

READY TO TRAIN
50,000 MEN IN 1917

Dates and Locations of Citizens' Military Camps Announced by Association

New York, Feb. 10. — The Military Training Camps Association of the United States, with headquarters at 31 Nassau street, has announced the dates of the civilian training camps that will be held in the Eastern and Central military departments next summer and early fall.

The four Plattsburg camps will be held on the following dates: First camp, June 2 to July 1; second camp, July 7 to Aug. 5; third camp, Aug. 11 to Sept. 8; fourth camp, Sept. 15 to Oct. 14.

The camps for the junior division, open to boys between the ages of 15 and 18 years, will be held at Fort Terry, N. Y., and at Portland, Me., there being two camps at each place, the first from June 30 to July 28 and the second from Aug. 2 to Aug. 30.

In the Central Department there will be seven senior camps — three at Fort Snelling, Minn., and two each at Fort Riley, Kan., and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo.

The War Department's notice issued yesterday reads, "is preparing to take care of 50,000 or more men for the 1917 training camps, and the association expects to continue its work on a still larger scale than heretofore and provide at least that number of men.

The statement also deals with the universal service campaign in this country. As expressed in the attitude of the Training Camps Association:

"We are not trying to build up a new volunteer force. We do not believe in a volunteer system. We are trying to bring about a universal and democratic system of military service, and we will stick to it until we succeed. We firmly believe that this is coming. Our national safety requires it. Men who opposed it a year ago are to-day heartily in favor of it, and the number in favor of it continually grows. As the matter may be brought up at any time before Congress, it is of vital importance that every member of the association use his utmost influence to further such legislation."

Anatomical Menu Card
Graces Surgeons' Dinner

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 12.—At a dinner in honor of Dr. H. S. Warren, of Chicago, at Hotel Jefferson given by St. Louis physicians last night, the doctors operated on food which was disguised under lengthy Latin names.

Instead of "menu" at the top of the cards was "protocol" which usually leads the description of an appetizer. The rest of the words were just as strong but they did not turn in the least the iron stomachs of the physicians who ate the dinner with a relish.

The menu, with explanations, follows: Ptituitous on half shell, pseudo-mucous (oysters); appendices (celery); gal stones (olives); pericardial effusion, clear, straw-colored (soup); broiled embryos on toast, Weinberg-Hecht negatives (chicken); cephalic and diphtheric (vegetables); gangrenous salad, aseptic degeneration (salad); ascitic fluid, Q. S. (coffee).

There was a national cocktail as an appetizer and also unhelmolized grape juice, which is not the kind of grape juice "Bill" Bryan drinks. The cigars and cigars were labeled "shrapnel," "hand grenades" and "crutches."

The dining room of Hotel Jefferson was labeled "Jefferson Hospital." The physicians present were leading practitioners, specialists and college professors of St. Louis.

Stolen Kiss to Cost
Defendant $100 or More

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 12.—It was a costly kiss that Alfred Pye, of 359 Melville street, forced from the unwilling lips of Marie Becker, of 305 Glenwood avenue, a pretty little shop girl employed where he was foreman early last March. She had him arrested for assault, third degree.

Pye was convicted in police court and was fined $50. He appealed to the county court from that decision and County Judge J. B. M. Stephens has just filed his decision. He upholds the decision of Police Justice Gillette. The girl and Pye were employed by the Rochester Folding Box company.

Counting the attorneys' fees, the cost of trial and other incidentals, Pye's stolen kiss will cost him more than one hundred dollars.

ORPHEUM — "The Millionaire's Son and the Shop Girl."
Wednesday, matinee and night, February 14—"The Guilty Woman."
Saturday, matinee and night, February 17—"Oh! Oh! Delphine."
MAJESTIC—Yandeville.
COLONIAL—"Nina, the Flower Girl."
REGENT—"The Pride of the Clan."

There are laughs and thrills and tears galore in "The Millionaire's Son and the Shop Girl." A brand new melodrama, by W. C. Herman, author of "Broadway After Dark," which George Klint will present at the Orpheum to-night the Orpheum.

"The Guilty Woman" is the title of an adaptation of a powerful play that will be presented here for the first time at the Orpheum.

"Oh! Oh! Delphine," the big musical comedy will be produced at the Orpheum next Saturday, matinee and night, is by C. M. S. McNeil and Ivan Caryll, and is derived from the French farce, "Villa Primrose."

An Oriental opera entitled, "The Bride of the Nile," will shine forth at the big attraction of the week at the Orpheum. It is a comedy in five acts, and is remembered as one of the funniest comedies the ever presented at the Orpheum. It is featured in the act, and is the chief funmaker in the act. A competent company of twelve surrounds Mr. Simon. Rounding out the list of attractions are "The May Day" sketch, "The Wrong Guy," Roberts and Barvers' versatile blackface comedy artists, and the Two Totos, novelty equilibrist.

