TROOPS ANXIOUS TO CROSS BORDER

Harrisburg Soldiers in Fine Spirits Since Rations Were Changed

[By Special Correspondence] Camp Stewart Fort Bliss, Tex., July 21. — In order to have the State militias, now the National militias, in shape for a strenuous campaign on the border, new equipment is being issued all the troops of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry here. The Governor's Troop of Harrisburg has received its requisition lists and they are now being made out so that the men will be able to draw complete outfits before the week is out.

Captain George C. Jack has started at work on the requests for equipment, being assisted by First Lieutenant Edwin A. Nicodemus and Quartermaster Sergeant William N. Wyble. The lists include everything from a pair of socks and a pair of gray gaiters, to a tent fly and a saddle. Some of the State uniforms and equipment, which were given the Harrisburg troop at Mt. Gretna too late for distribution among the men, are now being issued the Harrisburgers, so that the troop now presents a good appearance.

New Ration System
A much wider selection of rations for the meals is now possible by the new system of issuance, which permits the various troops to secure whatever they need up to the amount of 27 cents for each man. Heretofore the troops were each issued the same things, and there was little variance in the meals. With the new system, each troop secures what it desires, the credit of 27 cents daily per man being good for the entire troop.

The new system works like a credit system at a store at home. A troop quartermaster sergeant may secure from the regimental quartermaster sergeant anything from candles to flour. He is not limited to anything within reason, but must pay for it out of his credit of 27 cents a day for each man.

After living for about two weeks on tomatoes, beans,hardtack and corned beef, the Harrisburg men are now beginning to live on fresh meat, fresh bread and potatoes, these things now being issued by Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant Scott. As the result, the Harrisburg men are feeling in better spirits and life on the Texas border has taken on a much pleasanter aspect.

Weber Catches Hair and Fleas

Yesterday Cook Frank Weber endeavored to capture a family of prairie dogs that have their home underneath the icebox in the cook tent. The animals nightly run wild through the tent and, although the catables are in cans and in chests, the little rodents have done considerable damage. Weber yesterday saw one of the little dogs hustling to his hole and he made a dive for the creature. He managed to get his hand on its back, but a flea from a handful of hairs and fleas he got nothing for his pains.

To-night Weber plans to smoke out the family. After the evening meal is cooked, a smudge of oil-soaked waste will be thrust down the hole into the ground and an effort made to capture the little creatures.

Troop F of New Castle, which is situated right next to the Harrisburg troop, has a little prairie dog as a mascot, and Troop C, the Governor's Troop, wants one too. If Weber is successful this evening the animals will be placed in a wooden box and kept as pets.

"Kitchen Police"

Although they enlisted as soldiers, to fight an enemy on horseback, Privates Roy Lower, Charles Peters, Lloyd Pike and William Pendergast are spending much of their time at the esthetic business of peeling potatoes. They are on "kitchen police" detail and are supposed to assist the cooks in preparing and serving the meals.

Aside from this, their duty consists of getting the barrels and kettles ready for the water from the tank wagons that furnish the camp with drinking and cooking water. There is so very little water available as yet that it is not worth while saying anything about the "wash water."

For three days the engineers of Scranton and Philadelphia have been supervising the digging of the trench in which the water pipes to furnish the cavalry camp with water, will be laid. To-day the pipes were put in place so that tomorrow the water likely will be ready at the edge of the camp.

When completed, the line will extend through the entire camp, each troop having a spigot at the mess tent.

Here water for all purposes will be secured. Different than at the mobilization camp in Mt. Gretna, where the pipes were laid on top of the ground, the water line in this desert country is placed beneath the soil a distance of about two feet. Otherwise the intense heat of the sun would have the water heated to the boiling point before it ever reached the camp.

Hot? Read This
When it melts candles in the saddle pockets of Clyde Fisher and Howard Kaufman, it is pretty hot. These men went to their saddle pockets the other night to get their candles and found them both melted so that they were of no use. Chocolate almonds and nuts, which are the favorite candy of the soldier boys, can not be kept in this climate. They melt in the hot weather so that all chocolate supplies, even in El Paso, are kept on ice so as to be in a salable condition.

To-day the three mascot dogs of the Harrisburg troop were given their first bath since reaching Texas. A little water was sprayed on the drinking water barrel and the animals given a thorough scrubbing. Immediately after their baths, the dogs went out and rolled in the sand.

The men are looking forward to the completion of the water line, for they have been promised their horses whenever the water supply at camp is sufficient for the animals.

Thousands of the Eastern troopers make use of the showers and swimming pool of the little Y. M. C. A. at El Paso daily, paying 15 cents for the privilege and a towel. But from Fort Bliss, the end of the trolley line from El Paso it is a walk of about four miles through the hot sand to camp, so that by the time the men reach "home" they are in need of another bath.

Handling the Mail

Trumpeter Paul E. Kurzenkabe is handling the mail and the laundry for the Harrisburg boys. He is being assisted in this by Private Wilson Kirkpatrick, his "bunkie."

