CLEARS $159

Junior Aid Society Girls Pleased With Success of Their Sales Saturday Afternoon

In spite of the competition of football games, the Junior Aid Society's bazaar held in the Board of Trade hall on Saturday afternoon was eminently successful, and when the sale closed a little before 6 o'clock it was found that $159 had been emptied into the cash drawers of each of the tables in charge of one or more of the energetic salesladies who compose the membership of the society.

The cake table touched the high water mark for heavy sales, with $38 net, and the candy table was second in its appeal with $25.50 credit. The little girls were all garbed in costumes befitting the nature of their sales and few there were among the buyers who could resist the appeal to charity when clothed in such attractive forms.

PRaise For Workers

The workers, who were assisted by Miss Frances Bailey, Miss Emily Bailey, Miss Susanna Fleming, Mrs. Howard Binerman, Mrs. Edward E. Belandier, Mrs. Charles L. Bailey, Jr., Mrs. William E. Bailey and Mrs. Henry M. Stine, deserve great credit for the successful way in which the bazaar was managed and the following young ladies are particularly to be congratulated on their undertaking:

Eliza Bailey, president; Alice Cooper, vice-president; Katherine Beldie, treasurer; Helen Davis, secretary; Elizabeth Harris, Alice Cooper, Mary Louise Hubley, Avis Ann Hickok, Gladys Voorhes, Bettina Stine, Edith Thompson, Winifred Meyers, Nellie Payne, Louise Hickok, Suzanna Maguire, Harriet Witman, Ruth Dowdell, Virginia Bishop, Priscilla Bullitt, Honore Patton, Eleanor Bailey, Sara Lailey, Alice Lesure, Cecelia Kunkel, Lydia Kunkel, Katherine Rutherford, Mary Cooper, Margaret Davis, Dortha Davis and Betty Qenslager.

Some fifty years ago lumbermen buried a companion on the banks of the old canal. Fond of his nip, he was, so the story goes, and grieving fellowworkers he left behind, were not so sure as to how "Jack" would be satisfied beyond the Veil, when his thirst annoyed him. So they placed a bottle of whiskey on his chest when they buried him—a bottle of whiskey on a dead man's chest. Captain Kidd stuff, get it?

This is the end of the story and perhaps you've got the reason for the perspiring activity of the group of pick-and-shovelers who like "theirs without water and the older the better." So, who cares if the bottom has fallen out of that snake-bite defense?

FLYING RECORD

Completes Last Lap of Record-Making Trip From Chicago to New York

New York, Nov. 20. — The record-breaking aeroplane flight of Ruth Law, began yesterday in Chicago, terminated at Governor's Island here at 9:40 a. m. to-day after stops at Hornell and Binghamton, N. Y. The flight was covered this morning in 2 hours and 20 minutes and the entire journey, 532 miles in an aeroplane in the actual flying time of 9 hours and 20 minutes.

Miss Law was greeted on her arrival at Governor's Island by Major General and Mrs. Leonard Wood, who congratulated her on her achievement. She was considerably chilled and was taken to the house of one of the officers at the post to recuperate.

She had little to say about her flight except that she was not very much lower than she wanted to, on account of the haze. It was the cause of remarks among those who examined her machine here that its altitude was such as to expose her to the air more than in the case of most modern aeroplanes.

The pilot's seat is placed on a projection from the front of the machine so that the aviator gets the full force of the wind.

The machine used by Victor Carlstrom, previous holder of the American non-stop record, established in a flight November 2 from Chicago to New York, was of the Fusillage type, in the cockpit of which he was snugly protected from the wind. In the present flight Miss Law bettered Carlstrom's record by about 100 miles, making the 530 miles in an airline flight from Chicago, N. Y., where she arrived yesterday without stopping.

The position of Rumania appears increasingly precarious. General Von Falkenhayn's armies are continuing to force their way southward from the Transylvanian border and Petrograd is further retreating. The Rumanians in Jul Valley region, near Dragoslavele, northeast of Campulung, the Rumanian troops appear to be offering their most stubborn resistance.

