Greater Economy Urged in Use of Print Paper

Washington, Sept. 20.—Additional economies and more active cooperation in the manufacture and consumption of news print paper are suggested in a letter addressed to each member of the News Print Manufacturers' Association by the Federal Trade Commission.

Because of the increasing shortage of paper of the smaller daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country fear they will have to suspend publication. The letter says the suspension of these papers would be a "national calamity."

The commission suggests that the association take steps to insure newspaper publishers not protected by contracts that they will continue to receive a supply that steps be taken to restrain members or middlemen from charging unreasonable and prohibitive prices; that Sunday operation of paper mills and transferring of machinery operating on other grades of paper to the manufacture of news print paper be considered, and that officials of labor unions and employers be approached regarding Sunday work.
