PAMPHLETS WILL TELL OF SCHOOL NEEDS

arily that a mill might be lopped from the school tax rate. The proposed increase of the school district indebtedness to solve the high school situation

The income on the city assessment would approximate a hundred thousand dollars. At least $40,000 would be required to pay the interest on the bonds; another $42,000 or $45,000 would have to be set aside for the sinking funds; then there would be $20,000 in State taxes.

At the meeting last evening of the Rotary Club the high school situation was presented to the Rotarians by Arthur D. Bacon, a member of the Chamber of Commerce high school committee. The Rotarians pledged their assistance and appointed a committee consisting of Arthur D. Bacon, William Bowman, Charles A. Miller, John T. Olmsted and John E. Whitaker to co-operate in the loan movement. Rotarians, it is understood, will volunteer to work at the polls on election day to give final impetus to the movement which was suggested by the Rotarians several years ago.

In addition to the Rotary Club, the Civic Club of Harrisburg has joined in the general movement and by resolutions have endorsed the campaign. Some interesting problems relative to the high school situation are to be discussed at the meeting of the Alricks Association when A. Carson Stamm, president of the School Board, addresses the association.

Planning For Future

Among other things President Stamm will point out the woeful lack of high school facilities, the fact that junior high schools on the Hill, at the Camp Curtin building in the upper end of the city and in the present Central high building, and the proposed erection of a new girls' school and the remodeling of the Technical high to accommodate the boys will relieve the situation, according to the findings of Dr. Van Syckle, the expert, until 1924 at least.

"WE NEED YOUR HELP," SAY WILSON COLLECTORS

urgent cry to "do it now" or at any other time because they are contributing to the Hughes campaign and supporting the Republican candidate, not a word is said of the desperate efforts to constitute a Dauphin county committee. One declination followed another and the article circulated in the authority, the credentials to go into the by-ways and hedges and gather up the shreds of war, were returned to the national committee. They would have been lovely souvenirs for the children and the children's children of the much-wanted collectors.

These hard-hearted favorites of President Wilson, especially picked by him, mind you, sent them back—these certificates—whence they came and it is said at least four or five of the original seven refused to serve. It's a sad tale, and the story goes that the designated treasurer of the Dauphin county committee, Henry B. McCormick, the brother of the chairman of the National committee, was almost a victim of nervous prostration in his effort to fill the vacancies.

The letter which was received today by many Democrats lauds President Wilson as about the best that ever happened, tells how no contributions are wanted or expected from the special interests who might want legislation—awful thought!—in return and asking for an individual contribution concluded in these burning words:

"This is your fight. We need your help. Will you help us? He gives twice who gives quickly, and we earnestly urge, if you approve of this record, that you show it by some contribution and that you send your check or the money, after reading this letter to, Henry B. McCormick, treasurer."

"Please give to the women of the campaign train my heartiest congratulations and the assurance of my cordial appreciation of their earnest work."

HUGHES BOULDED FOR MICHIGAN

Spends Day Traveling; Replies to Heckler Before Cheering Throng

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Charles E. Hughes spent virtually the entire day to-day traveling from Sioux City, Iowa, to Michigan, where he will speak late to-day and to-night. The nominee's special train left Sioux City at 11 o'clock last night and was due to reach Chicago at 11.30 a. m. to-day. A stay of an hour and a quarter here to switch the train from one road to another was necessary.

Mr. Hughes' first speech of the day, a rear platform address was on the program for Niles, where he will remain fifteen minutes. He is due in Kalamazoo at 4 p. m. and will remain there an hour and a half. His program called for his arrival shortly before 7 o'clock at Grand Rapids where he will speak to-night and for his departure early to-morrow morning for other Michigan cities and Youngstown, Ohio, where he will make the last speech of his third trip to-morrow night.

While a throng of 5000 persons howled their approval and threatened the interrogator, Charles E. Hughes last night conducted a running debate with a labor sympathizer, who questioned his attitude toward the gallery and demanded to know his attitude on labor questions at Sioux City, last night. The nominee, his face flushed with the exertion of making himself heard above the confusion, pledged himself, if elected, to "stand with the visible government according to the constitutional system in the interest of all the people in the land."

Amid outbursts rivaling in their intensity any which he has received from any other audience, Mr. Hughes rehearsed his activity since he has entered public life as an opponent of the attitude he has always maintained in opposition to "invisible government or any influences which run counter to the good of all the people."

He declared that if he was elected he would not "barter appointments for legislation."

Not Secretly Influenced

"You cannot find a man in New York State who would stand up and earnestly say that during my term there was a suggestion of any secret or improper influence with respect to executive action," he cried. The interruption from the labor sympathizer, a tall man waving a big knob stick who sat in the balcony of the auditorium, came soon after Mr. Hughes began his speech exiling the Republican party as the party of progress.

