LABOR DAY REGATTA TO BE FIRST "KIPONA" [Continued From First Page] tion, and according to Dr. Hamilton's interpretation it is a North American Indian combination of words which means "on bright or sparkling waters."

How to Say It "Na," according to Dr. Hamilton, is the Indian equivalent for "to be upon." "po" means "water" and "ki" means sparkling or bright. Arranged more euphoniously "Na-po-ki" is transposed to "Ki-po-na." Until you grow accustomed to it you'll probably try one of three or four pronunciations. However, the name is mighty easy to say.

"Ki" is pronounced as "key," the second syllable is "po," and the third is pronounced "nah." The accent is on the second syllable. Now, then, have you got it?

The committee which recommended the name was headed by Thomas J. Kelker and serving with him were F. H. Murry, J. Allan Donaldson, E. M. Forney and Henry Nachman. Suggestions were invited through the newspapers, and others were hunted up by individual solicitation and personal effort.

WAR GUNS ECHO IN COUNTY OFFICE All Three Witnesses to Signature of Will Are at the Front Lentz Learns

The distant thunder of the war guns in a faraway Lost Province figuratively echoed through the matter-of-fact files and records of the office of Dauphin county's register of wills yesterday when a bulky letter bearing the imperial double eagle reached Register Danner's desk.

The letter was from the register of the village of Dambach, district of Hagenau, Alsace-Lorraine, Germany—one of the tiny villages, you remember, through which an imperial son of the Hohenzollerns hurried his armies not so many moons ago to hammer away at the ever-growing masses of cavalry across the border. This is the story:

Nearly three years ago Katie Thomas, a German domestic, accumulated about $3,000 in personal savings and about $2,500 worth of real estate and decided to return to the "old country" to rest. On the very day that Germany set the world a-rocking with a declaration of war against Russia, Katie was gathered to her rest. She left a will, naming her step-mother as beneficiary. The property, however, was in America, and most of it in Dauphin county, and the letters of administration necessarily had to issue from the local registrar's office. The Harrisburg Trust company, by the way, was named for the job.

George Schaefer, George M. Gasser and M. Wagner, all friends of Katie in the village of Dambach, witnessed her signature, Register Danner had to send the papers across a blocked ocean, through the warring country of Germany and on down into Alsace-Lorraine to be identified. "If living have witnesses identify signature and prove it," were the instructions to the deputy registrar. Whether or not any or all of the three are living, however, was very simply disposed of by German officialdom in these half dozen words:

"They are off to the war!"

Lively Fight in Prospect Over Conference Report on $315,800,000 Naval Bill

Washington, Aug. 15.—A lively fight was in prospect when the House took up to-day for final action the conference report on the naval appropriation bill carrying approximately $315,800,000.

The principal contests were over the Senate building and personnel increases. These provide for construction of 157 ships in a three-year program, including four battleships and four battle cruisers in 1917 and an enlisted strength of 74,400.

The fight was expected to come when Chairman Padgett of the naval committee moved that the House concur in the increase. Advocates of a small navy were on hand ready to vigorously oppose this step. It is regarded as virtually certain, however, that the increases would be agreed.

Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, the majority leader was on today's list of speakers in opposition to the adoption of the conference report. He all along has opposed the administration's big army and navy increases.
