FRENCH CLINCH HOLD ON ROADS INTO PERONNE

gain further ground to the east. London to-day reporting the general situation unchanged. In Macedonia the entente offensive is developing along the western sector. Athens announces a joint advance by French and Serbian troops who have captured Sorovitz near Florina, while Paris reports important progress, particularly a considerable gain by the Serbians near Lake Ostrov.

The Zaimis cabinet in Greece is out of office with the acceptance of resignations by King Constantine. This is regarded in many quarters as preliminary to Greece's abandonment of neutrality and her entrance into the war on the side of the entente.

The German war office declares the operations against the Rumanians in Southern Dobruja province are proceeding methodically. It also announces the German troops have been sent into Transylvania where they are in contact with the Rumanians who have advanced in the Hermannstadt and Hotzing districts.

To-day's French official statement reports that Italian troops are actively engaged along the Macedonian front in the Balkans. They are operating west of the Struma near Butkova. Berlin does not admit the successes in the Carpathians claimed yesterday by the Russians. On the contrary it declares the Russian attack made along a wide front was brilliantly repulsed. Petrograd to-day reports that the heights taken by Russian troops were successfully held against counterattacks.

French in Sudden Blow Win Entire German First Line Trench Near Peronne

London, Sept. 13.—The French struck another swift blow north of the Somme yesterday. Foch's army in a vigorous assault, battered at the German line from Combles to the river. Within half an hour they had won an entire first line trench, capturing more than 1,500 prisoners. The quickness of the French thrust took the enemy by surprise. Before the attack could be checked, the Polus had reached the first line trench at Peronne, where they carried by storm a system of trenches which had been strongly fortified.

By this stroke, Foch has attained positions from which Peronne can be outflanked from the north. The French grip on the Bethune-Peronne road is an immediate threat to Mont St. Quentin, the very mainstay of the German position which is the key to Peronne itself.

Menace to Combles. Combles now is far behind the French line to the south. The British conquest of Ghinchy a loss which Berlin admits to-day—opened the way for a push north of Combles, with a view of turning it on that side. The German second line position on the German side of the Somme has been marked by the progress of the allied offensive on the Somme.

A wedge had been driven between Bapaume and Peronne the first objective of the allied drive. The strategy of the entente command in the west is to widen the wedge gradually until the Germans are forced out of Peronne and the Bapaume by attacks from the flank.

Greece May Enter War, Is Belief After Acceptance of Zaimis Resignation

Athens, Sept. 12.—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of Premier Zaimis and his cabinet.

The belief is entertained in the entente capitals that the retirement of the Zaimis ministry is preliminary to Greece's abandonment of neutrality and her entrance into the war with the Allies. Recent dispatches from Berlin and Vienna show that there also it is regarded as probable Greece will soon abandon neutrality and join the entente.

The precise causes which led to the resignation of the ministry have not been disclosed, on account of the entente's rigid censorship. A London dispatch yesterday said M. Zaimis had complained that international incidents were preventing him from dealing with the external situation. It is believed in London that his resignation was due to the fact that he accepted the premiership on the understanding that he was to maintain neutrality, and in view of the Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory had found this impossible.

Up to the time of the first dispatches announcing that M. Zaimis had resigned his resignation his relations with the Allies were friendly. The premier had assumed dictatorial powers and was in an exceptionally strong position. Political affairs reached a crisis after the Bulgarians invaded Northeastern Greece and the followers of former Premier Venizelos served warning on King Constantine that he must abandon the entente, or that he would be forced to do so.

After the fall of the Venizelos cabinet last October on account of the King's disagreement with its policy favoring intervention in the war with the Allies, M. Zaimis was called on to form a cabinet. He announced a policy of armed neutrality. The cabinet resigned in November but in June M. Zaimis was again placed at the head of the government. Although avowing neutrality, he was regarded as having a predisposition toward the entente.

Hindenburg Appointment Quits U-Boat War Demand

Berlin, Sept. 12.—via London, Sept. 13.—The weeks which have passed since the appointment of Field Marshal von Hindenburg as chief of the general staff have been marked by almost complete cessation of the discussion in regard to the resumption of submarine warfare on the old or a new basis. Nonpartisan newspaper observers who are in touch with leading statesmen and politicians express the opinion that for the present at least there will arise no question of a change in submarine policy. The administration of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg now feels itself fully in control of the situation in this respect. A controversy over the method of the food dictatorship has now supplanted the submarine issue in conservative and other newspapers which are opposed to the chancellor.

WON'T BRIDGE BED OF CANAL

County Commissioners Will "Fill in" Maclay Street Section Instead

Instead of building a new bridge across the old Pennsylvania canal Harrisburg is to be filled in and a new hundreds of feet of additional earth will suffice. It is expected, to establish a sufficient level for the continuance of the highway. The cost as compared to the price of a bridge, will be trivial. In the future the railroad company desires to use the canal bed or to build tracks through the depression the right of way can easily be bridged.

fits, the good done by exhibits of condemned weighing and measuring devices, the relations of merchants and inspectors and heard the reports of both county and city inspectors. Penny postage, postal savings, the postmaster's influence and economic postal suggestions were discussed by the State Postmasters. The Coroners heard papers relating to the coroner's office in various localities of the State.

