academic work is included to a certain extent in some of the present courses at Tech, it will be necessary to enlarge for this branch of study.

Another part of the big plan to meet high school needs is the erection of a big junior high school building on Allison Hill. It is understood that this will be erected on a large site owned by the school district.

Big improvements will be made at the Central high school, which is to be used for a junior high school in the central district, and alterations will be necessary at the Camp Curtin building to convert it into a West End junior high school.

Site Undecided

Nothing will be done, it was said today, about a site for the senior high school for girls until the result of the vote in November is known. School directors adopted the report yesterday that if possible the building be erected east of the Pennsylvania railroad and not farther north than Briggs street.

Reduces "Quitters"

At the special meeting of the School Board yesterday afternoon the question was raised whether the junior high school system may cause more boys and girls to discontinue their high school work than under the present system.

City Superintendent F. E. Downes

explained to the members that from reports in other cities where the junior system has been tried the interest in school work increases and a smaller percentage drop out before completing their courses. This was considered carefully, he said, before the recommendations were made.

The citizens' committee was retained by the board to aid in the campaign for better high school facilities.

WANT REFUGEE ANSWER SOON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—The American embassies at Constantinople and Paris were directed today to ask the Turkish and French governments to hasten their reply to the State Department's request for permission to have a number of women and children refugees from Palestine leave Jatta on the United States steamer De Moines, now en route there with medical supplies donated by American Jewish relief societies for sufferers in Jerusalem. The plan is to have the refugees transported by the cruiser to an Italian port for transportation to America on a passenger liner.

WORK HAS NO TERRORS FOR HUSTLING HUCKSTER

Hard Work and Exposure Had Undermined His Health and Lessened His Earning Power, But Tanlac Renewed His Vigor.

Although Bill Miller is working a double shift these days on account of the fruit season, he says the long hours have no terrors for him.

"Only a few weeks ago," he says, "I was down and out. I was tired out and not able to hustle around. You've got to hustle to make a living in this business, and I wasn't making any money. I had been making money, not by a long shot.

"I had always been a hard worker and I'd kept at it even in the worst weather and I guess I neglected myself in my chase after the mighty dollar. Anyhow, I know I began to feel mighty rotten. I didn't have any appetite. I was nervous as a cat, and my stomach had gone to pot. I couldn't eat a thing but gas would form all the time, and I'd had swallowed a watermelon.

"I didn't sleep worth a cent. I'd lie there for hours, just afoaming, and when morning came I wasn't rested. Didn't seem to have any get up and get about me. And it worried me because the money wasn't coming in as it ought to and with the fruit season coming on with its long hours I didn't know where I was going to get off.

"Then I read about Tanlac one day and I said to myself, 'Bill, get some of that. Maybe it'll put some gumption into you, you need it.' So I got a bottle and started to put it away. My feeling fine, working hard, sleeping great and making money. All thanks to Tanlac."

"Tanlac, the master medicine, is praised by thousands for its wonderful stomachic and reconstructive qualities and it is now being specially introduced here at Gorges' Drug Stores, 16 North Third street and P. R. R. Station, where the Tanlac man is demonstrating it to increasing crowds.

CABBAGE CROP IS GOING TO BE SHORT

Direrful Report Issued Today by the Department of Agriculture's Men

Direrful news was given out today by the State Department of Agriculture. As a result of the scrutiny of the reports sent by the men who keep tabs on the crops, the department's statisticians announced that the price of cabbage would be high this fall and that naturally the output of the crop would be affected. To begin with it is not believed that as much cabbage was planted as heretofore.

New reports are to the effect that in some parts of the State the pestiferous cabbage worm wrecked the crop that farmers ploughed it down and put in corn. The damage from the cabbage worm has been reported as increasing the last few years and the State officials in charge of control of pests will make an effort to have the worm systematically fought.

Turpicks Attacked—Half a dozen turpicks companies throughout the State are under fire before the Public Service commission and have been called upon to make answer to charges that they are either not maintaining their roads properly or else that they are charging excessive tolls. The companies have been called upon for answers and it is probable that some hearings will be held, although a precedent was established in a York county case. Most of the complaints are ascribed to the greatly increased use of roads as a result of automobiles.

