TECH ALUMNI IN STUDENT PARADE [Continued From First Page] Saturday. The "Sintimint" at Tech. "That a new high school is needed to solve the problem of the day scarcely requires discussion. Of course better and more commodious high school facilities are needed and the passage of the loan will make this possible. "Tech students of to-day aren't going to be alone in their parade to demonstrate the need of the loan. Of course it is just as enthusiastically for it as the folks at Central and speaking of the alumni of years gone by I've only the words in the language of Mr. Dooley: "Them's me own sintimint."

Dr. Schaeffer's Views. Dr. Nathan G. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today declared that it is the duty of Harrisburg to provide adequate school facilities for its children of high school grade. He discussed the relative merits of

ANY WOMAN CAN SAVE $5 AN HOUR

Put gasoline and solvite in a wash boiler and dry clean everything.

Ever dry clean at home? Well, it's so easy, inexpensive and the results so pleasing you'll be surprised. Any woman can clean and renew the brightness of ribbons, silks, satins, laces, yokes, silk shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, children's coats, suits, caps, swills, lawn, organdy and chiffon dresses, fancy vests, vells, woolen garments, network, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline where it quickly dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned, rub a little and out they come looking as bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing. Any woman can do five dollars' worth of home dry cleaning in a few moments and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline and the drug store will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dish pan completes your dry-cleaning outfit.

officials and naval officers prepared for the inquiry to determine the status of the craft. The Deutschland has been entered as a commercial vessel, but to make certain that every neutrality provision has been observed an inspection by both naval and customs officials was decided upon at Washington. Commander Yates Sterling, who is head of the naval station here, arranged to go aboard with his aids in conjunction with a representative of the United States and Germany. It is expected, will take up the question with the postal authorities within the next day or so. Establishment of a regular mail service by submarine undoubtedly will have a great effect upon exchange between the United States and Germany and furnish American business interests with connections in Germany with a means of doing business directly as well as avoiding British censorship and seizure of securities.

CANT CONFIRM ARRIVAL

Berlin, Nov. 2 (Via London) — The German Ocean Navigation Company of Bremen has up to now been unable to confirm the news of the arrival of the merchant submarine Deutschland at New London. While the newspapers all display prominently the British news agencies announcing the arrival they are inclined to question their authenticity. Their readers are asked to remember the source from which the telegram originates and not to indulge in speculation. A direct message from Captain Koenig, commander of the undersea trader, relieves them of all doubt.

capture of more than 1,500 prisoners by General von Linsingen's troops in this action.

Crown Prince Swears to Take Verdun or Perish

London, Nov. 2. — The German Crown Prince has sworn to capture Verdun or die in the attempt. This is the substance of a report received here from the battle line of the Meuse. The commander of the German army before Verdun recently exhorted his troops to new and greater efforts against the French stronghold, these advice say declaring that under no condition would he relax his offensive or abandon the house of wrestling Verdun from the foe. That this means a renewal of the German assaults against the allied lines on the Meuse is taken for granted. Everywhere officials here, military and public, express satisfaction over the prospect of any fresh test of the strength of the defense of Neville and Pothu. England is not as confident about anything else in the war as that Verdun will continue to hold firm against the enemy, and the repetition of the Germans' furious attacks can end only in the weakening of their lines and the prodigal expenditure of human lives.

JITNEY PARADE ROUTE

H. M. Brooks, chief marshal of the big labor parade to be held Saturday night in the interest of the proposed jitney amendments, announced the route of the parade at a meeting last night of union representatives. The marchers will form at Front and Market streets between 7.30 and 7.45 o'clock. Promptly at 8 o'clock the parade will begin. The route will be east in Market street to Thirteenth, to Mulberry, to Fourth, to Sixth, to Reilly, to Second, to Market Square. A mass meeting will be held in the square following the parade. Members of twelve organizations were present last night and reported that many members will be in line. Banners will be provided boosting the amendment and redire has been ordered for the various organizations.

SURPRISE FOR MR. STRICKLER

A very enjoyable time was spent by the clerical force of the Mechanics Trust Company Tuesday evening at the home of Frank S. Strickler at Hummelstown. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mr. Strickler, who is receiving teller of the bank. His wife, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Landis Strickler, gave an elaborate turkey dinner in honor of the event. The house was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums. The evening was spent in playing games, vocal and instrumental music and dancing. George Sautman, on behalf of the clerks, in an impressive speech presented Mr. and Mrs. Strickler with gifts, to which Mr. Strickler responded.