At the entrance to the mess tent is an ordinary wooden box which has been fitted up with shelves and a top for a mail box. Here all outgoing mail is placed. Kirkpatrick and Kurzenkabe distribute the incoming mail as soon as it is received, the troopers crowding about their tent when the word gets out that the "mail is in."

To Move Troops Soon
More than forty auto trucks have been leased to the Seventh Division of the National Guards, which is made up by the Pennsylvania troops, and about a dozen of the trucks have been distributed to the cavalry organization and will be distributed among the various troops. The distribution of the trucks and wagons indicates that the troops will be moved some place soon, likely to the Big Bend country

This "Blacklist" Contains the Name of Roosevelt

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 21. — The name of Roosevelt stands on the "blacklist" of Plattsburg camp—and it was put there by a Roosevelt. As a result, when Colonel Theodore Roosevelt visits the camp to-morrow, a chat with his son, Quentin, will become possible only if the Colonel carries it on while Quentin is cleaning up camp streets.

When discipline was not as it should be in Company A, Fourth Training

Regiment, Captain Sutherland decided to "blacklist" and punish the offender. His orders were conveyed to Sergeant Archie Roosevelt, who was impressed with the necessity of maintaining order. To-day, when the company was in line in the company street, a commotion was heard and Sergeant Roosevelt cried:

"The man responsible for the commotion will step to the front."

He did—and it was Brother Quentin, followed by several other rookies. Then the name of Roosevelt went up on the "blacklist"—all because Quentin carelessly dropped his rifle on a fellow rookie's toes.

Rare Play Is Feature in Chicago-New York Game

A rare play was executed by Kauff in the Cub-Giant fray Wednesday when the well-known Benny executed an unassisted double play. The Cubs had the bases full in the third. Rariden, the Giant catcher, tried to catch Mann off second, with a quick throw to Doolan. Knabe, in third started for home, then returned to third in safety. Doolan threw home to catch Knabe and Rariden again pegged to second in another effort to get Mann. This time Kauff took the throw, touched out Mann and then tagged out Williams who attempted to advance to second, when he saw Mann was caught.

ACCIDENTS IN MIFFLIN COUNTY

Special to the Telegraph

Lewistown, Pa., July 21. — Russell Pennypacker was badly injured at the Standard Steel works while working around molten metal, when he stepped into the hot iron. Both feet and ankles were badly burned and he will be laid up for some time.

Edward Bumgardner, aged about 42 years, of Shradler, had his left hand badly crushed by falling rock while operating a drill in the quarries of the National Limestone Company.

Eczema on Scalp—Awful Irritation Resinol Soon Healed It Entirely

Mar. 28: "I had a severe case of eczema on my head. My scalp itched and burned and was full of scabs, and when I scratched that would of course pull off the scabs and left my head very sore. The irritation was something awful. I could not keep my hands out of my head. My hair became very dry and harsh and did not feel like there was any life in it. The first application of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap soothed the scalp wonderfully, and after using one jar of Resinol Ointment and three cakes of Resinol Soap my head is entirely cured. I can rest peacefully and there is no more itching. My temples were almost clean of hair and now they are covered thickly. I must say Resinol is simply wonderful for almost any kind of skin trouble. It does all you say and more." (Signed) Mrs. Jennie E. Wheeler, 120 Woodridge Pl., Leonia, N. J.

about the Rio Grande, where the attacks from the reorganized Villa army are expected daily. The Tenth Infantry of Pennsylvania are already in camp in this section, and the cavalry is expected to follow shortly, so that the Harrisburg boys may get some active service within a short time.

All the men are anxious to cross the border. "Now that we are this close," say the men, "let's get to Mexico and have the thing over with. And then let us go home."

This country is not the loveliest in the world, nor the climate the coolest and most comfortable, but the men are standing it well, only minor sicknesses, such as cramps, nosebleed, due to the rarefied air, and indigestion, due to canned meats and vegetables, being reported.

For several days the troops didn't get any Telegraphs, but to-day, Sunday, the issues of several days, came, showing that the mail had been held up somewhere. The men gathered about the post office tent like flies after honey, waiting for the papers to be distributed. It would go your soul good to see how eagerly the men read the papers for news of their home town.

Prudential Agents in New Union Threaten Big Strike

By Associated Press
New York, July 21. — The New York and New Jersey locals of the newly organized union of agents employed by the Prudential Life Insurance Company, notified the company to-day that a strike would be called next Monday if the company carried out its report in the threat to dismiss some thirty men. The employees grievance is based upon an order that they shall cover policies which lapse by getting new policies without commission and shall furnish policies without commissions for the paid up and cash surrendered policies.

At a meeting here last night which voted to call the strike it was announced that the Philadelphia agents would go out with the men from New York and New Jersey. Two committees were appointed, one to go to Trenton and the other to visit Albany to-day to inform the commissioners of insurance of the company's action.
