PERSEVERE AND WIN--WATCHWORD

Von Bethmann-Hollweg Tells Reichstag "Victory Will Be Ours"

Berlin, via London, Sept. 29.—Germany will persevere until victory is ours, the Reichstag was told yesterday by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, according to the full text of his speech which was published here today. The chancellor declared that this year's harvest had made Germany's position much more secure than was the case last year. In his attack upon Great Britain he declared that that country was breaking one international law after another and was above all Germany's "most egotistical, fiercest and most obstinate enemy."

"A German statesman," he said, "who would hesitate to use against this enemy every available instrument of battle that would really shorten this war—such a statesman should be hanged." The chancellor declared his contempt for those circulating reports that all Germany's means of fighting were not being employed to the fullest possible extent. He added that in order to disappoint the enemy "who is on watch for every breach of our inner determination," he would not give details.

Persevere and Win

"When in August, 1914," he went on, "we had to draw the sword we knew we had to protect our hearth and homes against a mighty and almost overwhelming coalition. Ardent and until then unknown and often ignored, patriotism flamed up in all hearts defying death and certain of victory. To-day, after two years of fighting, struggling, suffering and dying, we know more than ever before that there is only one watchword, namely, persevere and win. We will win. Last winter there was pusillanimous anxiety as to whether our foodstuffs would suffice. Thereon we sufficed. This year's harvest makes us much more secure than was the case last year."

The chancellor said he realized the troubles of the people coincident with the war and that he shared the deep sorrow for the fallen and mutilated. "I bow my head," he went on, "before the heroism with which women and men without distinction of rank or class bear their sacrifices, united in an ardent love for the fatherland. Still more subtle and greater is the defiance of death with which our sons and brothers in the field withstand the violent assaults of the enemy who, superior in numbers, are fighting with the bravest of the World history, human history has never before seen the like."

Reichstag Told Allies Cannot Break Through German Lines on Somme

London, Sept. 29.—The allies cannot break through the German lines on the Somme, Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg told the Reichstag yesterday, according to an account of his speech cabled to Reuters by way of Amsterdam. The German prime minister made a similar statement in regard to the eastern front.

"The English and French, it is true," he said, "have achieved advantages. Our first lines have been pressed back some kilometers and we have also to endure heavy losses in men and material. But what our enemies hoped to accomplish namely, break through on a grand scale and roll up our positions has not been attained. The battle of the Somme will cost further sacrifices. Still another trench and another village may be lost, but they will not get through."

Gen. Joffre Congratulates Sir Douglas Haig on the Successes of British

British Front in France, Sept. 29, via London. — General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French army, has sent a message of congratulations to General Sir Douglas Haig, of the British Forces in France and Belgium on the recent British successes, in which the French general says:

"Following on the continuous progress made by your armies since the beginning of the Somme offensive, these French successes are a sure guarantee of final victory over the common enemy, whose physical and

Report of Temperance Committee Interesting Topic at U. B. Conference

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 29.—Caring for superannuated ministers, the campaign against liquor, the question of paper shortage which is affecting the official church organ, were topics which featured discussion at yesterday's session of the United Brethren church, now being held at the Second United Brethren church, Fifty-ninth and Catharine streets.

The report of the committee on temperance was one of the interesting topics of the day. It was presented by the Rev. N. K. Linebaugh, of Hershey, Pa., and was unanimously adopted amid the applause of the 300 ministers present.

The Rev. D. D. Lowery, of Harrisburg, was elected superintendent. The coming year will be the twenty-fourth year of the incumbency of Doctor Lowery.

Three young men will be ordained ministers at the final session on Sunday morning. They are the Rev. C. G. White, of Huntingdon, Pa.; the Rev. Clyde Lynch, of Harrisburg, and the Rev. C. S. Earley, of Harrisburg.

The Rev. Dr. S. C. Enck, pastor of the conference church and the host, is the busiest man during the sessions. Dr. Enck is a native of Lancaster county, having been born at Hopeland in 1868. He was received into the conference in 1888, and is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College and Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

Harris St. U. E. Aims For 500 at Rally Sunday

Automobiles will be provided for the aged men and women who desire to attend the family service at 10.30 o'clock in the morning and all members of family circles have been urged to sit together in the same pew. A special invitation is extended to fathers, mothers, children, friends and aunts to meet each other at the church at 10.15 o'clock.

"Get on the jump, come and bring another to the Sunday rally at 2 o'clock in the afternoon," is the slogan.

moral forces are already severely shaken."

After saying that the combined offensive has bound still closer the ties of the two armies and that "our adversary will find therein a proof of our firm determination to combine our efforts until the end to insure the complete triumph of our cause," General Joffre concludes:

"I bow before those of your soldiers by whose bravery these successes have been achieved but who have fallen before the completion of our task, and I ask you to convey in my name and in the name of the whole French army to those who stand ready for the battles to come greeting, comradeship and confidence."

General Haig, in replying said: "Our brave dead, whose blood has been shed together with yours on the soil of your great country, will prove a bond to unite our two peoples long after the combined action of our armies has carried the common cause for which they have fought to its ultimate triumph."

"The unremitting efforts of our forces north and south of the Somme added to the glorious deeds of your armies, unaided, before Verdun, have already begun to break down the enemy's power of resistance, while the energy of our troops and their confidence in each other increase from day to day."

"Every French success that attends our arms brings us nearer the final victory to which, like you, I look forward with absolute confidence."

Defection of Hydra to Revolutionists Causes Excitement in Piraeus

Piraeus, Sept. 29.—The defection of the revolutionists of the Greek warship Hydra in the small hours of this morning has caused great excitement in this Greek port. The Hydra, anchored under the guns of the arsenal last night, was silently boarded at 2 o'clock this morning by a party of men in civilian dress.

The loyalist officer, second in command, was aroused from his bunk and with pistols at his head was forced with other loyalist officers to embark in a rowboat. The commander, being a Venizelist, readily surrendered to the boarders.

Two tugs were attached by tow ropes to the ship and as noiselessly as possible she slipped her anchor chains and was drawn by the tugs to the company of the other Greek men-of-war. The tugs towed her to Salamis bay, where the allied warships are stationed.

UNNATURALLY TIRED

Some men and many women feel tired all the time. This is not natural. Fatigue following work or great exertion is normal but to be constantly tired indicates a diseased condition, usually thin blood. Backache generally accompanies this state of the system. Such sufferers are usually pale but not necessarily thin. In blonds the transparency of the skin is increased; in brunettes it is decreased and the complexion becomes muddy. The eyelids become a greyish blue.

This condition of thin blood, which doctors call anemia, is a dangerous one if allowed to progress but with proper treatment it may be speedily corrected. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain just the elements needed to build up the blood and restore the lost color and vitality. New energy circulates through the system with the enriched blood, the heart stops its alarming palpitating, color returns to cheeks and lips.

Nothing more is needed except sunlight, good air, proper food and rest. If you do not know exactly what rules to follow in these matters write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for booklets on the blood and diet. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
