FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

AMAZING BUT RARELY SUSPECTED TRUTHS ABOUT THE THINGS YOU EAT

Similar activities are to be witnessed in every State of the Union. The scientific sanitary and unclassified forces which finally focused in the person of Pasteur were unknown fifty years ago. To-day the relationship of many micro-organisms to disease is understood. Fifty years ago it was not even suspected. To-day a thousand forces, then unknown, are at work on the problem of public health.

Be Young Looking Darken Gray Hair

Remove every trace of prematurely gray, streaked and faded hair, easily, quickly, safely, and turn it an even dark, beautiful shade with Day's Hair Health

Today, thanks to Pasteur, the comprehensive and basic ideas contained in fermentation permeate every province of practical life. The complications of elemental reaction fifty years ago were not known. And Pasteur had not yet thrown light upon the growth and diseases of plants; upon the nutritional and pathological processes of animals; upon the canning, drying, refrigerating and spoiling of food; upon the care of water supplies; upon sewage disposal; upon the manufacture of vaccine and serum products; upon public health in general, all of which in recent years have been reduced to definite and scientific formulas.

In the old days there was no guiding hand to lead the way out of the wilderness of disease. Wine soured, food rotted, children died, all in ignorance, until Pasteur, with an almost intuitive insight into the operations of nature, gave to the world his knowledge of micro-organisms.

milking process, becomes more and more laden with dangers.

The passing of septic sore throat and tuberculosis by the milk route was unsuspected. Straining, cooling, clarifying, pasteurizing, were never dreamed of in the struggle against the army of micro-organisms ever battling against the life of the child.

The toxic substances which microbial life produces, extending to the poisoning of food through decomposition, were not even hinted at in dreams. Bacterial diseases of plants and animals went their destroying way unnoted. The silk industry of France was threatened with silk worm disease. Pasteur, knowing the meaning of micro-organisms, was called into action. He discovered the disease, conquered it, and eliminated it, making it possible for the silk industry to continue. In the old days there was no remedy for such disease. When the disease appeared, death and despair were ushered in. To-day the disease frightens no one.

Anthrax was destroying the livestock of France. Again we see Pasteur. By his method of vaccination he controlled the disease, which is now almost eliminated from the herds of Europe and America. Its terrors are asleep.

man, many diseases are on the rapid increase.

Whereas typhoid in fifteen years has been reduced from 32 to 17.9, and diphtheria from 29.6 to 18.8, cancer in the same time has increased from 67.9 to 78.9, diabetes has increased from 11.5 to 16.3, heart disease from 12.4 to 18.8, ulcers of the stomach from 2.9 to 4, Bright's disease from 8.4 to 9.5.

Considering the scientific discoveries of men in recent years and the activities of public health control, all of which were denied to our grandfathers, what do the actual facts indicate? For a half-century men have been building sewers and sewage disposal plants. The open privy, except in rural communities and backward cities, where our butter is made, has been stamped out.

Millions of dollars have been spent to protect watersheds and sources of water supply. New York city alone has spent two hundred millions in an effort to obtain an uncontaminated water supply. With all these forces working to prolong the life of man, let us repeat, should any disease be upon the increase?

and constipation still destroy hundreds of thousands annually.

What would have been the vigor of our grandfathers had they possessed the scientific knowledge now at man's disposal? In the old days man's food was not denatured. Considering all the influences now at work in his behalf, what would be the effect upon his health if it were not denatured to-day?

New, Positive Treatment to Remove Hair or Fuzz

(Beauty Notes) Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In two or three minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.

representation and misrepresentation is simply this—That Japanese public sentiment has turned strongly hostile toward America. Such being the case, Japan.

It is important that the American people realize it. It is a fact to be remembered in all our dealings with Japan.