The greatest peril to the Rumanians according to the view of entente military critics, lies in the reported cutting of the railway from the Danube to Craiova, threatening the flank of the Rumanian army south of Yulcan pass and making the position of the Russian army at Orsova hazardous.

The bad weather along the front in France, apparently has brought operations to a virtual standstill. Neither London or Paris reports any move of importance made during last night.

Berlin, however, mentioned British church activity in the Middle West in attempts north of the Ancre near Beaumont and between Serre and Meaucourt, and the repulse of a French attack near St. Eloi.

Dr. Kurt Sorge, the new technical chief of staff to General Groener in the department of munitions, who will head the industrial department in the Reichstag, was announced yesterday and upon whom will fall a large share of the responsibility for the creation, maintenance and efficiency of the proposed "home army" that is to complete and sustain the armies in the field, has arrived at Berlin to take up his new task.

Dr. Sorge received an Associated Press dispatch from Athens that the ministers of the central powers have been ordered by the entente authorities to leave Greece by Wednesday.

G. and J. E. These employees of the Harrisburg Railways Company, will be heard at 8 o'clock. In both cases, information was made by Fire Chief Malehorn.

MONASTIR FALLS BEFORE SERBS WHO ENTER WITH FORCES OF THE FRENCH

London, Nov. 20. — Monastir has fallen. Outflanked by the Serbs, who drove forward dauntlessly along the ridges to the east, the Bulgarians and Germans evacuated the city, the seraglio of Serbian Macedonia. The Serbo-French forces entered at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

Monastir will take its place in military annals. Ridge after ridge fell before the Serbian army until the Bulgarian positions in the lowland had been turned.

Then the big guns of the Allies were moved forward up the plain as the Serbs, caught under the enflading fire of the Serbs on the east, were forced to fall back. When the entente artillery opened fire, the Bulgarians had no alternative. They evacuated the city.

Sarrail's Great Stroke

General Sarrail's new has accomplished the last important stroke of the entire Macedonian campaign. It comes at an opportune moment, for it is bound to have an immense effect on the Rumanian situation. Though the Bulgarians are strong enough to continue their stiff resistance in Serbia, where the odds are greatly in favor of the defending forces, they can no longer weaken their southern army to aid Von Falkenhayn and Von Mackensen. On the other hand, they may soon find themselves in such a perilous position that the German commanders may be forced to draw from their own forces to save their ally from disaster.

From a military standpoint the recapture of Monastir is extremely important. It has already compelled the Bulgarians to retire some distance to the north and east. In a few days they will probably take up positions extending from the Shar Mountains to the east of Pristina, along the western edge of the Vardar Valley. The key to this line would be the Babuna Pass, north of Pristina. The Serbs were able to sweep the enemy from that part of the Vardar Valley south of the eastern entrance of Babuna, they would thus have the advantage of the Saloniki-Belgrade railroad and could smash forward to their greatest victories.

The capture of Monastir is the hardest yet struck in Bulgarian history since she entered the war on the side of the central powers. The advance of General Sarrail's forces through the mountain barriers across the Serbian border has been one of the most brilliantly conducted operations of the war.

Monastir a town of about 45,000 population in peace times, was the capital of the vilayet of Monastir under Turkish rule before the first Balkan war. Serbia took it as part of her share of the spoils of the second Balkan conflict. It was held out as a bait to Czar Ferdinand by the Kaiser when Prussian diplomats were seeking to bring Bulgaria into the war and the campaign in Serbia was extended at the request of Czar Ferdinand until the city was occupied.

"DRY CHICAGO FIGHT ON

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—A "dry Chicago" campaign was opened to-day with an address by W. J. Bryan before a meeting of the dry league. Mr. Bryan was asked as to a recurrence of the report that he was to move his home to Asheville, N. C. "I don't mind denying it again," said Mr. Bryan. "I have a nice place in the dry state like Nebraska? My home will remain at Lincoln. I will do my voting there."
