

GIRL CHIEF OF BIG ROBBER BAND TELLS OF HOLDUP

Makes Damaging Admissions About Murder Under Pressure of Third Degree
FOUR OF GANG ARRESTED
Charged With Holding Up Pay Auto of Wealthy New Jersey Grower

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Subjected to the third degree at detective headquarters for hours, Mille De Marco, the alleged 19-year-old girl, chief of a band of robbers, who yesterday held up the automobile of A. J. Rider, president of the New Jersey Cranberry Growers' Association, at Atison, N. J., a desolate hamlet, ten miles from Hammonton, N. J., wounded him, his daughter and another man, and killed his brother, Henry D. Rider, of Howell, Mich., made damaging admissions at noon today, according to Captain Tate, of the detective bureau. The girl admitted that she and three men companions had motored from this city and were at Atison, N. J., at the time of the shooting. She admitted she had heard several shots after the chauffeur of the automobile had stopped his car not far from the spot where a number of men said to have been masked, held up Rider's car in an attempt to steal the payroll of $5,000 being taken to the 800 employes at Rider's cranberry bogs. All Have Police Records Giuseppe Russo, an intimate friend of the De Marco girl, police say; Frank Vessella, the chauffeur, and Frank Ladona, the three other prisoners held here in connection with the crime, were similarly grilled to-day and admitted they had taken an early morning ride from this city to Hammonton. They also admitted they had been at the spot indicated by the De Marco girl. The girl and Ladona both have police records, Captain Tate said today. Two other strange Italians from this city were in the automobile, it developed today. License Tag Betrays Them The circumstances of the tracing and capture in this city read like fiction. Following the holdup the bandits disappeared into the woods where they are said to have hidden their

Eight hundred and thirty members for the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce. This gives the Chamber at least $20,750 to spend each year. That is the result of the four days' membership campaign waged by a committee of one hundred volunteers for the work, embracing many of the most prominent men of the city. The high water mark set by President J. William Bowman was 800 and it was exceeded by thirty, with prospects of at least a hundred more within the coming week. The former membership was 400. The reports of the final day's work were made at a luncheon of the committee men at the Harrisburg Club at noon. Enthusiasm ran high and there was much hilarity when it became known that the standard fixed had been exceeded.

Free Typhoid Vaccine at City Hospitals
Typhoid vaccine will be provided for free inoculation by the city health authorities and the Polyclinic Hospital will likely be selected as the distribution point. Up until an early hour this afternoon, the City Bureau of Health received reports of nineteen new cases of typhoid in Harrisburg. Since October 1, seventy-two cases have been reported in the city. Complete reports of the cases in the county will not be received at the State Health Department before the end of the week, as the township and borough boards of health report to the medical inspector, but present indications are that the first week of October will show a total of more than 600 in city and county.

Canal Through Finland to Gulf of Bothnia Is Planned
London, Oct. 6.—American engineers have drawn up details of a plan to dig a canal from the Arctic ocean through Russia and Finland to the gulf of Bothnia, according to a Stockholm dispatch to the Morning Post. The dispatch says that the project is strongly supported in Russia. The proposed canal would run from Kandalaska on the White Sea to Tornea near the Swedish frontier and would cost 300,000 rubles. The distance is about 250 miles.

While the entente forces holding the center of the Macedonian front remaining inert, both flanks continue vigorously on the aggressive. Today's reports indicate a weakening of the Bulgarian resistance to the British pressure on the eastern end of the line, beyond the Struma. Here the Bulgarians have evacuated Nevelen which has been occupied by the British and are reported on the retreat. Previous offensive movements by the British east of the Struma, have not been followed up vigorously. In the present operation, however, the British forces have withstood numerous Bulgarian counterattacks, and

Half a million Red Cross Christmas seals will be sold before the great Birthday in Harrisburg and surrounding towns if plans for the 1916 campaign as discussed last evening, can be successfully carried out. The program for the coming campaign was mapped out at the meeting of the reorganized general committee at the home of Mrs. William Henderson.
