for the meetings and Secretary Carothers is now arranging a general schedule and for the assignment of instructors. The institute work will start about November 13 and will continue throughout the winter until early in March. There will be several new features connected with the work this season. The local chairmen will be relieved of the work of issuing posters and help will be extended in advertising the meetings. Each year the interest in the Farmers' Institutes is growing and special efforts will be made this year to have the instruction in each county bear especially upon the most important agricultural industries of each section. Three features will be dwelt upon by the State speakers, dairying, poultry husbandry and horticulture. The usual custom of having two day meetings in one place will be followed and one of the sessions will be devoted to educational work that will bring out the farm and home interest to the boys and girls and be helpful to the farmers' wives. The department will supervise the arrangement of local programs and entire sessions will be given over to the special topic which are of most importance to the community. During the past year the attendance at institutes was 155,969 and there were 398 regularly scheduled institutes, 11 specials and three days of movable schools. There was a total of 994 sessions and every county in the State was covered. In addition the State speakers were present at many agricultural meetings not under State control.

Beautiful Bust and Shoulders are possible if you will wear a scientifically constructed Ben Jolie Brassiere. The dragging weight of an unconfined bust so stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled. put the bust back where it belongs, prevent the full bust from having the appearance of flabbiness, eliminate the danger of dragging muscles and confine the flesh of the shoulder giving a graceful line to the entire upper body. They are the cleanest and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, Hook Front, Surplice, Bandeau, etc. Embed with "Walohn," the rustless boning—permanently washing without removal. Have your dealer show you Ben Jolie Brassieres, if not stock, we will gladly send him, prepaid, samples to show you. BENJAMIN & JOHNES, 51 Warren Street, Newark, N. J.
