For Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Here in America there is much suffering from catarrh and head noises. American people would do well to consider the method employed by the English to combat this insidious disease. Everyone knows how damp the climate is here, and how dampness affects those suffering from catarrh. In England they treat catarrhal deafness and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal remedy for it that is really very efficacious.

A LETTER FROM A SOLDIER DOWN IN FAR MEXICO

"My grandmother gave me a supply of Wonderoil to take with me in the Mexican Campaign. She said it would be my best friend and it surely proved so. It has cured my colds, my coughs, my aches and pains, and my headaches. It has also cured my catarrhal deafness and my head noises. It is a real Godsend to me."

NOTE—Wonderoil, mentioned in the above letter, is the old-fashioned ointment that so many Harrisburg families are now using successfully to cure their coughs and colds. It seldom fails to relieve even the worst cases of hacking coughs. It can be secured in Harrisburg from Geo. A. Gorgas and other reliable druggists.—Advertisement.

SUMMER SUICIDE RECORD IS LARGE

Over Seventy-Five Occurred in the Warm Months Up to the First of August

Figures compiled by the bureau of vital statistics of the State Department of Health show that seventy-six persons committed suicide in July, four less than in June and twelve less than in May and the same number as in January. The figures also show that in July there were but six deaths from scarlet fever, the smallest number from that disease in any month in years and that infantile paralysis deaths were 25 that month being the start of the outbreak.

The birth rate for the month was 19,184 and the death rate 9,217, the excess of births being higher than in any other month of the year.

The causes of death as given show 861 from tuberculosis, 494 from cancer, 646 from Bright's disease, 68 from typhoid, 87 from diphtheria and measles, 91 from whooping cough, one from malaria and 18 from influenza. Diabetes cause 66 deaths, meningitis 49 and intestinal troubles 1,137 of infants under two years and 130 over that age.

Sixty-seven were killed in mines and 134 killed on the railroads, while 700 died from other forms of violence.

Monkey Wanted Breakfast; Tackled Slender Ankle

Los Angeles, Cal. — Because a large monkey belonging to Miss Katherine Smith wasn't served breakfast at the usual hour he went on a widespread rampage, bit a young lady on the ankle, but couldn't make a meal of it; climbed all over a man he disliked and finally held up a passenger train.

As a climax he got mixed up, scramble-egg fashion, with a man named Mr. Monk, and scratched his face severely. The two-legged Monk objected and when he could find a gun he pumped shot into the four-legged monkey until he resembled a sieve and ceased to breathe. His mistress is inconsolable.

The Southern Pacific Company, through its engineer and fireman, was astonished and frightened when the monkey, half standing in the middle of the narrow-gauge track and grimacing horribly, confronted the locomotive. The face was too much for the company and the engineer shut the throttle and threw on the handbrakes or something.

The startled passengers got off and helped chase the chattering simian away. The conductor delivered himself of an oration that wouldn't have served as an eulogium at the monkey's funeral.

SOLDIERS BECOME RESTLESS ANXIOUS TO RETURN HOME

Harrisburg Member of Signal Corps of Opinion Future Enlistments Are in Jeopardy; Tells of Hike

Failure to get in action is causing much unrest among the soldiers at Camp Stewart. Letters from Harrisburg soldiers while telling of pleasant days in camp, and about hikes and daily drills also show an anxious feeling on the part of the boys to return home. In a letter to a friend in this city, Sergeant Guy A. Dull of the Pennsylvania Signal Corps, a Harrisburg boy writes as follows from El Paso:

"This camp experience has been a wonderful thing for many of us. We have learned many things of real value. For instance, I can now sew a button on my shirt all by myself. Never would I have learned this under any other conditions.

"The subject under discussion now however, is when are we going to be returned to our homes. All of our boys are anxious to return to God's country. It is strange but nevertheless a fact that the element that goes to make up our militia can stand the strain of camp life for a certain period only. After the monotony of the soldier's life in time of peace begins to assert itself, the militiaman gets restless and discontented. During the first several months of our service our boys worked hard and faithfully, and while they still plug away like fine fellows, there is a marked degree of restlessness. Our lads are beginning to feel that they are being retained here needlessly and are craving for the company of their loved ones and their daily pursuits in civil life.

"After viewing the situation carefully I am frank in saying that if returning to our homes is delayed much longer it will have a tendency to hurt future enlistments in the militia. The boys feel that they have absorbed a great amount of instruction and in view of the fact that conditions are greatly improved along the border think that they should be allowed to return to their homes. In the command to which I am attached ninety per cent of the men are hoping for an early movement.

The Pennsylvania Militia impresses one very favorably at this time, and I believe if placed in active service would reflect credit on our State. While it is quite true that there may be many things of which we know nothing. Still our boys think that they are being detained unnecessarily and are becoming very much dissatis-

Irrigated district of Texas, near the Rio Grande and is picturesque in many ways. Bordering the canal are many beautiful and prosperous appearing farms. Fields contain many acres of luxuriant alfalfa hay cast themselves before the eye adding color and splendor to the beautiful sunsets that one can witness only in Texas.

"We passed many cowboys attired in their picturesque garb, which we as small boys envied so much. Mounted for the most part on splendid horses these fast disappearing heroes of the west have truly been termed the greatest horsemen of the world. Leaving Anthony next morning we marched to Newman's ranch crossing that part of the Franklin range of mountains at Champerio pass, in going over this mountain it was necessary to use ten mules in some of the more heavily loaded wagons. Arriving at Newman's ranch we camped for the night, leaving at daybreak next morning and arriving at Camp Stewart about 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

"During this march we covered about seventy miles without serious accident to man or beast, rested every night, and halted each day for mess and feeding. The greatest problem I believe was the transportation of water for the men as water which the United States considers good enough for soldiers is a very scarce article in this section. The problem was ably taken care of by Quartermaster Colonel Pusey.

"Many of us read the Telegraph with much interest and are always glad when the old familiar makes its appearance through the mail. Kindly extend my best wishes to my friends of the Telegraph."