Weight System Should Supply Dry Measure Say State Sealers

Harry A. Boyer, inspector of weights and measures in Luzerne county, in an address this morning at the session of the Pennsylvania Association of Coroners of Weights and Measures, advocated continued uniformity in every county with exhibits and talks about confiscated scales and measuring devices.

Mr. Boyer declared that the best advertisement of the work of the sealers was the exhibition of condemned scales and measures which were found below standard. He spoke in favor of a permanent exhibition and a permanent exhibit in every county with exhibits and talks about confiscated scales and measuring devices.

Mr. Boyer declared that the best advertisement of the work of the sealers was the exhibition of condemned scales and measures which were found below standard. He spoke in favor of a permanent exhibition and a permanent exhibit in every county with exhibits and talks about confiscated scales and measuring devices.

George F. Muser, inspector in Mifflin county, in discussing the subject of "Hucksters and Peddlers," declared that they should be compelled to use weights. Other speakers were D. W. Simpson, of Indiana county; A. G. Reinhart, Westmoreland county, and W. B. Dunn, inspector in Altoona.

Inspector Dunn gave a short history of the opposite of the sealers met with when the weights and measures law went into effect and declared that at first 75 per cent of the inspections showed that the retailer was giving overweight and overmeasure, and robbing himself of his honest profits.

Philadelphia Wants Convention. A move was started this morning by Philadelphia inspectors to have the conference of the sealers held here in 1917. Invitations were read from Mayor Thomas B. Smith, the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and John Virdin, chief of the Philadelphia bureau of weights and measures. No action was taken this morning. James G. Weesey, chief of the State Bureau of Standards, made a few remarks and said that he believed the convention should be held in Harrisburg, the capital of the state.

At the afternoon session George B. Moore, chief inspector of Allegheny county, spoke on "Relations of Merchants and Inspectors" and urged the co-operation of the sealers with honest merchants.

John Unstead, inspector in Philadelphia, told of the results of Weight and Measure Inspectors' work at the work of the department in making tests. John Lyons, of the Acme Tea Company, then spoke on "Honest Merchandising in Compliance with the Spirit and Intent of the Weight and Measure Laws." He said that within a short time food manufacturers and large dealers will find it a paying proposition to pay their own men to inspect scales and measures and adjust them so that they meet the State law requirements and give honest weight.

Reports of city and county inspectors were made late in the afternoon. Business sessions, with the election of officers, will be held to-morrow.

Favor Law Requiring Coroner to Be Physician

Following a general discussion of subjects presented during their convention here, the Pennsylvania State Coroners' Association adjourned this afternoon to meet next September at Wilkes-Barre. These officers were elected: President, Dr. Charles L. Ashley, Luzerne county; first vice-president, S. J. Jamison, Allegheny county; second vice-president, James T. Heffran, Washington county; secretary and treasurer, Dr. G. H. Moore, Washington county.

Dr. R. L. Perkins, Harrisburg, acting deputy coroner of Dauphin county, this morning led a discussion, the question, "Relation of Coroner's Office to the Doctor." Many of the delegates said they favored legislation requiring all coroners to be physicians or surgeons.

Dr. W. E. Delaney of Williamsport addressed the morning session on "Duties in Performing Postmortems and Fees For Same." Dr. W. S. Wadsworth, of Philadelphia, subject was "Postmortem Examinations"; and Stanley Kurlyaski, attorney for the coroner of Luzerne county, told about the coroner's work in the anthracite regions.

Adjournment this afternoon followed a general discussion of subjects which came before the convention yesterday and to-day.

Postmasters Hear Growth of Postal Savings System

Harrisburg will in all probability be selected as the permanent meeting place for the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Postmasters Association. This question came up late this afternoon as an amendment to the by-laws. Indications were that it would pass unanimously. Speaking of Harrisburg, President W. D. McGinnis, of Connetquotville, said: "Harrisburg is the only logical place for a convention of postmasters. It is centrally located and has excellent facilities. We always have a larger attendance at conventions held in Harrisburg than in any other place. Everybody likes to come to this city. We are treated fine and our meetings are always a success."

Prominent speakers on this afternoon's program, which started at 3 o'clock, included A. Mitchell Palmer, of Stroudsburg, Democratic national committeeman; Third Assistant Postmaster General A. M. Dockery and Postmaster James Kingsbury, of Pottsville. The report of the committee on resolutions and election of officers concluded the business.

The annual banquet will be held to-night at the Harrisburg Club. Postmaster Frank C. Sites, of Harrisburg, who is chairman of the entertainment, will be toastmaster. Two of the speakers will be Fourth Assistant Postmaster General James I. Blakely and A. Mitchell Palmer.

The Telegraph was favored with a call to-day by E. L. Clifford, general manager of the Pottsville Republican, and F. J. Toohy. Like all the other visitors to the city, they were much impressed with the wonderful improvement of Harrisburg.
