EPISCOPAL CHURCH PENSION COMPLETE

Bishop Darlington Thanked For Part He Took in Furthering Campaign

Bishop James Henry Darlington, of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Episcopal Church, this morning received a telegram from Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts, announcing that the church pension fund toward which the clergy and prominent laymen had been working for many months had today become a reality. Bishop Darlington played a prominent part in getting the work under way. The telegram from Bishop Lawrence follows:

"Pension campaign began in telegram from me to you in faith determination and hope, but little certitude. This telegram closes the campaign in gratitude to God and the whole church. Tide of gift has risen to $6,500,000. Full report later when returns are in. Hearty thanks for your support."

There are 75 clergymen in the Harrisburg diocese who will be affected by the fund. According to the new system clergymen reaching the age of 68 will be eligible to retirement on a minimum pension of $600 a year. Women will receive one-half the sum to which their husbands would have been entitled, and allowances will be made to all dependent orphans of deceased clergymen at the rate of $100 a year for each child under 7 years, and $200 a year for each child between the ages of 7 and 14. The Harrisburg diocese far exceeded in contributions the $50,000 expected of it.

SLAYER THOUGHT INSANE

Shamokin, Pa., March 1.—Following an inquest over the body of Eleanor Buggy, three years, a coroner's jury decided she had been murdered by Mrs. Anna Buggy, her stepmother, who was married one month ago to the victim's father, James Buggy. Justice Harrison Heslep, formally committed the accused to jail. Since Mrs. Buggy's confession that she killed the girl with a knife while on a mountain-side she has not referred to the crime. It is generally thought she is insane and that she will be committed to an asylum.

EIGHTY ENLIST IN CHURCH GUARD

Stevens Memorial Men Plan Annual Camp and Weekly Instruction Drills

Organization of two companies to be known as the Stevens Memorial Guards which has been going on quietly for several days is nearly complete, it was said today, when the rosters contained four store names. Thirty young men have enrolled in Company A and fifty boys in Company B.

The companies will be uniformed and equipped and a drum corps shortly will be organized to accompany the units on parade. Regular army drills are being planned as well as an annual summer encampment.

James W. Barker has been elected commander-in-chief of the Guard. The Rev. Dr. Clayton A. Smucker, pastor, has been elected chaplain. The officers for the first company are: Walter L. Vanaman, captain; Emory Sourbeer, first lieutenant; Robert Fohl, second lieutenant; J. Robert Story, first sergeant. Captain G. S. Davis, former captain of the Philadelphia State Fencibles, now chief signal engineer of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, will be drill master. Exhibition drills will be held every once and a while.

A departure in this line of work will be the installation of a Morse telegraph outfit, for the purpose of teaching members the Morse and the Continental code, until at such time as arrangements can be made for installation of wireless telegraph units. This department will be under the direction of a competent Morse and wireless operator of fifteen years' service. Membership is open to all young men and boys of the church and Sunday school, and young men and boys of good moral character, not members of other church. Company A, or the Philadelphia company, will hold drills every Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The Junior company will drill every Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

GENDELL TAKES IMPORTANT POST

Former Manager Engineers' Society to Manage Philadelphia Employment Agency

It was learned in this city today that Paul Gendell, former manager of the Engineers' Society of Pennsylvania, and for the last year secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at DuBois, Pa., has resigned his post in that city to become managing-secretary of an employment bureau in Philadelphia to be operated jointly by the State Employment Bureau and the Philadelphia Emergency Aid Society.

Mr. Gendell has left a lasting impression upon the life of the community at DuBois. Under his management the DuBois Chamber of Commerce was the first to open a branch of the State Employment Bureau; a branch of the Clearfield county farm bureau has been opened; an industrial census of the city has been taken; a municipal bond issue for street paving, ornamental lighting and bridge construction has been put through; and the commercial and civic life of the Clearfield county metropolis has been strengthened and made more cohesive. Mr. Gendell has a host of friends in this city, he having been employed as an engineer in the Steelton mills for ten years prior to becoming manager of the Engineers' Society. He will remove with his family to Philadelphia about March 10.

Reichstag Hears of Swiss Move to Reopen Negotiations With U. S.

By Associated Press
Amsterdam, March 1, via London—Foreign Secretary Zimmerman has made a statement before the Reichstag in regard to the move made by Paul Ritter, Swiss minister to the United States, to bring about a reopening of negotiations between the United States and Germany. According to a Berlin dispatch to Reuter's Secretary Zimmerman said:

"The facts are as follows: On February 8, through the Swiss Federal Council, we received a telegram from the Swiss minister at Washington to whom after the rupture our interests in America were entrusted. The telegram was as follows: 'In America the wish exists to avoid war should the German government show an inclination to negotiate about the blockade. The minister is ready to pursue the matter further.'

"Every speaker here has expressly emphasized that a breach with America was regrettable and it will undoubtedly be still more regrettable if it came to war between Germany and the United States, between whom there are ancient friendly relations and no political antagonism. Economically we are drawn to each other and should really be economic allies. Thus it is comprehensible that the imperial government desires to endeavor to avoid everything which might intensify the conflict. For these reasons we examined the suggestions which reached us from the Swiss minister."

A COPPER CLOSSUS

In the March American Magazine is an account of Daniel C. Jackling, who has doubled the world's copper output and is a giant in the copper field today. He has worked so swiftly and so quietly that the public as yet is not aware of his magnitude.

At thirty-five he was vice president and general manager of a struggling mining company predestined, according to the unanimous verdict of expert opinion, to be a speedy, very complete and costly failure. This is not ancient history. The mine was opened, the company organized, only twelve years ago.

At forty he was a millionaire. At forty-five he rounded the Horn in his own steam yacht. He is forty-seven to-day and a multimillionaire. He controls the operation of four mines, all less than twelve years old, which annually produce twice as much copper as the famous mines of Michigan put together. He acquired an unprofitable zinc property four years ago, lifted its output until the figures approached the total zinc production of all the mines in Missouri, and made it pay fifteen million dollars in dividends during the last two years.

FIRE THREATENS COURTHOUSE
Altoona, Pa., March 1.—Fire threatened the destruction of the Blair County Courthouse at Hollidaysburg yesterday, when rubbish in the cellar caught from some unknown cause and filled the office of the Prothonotary and Register and Recorder with smoke. The public documents, kept in steel cases, were uninjured.

RODMAN LAW REPORTED KILLED AND PENNILESS

New York, March 1.—Rodman Law, the daredevil aviator, who has thrilled thousands by his "death-defying" feats in the air, is reported ill and penniless, a discharged charity patient from the Kings County Hospital. Law suffered from an injury incurred when he leaped from a balloon recently at Trenton, N. J., the parachute failing to work properly. It had been supposed that Law was well fixed, some of his hair-raising stunts having brought him large sums from motion picture concerns. Mrs. Law asserts, however, that most of this has gone and that just now Law is "up against it." Law says that as soon as he discards his crutches he will be back at the "death-defying" stuff again and re-establish the family fortunes.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Adv.
