

Water Rent Collections $7,700 Higher This Year

Frank N. Templar, chief clerk in the city Water Department, reported that $62,982.31 in water rents have been collected during the first quarter of the year, an increase of $7,730.00 over the total rents collected for the same period last year. The proportionate advance, however, would be higher than this, Mr. Templar explained, because this year an eight-cent rate for each 100 cubic feet was charged, while until April 1, last year, a ten-cent rate was charged. Because of the rate reduction the surplus water funds may not reach those of last year, it was said.

RIOT FOR FOOD

London, April 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from The Hague says: "Serious food rioting took place in Dusseldorf Easter Sunday. A crowd of women, composed mostly of the wives and daughters of munitions workers, paraded the streets shouting 'Give us bread, smashing windows and singing revolutionary songs.'

Steeplejack Starts Repair Work on Church Steeple

Repair work was begun this morning on the First United Brethren Church on Beas street. The cupola blew over several weeks ago and since that time has been hanging over the side of the steeple.

The pavement in front of the church was roped off to safeguard pedestrians. Repeated complaints were made to the police department because of the inconvenience caused by the ropes. Church officials declared that they were unable to procure a steeplejack who would do the work.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

NEW OFFICER ON MIDDLE DIVISION

His Name Is Thomas G. Herbert; He Will Visit All Labor Camps

"Camp inspector" is a new office recently established on the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Thomas G. Herbert, former health officer at Altoona, is the first incumbent. He started on his new duties yesterday. He will keep in close touch with all labor camps, bunkhouses, and buildings where employes make their headquarters. He will work under the direction of Hubert H. Russell, division engineer.

Within the past year, following the great influx of southern negroes to serve the corporation as track hands, to replace foreigners who answered the call to their native colors, many camps have been established along the right of way of the Pennsylvania, and because of a lack of proper sanitation, some of these became veritable disease breeding holes.

Health officers in the districts affected were frequently called in to assist in ridding the camps of disease, but this was found to be a costly and unsatisfactory method of handling the situation.

Mr. Herbert's first work will be to visit all the camps, whether contagious disease exists or not. He will order a general clean-up, where needed, and prescribe rules for the government of the camps' sanitation. In the event of sickness among the employes, Mr. Herbert will invoke the proper methods of ridding the community of disease, and avoid, if possible, an epidemic. He will work in conjunction with the local health officers, where such conditions arise.

MORE EQUIPMENT ORDERS

Railroad equipment contracts are being placed less rapidly than for several weeks, but car builders are still in the market for from 30,000 to 50,000 tons of bars, plates and shapes to cover construction of cars already under contract. In addition to the 2,000 cars ordered by the Philadelphia & Reading a few days ago a number of small orders for 200 cars were taken by the Standard Steel Car Company and the Chicago Car Company, including some passenger equipment for the St. Paul.

WIRELESS STATIONS CLOSE

In accordance with instruction from President Woodrow Wilson, closing all wireless stations, except those under control of the United States Government, those on the Reading system have been closed. The new station at the P. & R. Y. M. C. A. at Reading was recently installed, and was said to be one of the best equipped in the State.

DON'T GET MAD OVER LATE TRAINS

Tie-Ups Are Likely to Happen When War Rush Is on; Be Patient

Up to date war traffic has not interfered to any great extent with regular railroad schedules in and out of Harrisburg. Both the Pennsylvania and Reading report daily delays to express trains, due to freight traffic, but it has not become necessary to eliminate any of the regular traffic.

According to a statement made today, local officials are prepared for any immediate rush of business due to war deliveries. No attention will be given to schedules when this happens. Trains will be run on time as far as practicable, but Government business is to be given precedent, which means that regular travelers may later on be obliged to wait.

"If there are schedules held up," said one official to-day, "there will be no explanation. The public will be informed as to all delays. Troop train movements and other special hauls will not be made public. No explanation will be forthcoming. It is the Government's business first and the public must be patient."

"Every effort possible will be made to keep trains moving on time but there is no telling what may happen, so we will not schedule them to do any thing but to get out of the country as fast as we can." If there is no trouble well and good, if ties up come, we must take care of them the best we know how."
