Efforts to Defeat Child Labor Bill Have Failed

Labor Bill Has Failed

Washington, Aug. 1.—Efforts to defeat the child labor bill at this session of Congress by attaching to it immigration legislation thought likely to meet a presidential veto have failed. Senate Democrats were under pledge to-day to postpone action on the immigration bill until next session. The pledge was imposed at a caucus held last night to whip into line seven Southern senators fighting child labor legislation. A resolution was adopted providing that if efforts to fix a date for a vote at the next session fail the immigration bill will become the first business of the new session to be kept before the Senate until disposed of.

MT. GREYNA U. B. CAMPMEETING

Silver Anniversary Being Celebrated This Year With Impressive Ceremonies

Special to the Telegraph
Mt. Gretna, Pa., Aug. 1.—To-day the 1916 campmeeting of the United Brethren in Christ opened here with impressive services. This year marks the twenty-fifth in which the annual meetings have been held here and an elaborate program has been prepared for the celebration of the silver anniversary.

Some of the leading speakers of the church have been included on the program, while the music, under the leadership of Charles F. Clippinger, Harrisburg, will be a splendid feature of the campmeeting. Speakers will include the Rev. B. F. Dougherty, Lebanon; Dr. S. D. Faust, Dayton, Ohio; the Rev. George E. Guille, Chicago; Dr. G. D. Gossard, president of Lebanon Valley College; D. L. Kaufman, Highspire, and the Rev. Dr. Max Wertheimer, Ada, Ohio. The "Children's Hour" observance will be in charge of Miss Margaret Baltzell, Reading.

The Mt. Gretna Campmeeting Association of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ was organized in the autumn of 1891. The following constituted the first board of managers: the Revs. H. B. Dohner, D. D. Lowery, I. Baltzell, J. R. Meredith, A. R. Myers and C. J. Kephart, and Messrs. S. N. Eby, E. W. S. Parthemore and W. H. Ulrich. Only two of the original members of the board have served consecutively during all these years, the Revs. D. D. Lowery and S. N. Eby. The original number of cottage owners increased during these years from twenty-seven to almost two hundred and fifty. The property valuation of the cottages alone is more than $100,000. Two years ago, the beautiful entrance which now greets the eye of every one coming to the grounds, was presented to the Association by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Ladies' Civic Club, two ladies' organizations which are doing much to make the Association grounds more attractive and homelike. The first campmeeting was held in the month of August, 1892 and since then these meetings have been held regularly every year.

TESTIFY ON HIGH PRICE OF PAPER

International Paper Company was holding more than a million dollars' worth of news print paper and he compared that with the fact that publishers all over the country are facing increases in prices and the possibility of difficulty to make new contracts for supplies. P. T. Dodge, representing the International Company, told the commission the reserve stock to which Mr. Zerby referred was held to sustain the company's record of never having failed to supply its customers for any cause whatever, fires, nooses or strikes. Mr. Dodge added that new mills his company is about to build will be in Canada because the present tariff conditions are hostile to paper manufacturing in the United States.

Certain of Collusion

F. B. Glass, vice-president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, declared in his testimony that the publishers in the association were more certain there was collusion among paper makers to force up the prices, and he promised to place in the hands of the commission within sixty days what he said would be proof of his statement.

Mr. Glass said the publishers association viewed the situation with extreme alarm and had held meetings recommending increased paper production by Sunday work and the limitation of the use of paper by smaller editions, decreased returns and circulation in activity. Increases of 25 to 35 per cent. on contracts and sometimes 100 per cent. on emergency orders, he said, were taking the profits of most newspapers and driving some to the wall. One western paper, he said, reports an increased paper cost of $250,000 a year. No means of relief except the courts or the commission were open to the publishers, he said. He added it was almost impossible to get quotations from more than one mill, that one being the one usually dealt with.

He suggested that publishers might stand a small increase perhaps of 5 per cent. in paper prices but that any more than that would force very many of the smaller newspapers up to 20,000 circulation in bankruptcy.

Have Enough Evidence to Hold Bomb Plotters

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Documentary evidence, sufficient to convict those in custody on a charge of causing the bomb explosion ten days ago during the preparedness parade when nine persons were killed and forty injured, is in the hands of the police to-day, according to District Attorney C. M. Fickert.

A raid last night by the police on the headquarters of the alleged leadership of the plot resulted in their confiscation of the private letter and other papers of Thomas Mooney, labor agitator, suspected of being concerned in placing the bomb.

VIRGINIA FARMERS VISIT THE CITY

300 Agriculturists Motor Through Nearby Counties to Study Penna. Methods

With a view to obtaining first-hand knowledge of better and more scientific farming methods, 300 Virginia and West Virginia farmers have laid aside their work for a short time and are motoring slowly through Pennsylvania's agricultural section. Dusty and travel-weary the party reached Harrisburg shortly before noon to-day. They were met by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and taken to a local restaurant for lunch.

Later they were taken through the Capitol grounds by guides supplied by Samuel B. Rambo, Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings, after which they went to the House Caucus Room where Joseph W. Hunter, first deputy State Highway Commissioner, addressed the party on Pennsylvania's Good Roads Methods. The Virginia farmers listened with attention as the Good Roads expert described the progress this State has made in its highway building and many notes were made for future reference.

