One of the Prettiest Brides Ever Seen in the State

FRANK W. REYNOLDS

MISS MARY KATHRYN JACKSON

SPEND HONEYMOON IN THE MOUNTAINS

Miss Mary Kathryn Jackson and Frank Winthrop Reynolds to Wed This Evening

Friends from all over the country are here to attend the marriage this evening of Miss Mary Kathryn Jackson, the charming young daughter of the State Commissioner of Labor and Industry and Mrs. John Price Jackson, to Frank Winthrop Reynolds, of New York city.

The ceremony performed at 7 o'clock by the bride's cousin, the Rev. William N. Hubbell, of New York, in the presence of the immediate families and a few personal friends, will be followed by a large and brilliant reception at the Jackson residence, 1618 North Second street.

A decorative color scheme of green and white lightened by touches of yellow has been followed by Utley, who has made a bower for the wedding party in the drawing room, using the delicate greenery of gypsophylla and garden asparagus with Cathedral candles in tall white candelabra and a white satin prie dieu. Baskets of ferns grace the window seats and the lights are of amber. In the broad hall, the same effect in green is used with masses of marigolds, gladioli and late summer blossoms.

On the lawn, where supper will be served by Hollis, of the Senate, there are great clusters of hydrangeas showing beautifully against the background of vines and shrubbery lighted by tiny electric lights. The small tables will bear flowers and individual candlesticks and for those who prefer the indoors to the canopy of the sky, the drawing rooms of the house adjoining has been turned into a supper room with wall baskets, garden flowers and antique candelabra in the decorations.

The Updegrave orchestra will play the wedding music, giving a recital prior to the service, the "Bridal Chorus from 'Lohengrin'" as a pre-nuptial and the "Joyous Mendelssohn wedding march" afterward.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear an exquisite costume of white flannel lace with rhinestones and pearl garnitures and full court train of white satin falling from the shoulders. Her veil of hand wrought princess lace will be caught with orange blossoms and she will carry a Mayfair model of orchids and valley lilies tied with filmy lace chiffon. Her only ornament will be the bridegroom's gift, a wrist watch of green gold with platinum band.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen G. Jones, of Ardmore, is wearing a pale green pussy willow taffetas frock, with hose and slippers to match and carrying a bouquet of farleyense fern with shadow clusters of the tiny yellow Ward roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth A. Huntington, of Albany, N. Y.; Miss Margaret McClure, of Lewisburg; Miss Mary Louise Heckel, of Columbia and Miss Catharine Emma Jackson, of Boston, will be gowned alike in white organdie with short, full skirts and bodices, yellow sashes, hood and slippers. They will carry Dolly Madison bouquets of yellow marigolds and maiden hair fern. George Koues Reynolds, of Lancaster, will be best man for his brother, John Price Jackson will wear a costume of green satin brocade with overdrapes of white spangled net trimmed in violet, and a corsage bouquet of orchids and violets. Mrs. George Nelson Reynolds has chosen black lace over white satin in charming arrangement for her gown with a corsage bouquet of mauve orchids.

After congratulations and good wishes the guests may view the magnificent array of gifts so lavishly showered on the young couple, including everything for housekeeping from a Navajo rug, silver, cut glass and china in abundance to vacuum apparatus useful in many devices.

The honeymoon will be spent at quiet mountain resorts and after December 1, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will be "At Home" in apartments at 148 East 49th street, New York city.

The bride, who has an unusually wide acquaintance because of her father's connection with State college and his government position, is a graduate of Smith college and a student of the American Academy of Dramatic Art, of New York. Mr. Reynolds, a native of Lancaster, and his government position, is a graduate of the Beta Theta Pi club, of Grammercy Park, New York city. Mr. Reynolds is now connected with the architectural firm of Cross and Cross, New York.

Among the wedding guests will be Attorney and Mrs. David A. Jones and Miss Antoinette E. Jones, of Minersville; Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson Reynolds, of Lancaster; Dr. William Lloyd Davies, of Philadelphia; David A. Jones, Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y.; Mrs. William N.