Capital Decreased—The Yough Gave reservation of Uniontown, has given notice of decrease of stock from $30,000 to $15,000.

Suit Attracts Attention—The action started yesterday by the Yough people against members of the borough council on the charge that they are interested in public contracts has attracted much attention. It is the first action of the kind in several years and the hearing on October 4 will bring out some interesting matters.

Receipts Picking Up—The receipts at the State treasury are commencing to pick up again. Monday they were $208,000 and yesterday over $125,000.

Big Increases—The Fifty-second Street Building and Loan Association of Philadelphia today filed notice of increase of stock from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 and the Fairmount Building Association from $500,000 to $2,000,000.

Turpicks Sold—Negotiations between the State Highway Department and the owners of the turpicks north of Scranton have been completed and the road has been taken over.

Back Haul Involved—Complaint has been filed with the Public Service commission against the back-haul charged by the Pennsylvania railroad in a shipment of pit posts in Washington county. The Henderson Lumber company, of Pittsburgh, makes the complaint.

Legislators Here

Representatives Fred C. Ehrhardt, of Scranton, senior member of the House, and Fred T. Cault, of Mercer county, were at the Capitol today.

Motored to Scranton—Commissioner of Health Dixon motored to Scranton to attend the State Medical society meeting. Members of his official staff are also at the meetings to discuss infectious paralysis.

Home from Wisconsin—Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClan reached the Capitol today after a visit to Wisconsin.

Cases Go Over—The New Jersey Zinc and Allentown Portland Cement cases were postponed by the Public Service commission on October 1.

Commissioners Registered—Commissioners Magee, Alcorn and Ryan took care to register yesterday for the Fall election.

On Western Lists—The adjutant general's department is at work on the rejected lists from the Tenth and Sixteenth regiments. Some came in the kind in several days and will have to go back for correction.

First Smull's Out—The first copies of Smull's legislative handbook for 1916 were delivered to the Division of Distribution of Documents this morning and in an hour the first lot of 500 was wrapped and sent out under the personal direction of Dr. J. W. Miller, the chief clerk. This was a record for the division. The other copies will be sent out as fast as received. Hundreds are asked.

Tax Payment—The Delaware and Lehigh Canal Company paid the State $40,000 as its State tax. This payment will be followed by others and it is expected that in a week or so the receipts will be going to $200,000.

Propositions Will be Taken—Propositions will be taken up as soon as the funds justify it.

To Inspect Fields—Prof. J. G. Sanders, the new State Zoologist who is accompanying Governor Brumbaugh and his party on the tour of the northeastern agricultural regions, is already being asked to make speeches at fairs and similar gatherings. Dr. Sanders will probably not accept many invitations but will devote his attention to investigation of fields which have been reported as affected by pests.

Withdrawals Filed—Withdrawals of legislative candidates were filed today as follows: A. S. Moulthrop, Clearfield; Washington, Joseph M. Keeney; McKean, Washington; Edgar S. Hengst, York; Washington; and Edward S. Hengst, York; Prohibition, P. N. Osborne, was substituted for F. M. Hitchcock as a Prohibition candidate for the House in McKean and F. J. Isherwood for J. M. Keeney as Washington candidate.

New Major—Announcement was made at the Adjutant General's office of the appointment of Millard F. Brown, Philadelphia, as a major of the French Infantry and Emery Lutes, Wilkes-Barre, as an assistant veterinarian. He was assigned to the Third artillery.

Want Rehearing—Formal application for rehearing of the complaint of the Philadelphia United Businessmen's Association and the Computers' Association against the 100 trip tickets of the Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore and Ohio companies was filed today. It is charged that the companies are obeying the letter but not the spirit of the commission order of December 12, 1914.

Five Cases Now—Very few cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the Department of Health today and the week's total may be the smallest since July 1.

Mr. Moyer Here—Among visitors to the Capitol today was Gabriel H. Moyer, Lebanon county legislator, and one of the best-known lawyers in Central Pennsylvania.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM

When the damper on the furnace at the home of Norman Bell, 1212 Liberty street, refused to work this morning after he built the fire, the place was filled with smoke, and passersby who thought a fire had broken out, sent in an alarm. RAISE FUND TO REMOVE DEBT

Monumental A. M. E. Congregation Conducting Lively Campaign

CLARENCE E. COLES

The congregation of Monumental African Methodist Episcopal Church is making a strenuous effort to raise the $1,500 necessary to free the church from debt. This congregation had fallen into serious financial difficulties and only lately has a method been found to carry the debt.

