BUSY WORKING FOOD GARDENS

Troop 7 Definitely Fixes Plots Under Cultivation in Bellevue

The scouts are busy these days tending the troop gardens in Bellevue. The troop has ten plots under cultivation and many varieties of garden products are about ready to market.

Yesterday a squad of twenty scouts under charge of Assistant Scoutmaster W. E. King and Fred Haehnlein hiked to the Rockville mountain. They gathered a number of ferns to be placed in the scout room at Olivet church.

Some of the scouts have suggested a scout field day and athletic tournament, including contests in horse code, signaling, Semaphore code signaling, first aid, and athletic games. We would be glad to hear from other troops. We also would be glad to arrange a baseball game or tennis tournament with any troop in the vicinity of Harrisburg or with organizations of scout age.

Scout Leeds, assistant patrol leader of the Tiger Patrol, has been placed in charge of the Semaphore signal squad. He has also been made Semaphore instructor for all tenderfoot scouts.

Scout Peters has been made chief of the Morse code squad and has rigged up a Morse flashlight station in the scout room for the instruction of the scouts.

Scout Carson, assistant patrol leader of the Eagle Patrol, has been placed in charge of the Rattlesnake Patrol to act as instructor in scoutcraft and second-class requirements. J. CHARLES HINES, Scout Scribe.

TROOP 10 BOBS UP AT END OF LONG HIKE FRESH AND SMILING

Twelve members of Troop 10, under supervision of Scoutmaster William A. Frantz, started on a hike to Lebanon, Pa., Friday evening, June 22, at 8:30 o'clock. All members carried staves, ponchos, blankets, cooking utensils and food. The first aid squad carried in addition the first aid punch and canteen. The route taken was along the main road to Hummelstown. The troop was met at Hershey by Scoutmaster Leibfreit and his scout of Troop 1, and also by twelve members of Troop 2, of Lebanon, in charge of Patrol Leader Richard Rhen, who had hiked from Lebanon to Hershey as the advance committee to welcome our troop. The Lebanon troop, together with our troop, camped for the night on the ballfield at Hershey, where arrangements had been made by Scoutmaster Leibfreit.

Take Swimming Test
Early Saturday morning five of our troop took the swimming examination for first-class scouts, in the pool at Hershey; four of them passed the test. After this rebuilding was next in order—no test, but just for breakfast. Ham, bacon, eggs, coffee, postum, fried potatoes and shredded wheat were the principals. It is great to say, "Oh, those pies that

WILL GO INTO CAMP JULY 30

Troop 7 Definitely Fixes Date; Thirty Scouts Signed Up; Need Cook

Troop 7 is making final plans for the much talked of camp which is now definitely set for the week of July 30. Thirty boys have already signed up for the trip and an ideal camp is assured if the weatherman is kind and considerate.

Scoutmaster Miller's only concern now is the question of securing the services of an AI cook for the above period. Everyone knows what a good cook means to a camping party and Troop 7 is especially desirous of getting the best culinary artist in the vicinity. Anyone who can recommend a chef to Troop 7 will confer a great favor by communicating with Scoutmaster Jerome R. Miller, 234 Hamilton street. Bell phone 3793.

mother bakes," but had you eaten with us you would have said, "No one can make bacon and eggs like a scout."

We left Hershey in company with the Lebanon scouts about 8:30 o'clock, and had a steady grind until 12:45, when we reached Lebanon. We had stopped, however, at Anville for a "bite". Saturday afternoon the entire Lebanon troop turned out to show us the town and they did. Saturday evening our troop gave a demonstration in first aid, tying knots and semaphore signaling at the Meadow Bank playgrounds, which is located about two blocks from the

TROOP 4 TRIES SOME NOVEL STUNTS AT LAUREL DAM CAMP

Herewith is reproduced a map surrounding the Laurel dam camp site of Troop 4. It was drawn by a member of the troop. The boys had such a good time that they are still talking about it. They had some novel stunts during the trip.

The following stunt is recommended to their fellow scouts as being most practical and exciting. One-half of the troop line up on the bank of the swimming hole and the other half are about twenty or thirty feet out in the water. Each scout on the bank chooses a scout in the water, "rescues" him and applies artificial respiration.

Who said tennis? Scout George Beard, 1825 Market street, is chairman of Troop 4 tennis committee, and is ready to arrange matches with any other troop that wishes to get "trimmed." center of town, along a creek that flows through the city. After the demonstration Troop 10 was put under heavy guard, each member being escorted by two or more Lebanon scouts, and—well, all I'll say is they make good ice cream, sodas, sundaes and good picture shows in Lebanon, and one thing more—Troop Two Treats. Sunday saw the St. John Reformed Sunday School full of scouts in uniform, and members of both troops

TROOP 20 PLANS TO TAKE HIKE

Will Go to Boyd Farms, Returning Through Penbrook

At a meeting of Troop 20 on Monday evening it was decided to take a hike on Saturday, going to Boyd farms and returning by way of Penbrook.

Members are working for second-class requirements and on Saturday several of the tests will be practiced. Last week in the line-up of this troop the assistant patrol leader for Patrol 1 should have been Harold Winn instead of Glen Taylor.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, July 16, at 7 o'clock in the regular meeting room. PARK WEAVER, Acting Scribe.

others did various things. We returned home at 4 o'clock Sunday, all very tired but alive with experiences of our trip.

Entertained at Homes
While in Lebanon we were entertained at the different homes of the scouts of Troop 2, and our troop expects to entertain them in Harrisburg some time in the future.

Those taking the hike were: Patrol Leaders Charles Blessing, Paul White and George Satchell; Assistant Patrol Leaders William Yingling, Howard Selsom and Earl Kerns; Scouts F. Reisch, E. Ruple, W. Walkendifer, G. Kerns, A. Hughes, J. Fox.

JOHN FOX, Scout Scribe, Troop 10.

Troop 11 Hikes to Mill and Takes Swim

On the morning of July 7, at 10 o'clock, the troop started on a hike to Eberly's Mills. They arrived in time to cook dinner and after awhile went swimming. Some of the boys, not caring to swim, walked into Milltown and occupied their time by buying ice cream, candy, etc., at the grocery store. The scoutmaster bought them a ball and the few left played ball. All hiked home after some rest at the end of the ball game. At the meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock the question of scout camp was introduced and discussed.

Notice—All scouts of Troop 11 are urged to be present at the next meeting on Monday evening at 7:30 sharp. Charles H. Crist, Secretary, Troop 11.

Will Hold Festival to Raise Camp Funds

Troop 4 of Emanuel Presbyterian Church will hold a festival Monday evening from 6 until 10 o'clock to raise funds for a camping outfit. The festival will be held at Seventeenth and Briggs streets.

SCOUT SCRIBE

HENRY E. KLUGH, JR., Henry E. Klugh, Jr., as scout scribe, keeps the activities of Troop 4 before the public. Above he is shown giving the Boy Scout salute.

Scout Headquarters Moved to Square

The headquarters of the Harrisburg Council of Boy Scouts was moved yesterday from its temporary location in the Board of Trade Building to room 200, in the Calder Building. Scout Executive J. H. Stine hopes to have more visits from the scouts and scoutmasters since the headquarters is more centrally located.
