MYSTERY OF ONE TINY SNAPSHOT STIRS COURTROOM

Court and Lawyers Smile When Defendant Produces Little Picture

STATE DIDN'T WANT IT "Let's See," Says Judge; Lenney Trial Ends

What was shown on the tiny kodak picture which was unexpectedly and unofficially introduced this morning at the trial of Mrs. Grace M. Lenney, charged with marital infidelity by her husband, J. M. Lenney, a moving picture theater manager?

What further whetted the curiosity of the jury, an interested crowd in the court and a few lawyers who didn't get a chance to see it was the attitude of the court, of District Attorney Stroup, counsel for both defense and prosecution—and the blushing face of Emily Ruth Albright, one of the State's chief witnesses.

President Judge Kunkel smiled when he saw it; so did Attorneys Hull and Kunkel, for the defense; so did Senator John E. Fox and John R. Geyer, for the prosecution.

VON FALKENHAYN STOPS INVASION OF RUMANIANS

Former Chief of German Staff Takes Field With Victorious Result

FIERCE FIGHT IN SOMME Teutons Beaten Off by New British Division With Heavy Losses

The Rumanian invasion of Transylvania has met with a setback in the Hermannstadt region, some twenty miles north of the Rumanian border, according to the Berlin headquarters statement to-day. A victory there over strong Rumanian forces by troops under General Von Falkenhayn is announced.

General Von Falkenhayn is one of the most noted of German military commanders and was chief of the general staff until recently when he was displaced by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg. To-day's mention of his name in the official statement is the first intimation that he was in active service in the field.

The fact that a general of such note has been given command in Transylvania apparently means that an important campaign in this Austrian territory is under way. A new offensive successfully pressed there would place Rumania between two fires, as large forces of the central powers are in the field in the Southern Rumanian province of Dobruja under another of Germany's martial heroes, Field Marshal Von Mackensen.

Desperate fighting has been in progress along the northern end of the Somme front where the British have recently made important roads upon German positions south of the Ancre. London to-day reports heavy counterattacks by the Germans near the Staff redoubt and the Hessian trench and declares that a division of the