The first step toward that end is the raising of $1,500 by January 1, for the initial payment, and while the small membership is doing all in its power to accomplish that result it finds it necessary to appeal to the other churches and to the public to help save their church property.

Clarence E. Coles is the representative and is giving his time to this work. The campaign was started a few days ago.

On the financial committee which is making the effort to raise the money are P. S. Blackwell, T. L. Jefferson, N. L. Jackson, G. B. Lewis and Lloyd Polston.

Blackmail Investigation Shifts From Chicago to Washington; Three Released

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Investigation of the operations of the alleged blackmailing syndicate accused of swindling wealthy persons in various parts of the country, was shifted to Washington, where the money was transferred to Washington temporarily today by the departure of Kinton G. Clabaugh, local agent of the Department of Justice, for a consultation with Attorney General Gregory.

William C. Woodward, wanted by the government in connection with the alleged swindles, surrendered last night and was released on $2500 bond.

Three of those arrested here last Saturday night were discharged yesterday on account of a lack of evidence to connect them with the alleged swindles. They are Mrs. Edward Donahue, Mrs. Frances Chapman and George Bland. The four others are still held and will be given an examination before a United States commissioner next Friday.

Commissioner Foote held the afternoon hearing in a Federal courtroom yesterday. Long before the doors opened a crowd of blockheads gathered. When the doors were thrown open, the chamber was filled almost to the wick of an eye. It was such a throng as the dignified court probably never had held before. Gorgeous women in silks and furs, with heavily penciled eyes and rouged cheeks saucy-looking rollers from the cabarets, heavy jeweled, bloated, red-faced men who have grown rich below the "dead line," gamblers, touts, dapper pickpockets and restless eyes. Lotharios of the red lights with hair sleeked and pomade and breathing fragrant with perfume—all the types of the underworld were there.

AUTO AND CAR CRASH

Several persons narrowly escaped injury when an automobile driven by Mrs. Mary E. Chard, 1425 North Sixth street, and a trolley car running east in Derry street, collided at Thirteenth and Derry streets, late yesterday afternoon. One of the rear wheels of the machine was

DECHANT GOES UP THE LADDER

Local Manager Case Company Made Advertising Head

GEORGE A. DECHANT

Announcement was made this afternoon that the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company is completing arrangements to open a new and large branch in New York or Philadelphia, and that George A. Dechant, manager of the local branch for ten years, has been promoted to manager of the advertising department of the Case company, with headquarters at Racine, Wis.

The Harrisburg office will probably be discontinued within thirty days, but as soon as location is obtained the new branch will be opened. Mr. Dechant in speaking of the plan of the company said that the more easterly location of a new branch has been found necessary owing to the steady increase of the company's business in the New England territory. The trade in this district heretofore had been handled by district branch houses. Practically all of the sales force now working at the Harrisburg branch will continue the same as before, or will be assigned new duties.

E. P. McElroy, cashier of the local branch, will be in charge here until Mr. Dechant's successor is appointed. Mr. Dechant will leave this city probably next Monday to take up his new duties with the advertising department of the firm, the Harrisburg office of the Case company for sixteen years, starting at the home office as a clerk in the repair department. Later he was made a traveling salesman and was then advanced to the position of manager at the Harrisburg office in 1906. He has resided in the city ever since and said today that although a native of Wisconsin he regrets leaving Harrisburg.

election at noon today showed that William M. Calder had increased his lead over Robert Bacon for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. With 1905 districts missing out of 5,719 the vote for Calder a plurality of 7,955.

Calder carried greater New York, all districts complete, by 32,436, the vote being 54,844 for Calder against 21,418 for Bacon.

Returns from the State outside of Greater New York for 2,635 districts out of 3,640 give Calder 71,104; Bacon, 86,755.

