The undying joy of the world's greatest music enters your life with a Victrola

It has been truly said: "A life without music is a life without joy."
In the twentieth century that is the same as saying: "A life without a Victrola is a life without joy."
The Victrola is the greatest instrument in the world because it alone can gratify every musical whim and desire. The Victrola alone can satisfy every musical taste or mood.
The Victrola alone can make your home a musical center where the world's greatest artists congregate to entertain you with the music you love.

Victrolas, $15 to $400. The easiest of terms if you wish them.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The call for track candidates has been issued at Central and a new program is to be instituted which will tend to make a championship track team. Work will begin at once under direction of the coach, and the student body will undoubtedly show interest in the new track spirit. All candidates for basketball may wait until later to join the sprinting squad. A large number of possible athletes have already reported to the principal. Debating will be on in full force at Central shortly, and Prof. Milton O. Billow expects to have another championship team. Lively discussions of current events as well as those of yore are becoming quite popular among the students.

Central High had a good number of students in attendance at the Yale basketball game, in fact one might have thought that it was a regular high school game. This is perhaps due to the fact that two players on the Harrisburg team were Eugene (Sho) Miller and Frank G. Roth. The latter is a member of the faculty and the former a famous Central athlete of history. Many members of the faculty were also present.