Some accurate information on crop rotation, soil treatment and other scientific farming methods was supplied the visitors by E. K. Hibshman, of the Agriculture Extension Department of Pennsylvania State College, who met the party here.

Representatives of the State Agricultural Commission piloted the Virginians over Reservoir Park. They then inspected the Bonnymeads farms before leaving for Hershey. After the inspection of the Hershey farms the tourists went to Elizabethtown to see the Masonic home farms.

Mr. Hibshman joined the party and accompanied it to Hershey, where the model farms of M. S. Hershey the "Chocolate Kings" were inspected and modern dairying was studied. The State College man will accompany the men to Lancaster where another representative of the State institution will escort the men through the rich tobacco and truck-farming district of Lancaster county.

The trip will cover a large part of Central Pennsylvania and will require several days. It is said to be the first time such a large party left its home State to study farming methods.

TELLS OF MASSACRE OF MILLION PEOPLE

Mohammedans of their country, but those of Persia, to a jihad, or holy war, which in unadorned language means that the property, lives and souls of all Christians are lawful prey to every Mohammedan fighting in that war. The result is that the massacres and other violence perpetrated in Persia and sections of the world under Turkish control cannot be described. Probably never in the history of the world has such frightful, wholesale and systematic massacres occurred. About one million Armenians and Nestorian Christians were massacred and untold thousands of women and girls carried into a terrible captivity and everything they possessed swept away when I went to Urumiah to carry aid about a year ago thousands of Christians who had found refuge in the mission for five months were just ready to return to their homes in the village. They had absolutely nothing. Their houses were heaps of earth. They had nothing to put under or over them at night, no food, no money with which to buy it, and not even a spade to bury their dead. Everything had to be provided. This is the work of the American Relief Committee of the Caucasus in Persia and Turkey wherever the Turks have permitted the work to be done. Through the generosity of the American public nearly $1,500,000 has already been expended to restore the refugees. Morgenthau, our ex-ambassador to Constantinople, who has done great things for the Christians throughout the East, estimates that about $3,000,000 will be needed to complete the work. This, to my mind, is a very small and inadequate estimate.

Work of the Relief

"When I came away the chief forms of relief work was that of providing seed and cattle in order to get the farmers on their feet. Large sums were also being spent for pruning and spading the vineyards, from which, through the raisin crop, Persia realizes her greatest income. With an advance of the Russian army in Turkey there is a betterment of conditions, but also a more urgent call for assistance, inasmuch as it means new areas to which the poor refugees may return and where they will require assistance."

Effect on Missions

Never have missions in the Orient justified themselves more than in Persia at the present time. In the extreme north-west of Persia the missionaries kept for five months a population of over fifteen thousand in their own yards. By so doing they saved the mfrom massacre, dying from starvation and from the fierce epidemics sweeping over the place. Since then the missionaries have been active in relief work and have administered relief not only to the destitute Christian population but to hundreds of Mohammedans, who through the fortunes of war are as destitute as the Christians. The result is that the Christian missionaries have the love and gratitude of both sides in this terrible conflict.

It is impossible to prophesy what will be future Persia after the war. There are two opposing opinions. One is that Russia, which has only occupied the north with large armies will relax her grip. The other is that if Russia wins Constantinople or a port on the Mediterranean she will not be anxious to retain Persia but will agree with England to make her a buffer State between two powers. The Mohammedans of Persia because of their relations to Turkey and the Germans. The Mohammedan through pure prejudice have been pro-German in their sympathies. Persia almost at one time threw in her lot with Turkey. She was, however, spared that misfortune and she kept her neutrality as correctly as possible. The mass of the people care nothing for either side but only long for peace and quiet.

Mr. Labaree was born in Persia on a missionary parents' party. He has been connected with the mission work for twelve years at Urumia and Tabriz. Last year he was at Urumia in the relief work where fifty thousand had received regular assistance.

Mr. Labaree was not in Urumia during the five trying months of Turkish occupation when the thousands of Christians were huddled together in mission yards in fear of massacre. He was trying to get to Urumia with medical and other aid for the sorely tried missionaries and their charges, in which effort he had many strange and thrilling experiences. The most exciting of which was a surprise attack on the Russian forces in Salwas by a division of Turkish troops in charge of Khalil Beg, son-in-law of Enber Pasha. Mr. Labaree and his companions escaped out of the attacked city almost between firing lines.

Mr. Labaree is in this country for an indefinite stay with his wife and family who arrived last year.

SAYS FAT FOLKS NEED MORE FRESH AIR

Advises Moderate Diet And Deep Breathing To Reduce Weight. Take Oil of Korein

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs is hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result. When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat. Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

Pulse of the Public

Getting Stronger for Firestone TIRES every day

When public demand swings toward one tire strongly to the tune of millions, and increases steadily for five years, you can put all confidence in the character of that tire.

In 1911 Firestone Tire sales were $7,462,581.17. In 1915 they were $25,187,884.33. This is an increase of 257%. Up to June 1, 1916, Firestone Tire sales show an increase of 38% over 1915.

Such growth is a true indication of the Pulse of the Public. No demand could attain such splendid proportions in so short a time unless the tires themselves had given the Most Miles per Dollar.