Mary Pickford will be seen at the Regent to-day, to-morrow and Wednesday in the second production of her own corporation released by Arctcraft. It is called "The Pride of the Clan," and is the central figure of a Scotch story of a strong human and heart appeal. The plot tells the story of the search of an artist, Victor Jolibeau, for a model for the left shoulder of a Venus. Jolibeau and Alphonse Bouchette, fat and jealous, have exchanged wives by way of the divorce court, but even then they are not very well suited. The two are to serve a month in the army and Victor takes with him six models, while Alphonse's wife accompanies him. In camp complications arise, due to the presence of Victor's uncle, whom he had not told of the divorce, and whom he attempts to deceive by having his former wife, now Alphonse's, pose as his own. The play ends with a re-exchange of wives.

A motion picture filled to the brim with human sympathy is the new Beesie Love feature.

"Nina, the Flower Girl," showing at the Colonial Theater to-day only. "Nina, the Flower Girl" is a heart interest story, in which the principal characters are a blind girl, who sells flowers and a little crippled newsboy. The picture is unique for the fact that it does not have any villain, but is a delightful love story that holds your interest throughout the entire action of the story and ends just as you would have it end. Happiness is the keynote of the entire story. A screamingly funny Triangle comedy, called "A Noble Fraud," will add much laughter and many thrills to the program. Tuesday and Wednesday, the Metro Film Corporation will present Viola Dana, the dainty little star that pleases all ages, in a play of love and adventure, "Threads of Fate." A picture of beautiful scenes and big moments. The usual funny comedies and the latest Pathé News will be on the same program.

Beesie Love at the Colonial

Chicago, Feb. 12.—It was the golden wedding anniversary of Francis Bayliss, seventy years old, of No. 2821 East Ninety-third street, and his wife, Mary, seventy-two years old. Times have changed since they were married. Men were stern then. Woman's rights or suffrage were virtually unheard of. Francis Bayliss has not changed much with the passing years. His wife has changed. He entered the house. An unpleasant word led to others — then a blow was struck, his wife says. The anniversary day ended with Bayliss in a police cell.

Accidents Postpone
Wedding 15 Years

Denver, Col., Feb. 12. — Fifteen years ago, when she was a young girl, Miss Blanche M. Fownes, of St. John, New Brunswick, visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Keith, in Denver. Here she met Ben W. McCloskey, a young mining man just setting out for Arizona on his chosen career.

They fell in love and it was arranged that they would be married when the prospective bride grew up and when the young mining man had made his strike. Unforeseen events were to befall, destined to postpone the wedding.

After her visit to Denver the girl went to India with her parents. They lived there a number of years. Meanwhile she and McCloskey corresponded regularly. Just as they were considering a wedding date, Miss Fownes's father and her little brother set sail on one of Captain Fownes' ships. They were wrecked on a tropical island in the South Seas. The brother was drowned. The father and mother got ashore and were given shelter by natives, but the shock was too much for Captain Fownes and he died a short time afterward. Mrs. Fownes was later rescued and returned to her grief-stricken daughter. The wedding was postponed.

Minister's Wedding Fee
Paid From "Bad" Check

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 12.— A n hour before Walter Zinda, teamster, 1452 Holton street, married, he cashed a check in order to pay the minister and later forged additional checks to purchase house furniture. Detective Niederkorn testified in municipal court yesterday. Zinda was charged with forging four checks, totaling $111. He was sentenced to 18 months in the house of correction. He was married December 16, 1916.

Japan Leads in Divorces;
173 of 20,000 Marriages

Tokio, Feb. 12.—Statistics just published here by the government show Japan leads the world in the proportion of divorces to marriages. Out of 20,006 marriages in England, 2 result in a divorce; in the United States, 82, and in Japan, 173. Of 59,000 divorces effected in Japan between 1883 and 1902, only 409 were obtained by lawsuits. The rest were brought about by mutual consent, usually utilizing the services of the same "go-between," who arranged the original match. But this condition is changing. More and more Japanese women fight for their rights in the courts.

Three Distinct Services Embraced Under the
Nemo Standard of Corsets Embodying Splendid Features

Self Reducing Wonderlift Back Resting
Each service forms a unit which embodies hygiene and style, and each performs functions which are characteristic of that particular service. Nemo Self-Reducing Corsets are intended primarily for stout women. Their function is to reduce and reshape the abdomen. Wonderlift Corsets are made for women of every type of figure, from the excessively slender to the overstout. Unlike the Self-Reducing Service the Wonderlift Service supports the abdominal walls and internal organs by an uplifting process. Back Resting Corsets are intended for women of every age and type of figure. The back-resting device prevents and relieves backache by supporting tired and weakened muscles. One of the attaches of our Corset Section is a graduate Hygienist, who will be glad to explain the corset needs of your type of figure.