"Yes, by the compulsion of labor," yelled the heckler, rising suddenly in his seat. Immediately there was a roar of protest.

"Sit down," the audience cried. "Throw him out." "Get him away from here," came yells, and there was a commotion as several men veered toward the tall man, who remained obdurate on his feet.

Mr. Hughes raised both hands in front of him. "Be silent," he called. "Let the gentleman ask any question he wants to, I'll answer it, that's what I am here for."

"No—no—you go on with your speech. We'll attend to that fellow," were the cries returned.

Attitude Toward Labor

The man mumbled something evidently intended as a question regarding Mr. Hughes' attitude toward labor. In answer the nominee read an article in the Legislative News of July 10, extolling him as the greatest friend to labor who ever occupied the Executive mansion at Albany.

Believes G. O. P. Nominees Will Sweep Missouri

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Charles Nagel, of Missouri, formerly secretary of commerce and labor, who visited western Republican national headquarters said that he believes Hughes and Fairbanks have an excellent chance of carrying Missouri.

Harold L. Ickes, director of work among Progressives at western Republican national headquarters, left for Cincinnati where he will join Theodore Roosevelt in his speaking trip through Kentucky. It was announced that Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice-president, will begin a speaking trip through Wisconsin October 23 and later will go into Missouri and Kentucky, closing his campaign in Indiana, his home State.

Petition For Injunction to Prevent Use of Vote Machines

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 18.—Petition for an injunction to prevent the use of voting machines in this (Vigo) county at the coming election was filed in the Circuit Court here by the chairman of the four political parties, Democratic, Progressive and Socialist. The suit is based on the allegation that the voting machines can be manipulated, as election in 1914, which resulted in the conviction of more than one hundred Terre Hauteans in the federal court on charges of election frauds.

In connection with the filing of the suit, a statement was issued by the chairman of the four parties and endorsed by State Chairman Will H. Hays for the Republicans, and Bernard Koerber for the Democrats. It represents the will of the majority of voters of all parties and that it is not a partisan action.

LAISEZ WILSON

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—Praise for Wilson's diplomatic and legislative achievements and charges that "Wall Street has always dominated the Republican party, and that victory for that party next month would endanger the country's prosperity, were voiced here to-day by William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, before a noon political meeting in a downtown theater.

TWO BREMENS ARE PRIZES; A THIRD IS COMING HERE

New York, Oct. 18.—The New York World prints the following this morning: From English sources of information which have always proved to be reliable The World has received the following—

The first Bremen was captured in the Straits of Dover as she was following the tactics of the Deutschland in steaming along under the wake of an English vessel to escape detection. She may be expected at any time and the net prepared to snare her. So completely was she entangled that it required two days to get out the crew of which five were dead and the rest in the last stages of exhaustion.

The most important part of the capture was the package of valuable documents and mail matter, which overjoyed Britain to possess. She was taken to Chatham, but where she now is was not stated.

The British also captured the second Bremen, but no details are given out. No attempt was made to capture the Deutschland on returning, as it was not considered worth while to risk the boats to do so.

A third Bremen is on her way and sailed expecting to dock in New London. She may be expected at any moment, as she has not been captured. U-53, when it was found she had not arrived, rushed out to sea to find and aid her. Her mission was to look up the Bremens. The Deutschland is coming out in November.

men and women in the entire state is expected to be more than 1,900,000.

Former Progressive Leaders Addressed Big Hughes Rally

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 18.—After several years' absence from the platforms of the Republican spellbinders, Ex-Senator William Flinn, Washington party leader and Roosevelt lieutenant, last night appeared with Gifford Pinchot on the stage of the Alvin Theater at the Hughes rally held by the local leaders.

The Bull Moose leader told why Progressives ought to support Mr. Hughes and predicted that Mr. Roosevelt would be vindicated by almost all of the Progressives voting for the Republican candidate.

"You know we established the Democrats in power four years ago, and we are now going to help out them," he said. "We offered our best man, Theodore Roosevelt to the Republicans at Chicago this year, and they would not take him. Then we asked them to give us their best man, which I believe they did. I can see no reason why any man who voted for Roosevelt four years ago cannot vote for Hughes this year."

An example of the Hughes supporters here is extended in the selection of A. Rex Flinn, appeared with Gifford Flinn, and former fullback on the Yale football team, to be chairman of the Pittsburgh branch of the Hughes National College League. Rex Flinn enjoys a wide acquaintance in college circles, and is very popular. There are branches in 117 cities and 40,000 members enrolled.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat ailer and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.