Mr. Bacon was endorsed by Colonel Roosevelt and many prominent Republicans but Mr. Calder was first in the field and was supposed to have the backing of the greater number of organization voters.

G. O. P. Leaders Elated

Republican leaders today attached great significance to the success of Governor Whitman in winning the Progressive nomination for governor over Samuel Seabury, who was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for that office. The 3,680 districts thus far counted give Whitman 9,498 to Seabury's 6,246.

The Republican leaders declare that Whitman's victory in the Progressive primary is the bulk of the Progressive vote in New York State will be Republican at the coming national election.

Governor Whitman was opposed for re-nomination in the Republican primaries by State Senator William M. Bennett. Returns from 4,158 districts out of 5,719 give Whitman 179,558; Bennett, 21,659.

Whitman Way Ahead
 William F. McCombes, formerly chairman of the Democratic National Committee, won the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York by a majority of about two to one over his opponent, Thomas F. Conway, of Plattsburg, formerly lieutenant governor.

Republican, Governor: 1,388 out of 5,719 districts missing; Bennett 32,472; Whitman, 183,648.

Republican, United States Senator: 1272 districts missing; Calder 116,491; Bacon, 112,129.

Democratic, United States Senator, 1494 districts missing; McCombs, 77,172; Conway, 25,870; 1724 districts missing; Whitman 9,430; Seabury, 6,289.

SOCIALIST FOR MAYOR

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 20.—George R. Lunn, Socialist, and twice Mayor of Schenectady now holding that office, was nominated today by the Democrats of the Thirtieth Congressional district over Alexander Blessing, regular Democrat. Mayor Lunn, after a picturesque fight in his party during the Spring was read out of it by the radical Socialists, but has never renounced his Socialist views. He was also nominated by the Progressives, and scattered returns showed his name had probably been written by enough Socialists to make him their nominee over the regular candidate.

FOOD IN DIPLOMATIC LETTERS
 Paris, Sept. 20.—The diplomatic mail pouch is proving very handy, according to the French papers, as a means of transporting food to some of the diplomatists in Germany who are experiencing the effect of the country's shortage of rations. The Paris-Milli says: "In fact the diplomatists residing at Berlin are bringing in food from all nearby countries and even from England and America. One rich foreigner attached to a diplomatic mission gets all his groceries from an establishment at London. The ambassador of one country, and the consul-general receive their food supplies twice per week through their consular general at Stockholm. There was a time when the diplomatic washing was sent to London for laundering but war conditions have made that impossible."

ECKLEY B. COXE, JR. IS DEAD

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 20.—Eckley B. Coxe, Jr., aged 43, member of the family of pioneer anthracite coal operators and backer of the University of Pennsylvania Egyptian researches, died at his home at Drifton today after an illness of more than a year. He was never married and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Charles Coxe. Many of the exhibits collected by Egyptian expeditions through his liberality are on exhibition in the University Museum.

State Water Supply Commission engineers had not only approved of the scheme but had advanced the suggestion that fifteen or sixteen feet would probably be more advisable as a height for the riprap than five feet.

Mr. Gross said his conference with Mr. Seitz was based upon whether he could use some of the balance in the park improvement fund in carrying out the proposed plan for protecting the slopes from future damage by ice and flood. Mr. Cowden, he said, expressed the opinion that the money could be taken from the park loan but he didn't look favorably on the riprap solution.

"Why, I never advised against the ripraping," declared Mr. Cowden, "I never said anything about that. I never questioned the improvement at all. When I was asked as to whether or not I thought the park improvement fund any part of it could be used for this purpose, I said that I believe the money could rightfully be applied from the fund as the loan was authorized to develop and improve the park."

Advisory Committee of Railway Executives Are Discussing 8-Hour Law

New York, Sept. 20.—Members of the railway executive advisory committee which includes the heads of fourteen transportation systems, with Frank Trumbull of the Chesapeake and Ohio, as chairman, arrived here today for a conference to discuss various important matters affecting the railroad industry. The committee will have the benefit of counsel, legal representatives of the big railroads having been called in attendance. Contrary to reports the committee will not make the new 8-hour law the chief feature of its discussions but expects rather to formulate a general program for the joint congressional committee to investigate various problems now affecting railway regulation.
