

HOME-READING COURSE FOR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS

(Issued by the War Department and all rights to reprint reserved)

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army, to which this course is merely introductory.

STAFF BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE—II
1. Your Post of Honor. 2. Making good as a Soldier. 3. Nine Soldierly Qualities. 4. Getting Ready for Camp. 5. First day in Camp. 6. Cleanliness in Camp. 7. Your Health. 8. Marching and Care of Feet. 9. Your Equipment and Arms. 10. Recreation in Camp. 11. Playing the Game. 12. Teamwork in the Army. 13. Grouping Men into Teams. 14. The Team Leaders. 15. Fighting Arms of the Service. 16. Staff Branches of the Service—I.

includes the Dental Corps, the Hospital Corps, and the Nurse Corps. Its officers are experienced physicians who have passed rigid examinations. Its enlisted men are chiefly engaged in the difficult and often dangerous work of rescuing the wounded and transporting them to field and base hospitals.

Just as every man in the Army carries trenching tools so that he may protect himself without the help of the Engineer Corps when necessary, so he also carries a "first-aid packet," so that he may in an emergency perform some of the duties of the Medical Department. Every soldier learns how to give dressing and treatment to his own wounds when he is able to do so, and how to assist wounded comrades until men from the Medical Department arrive.

Medical Department Efficiency
The Medical Department of the American Army is regarded as one of the best in the world. A soldier may feel assured he will receive every possible attention in case of need. The percentage of recoveries from wounds in the hospitals managed by Americans during the European War has been exceptionally high.

The Quartermaster Corps is the business manager of the Army. It furnishes food, clothing, and most kinds of equipment; provides horses and mules; arranges for transportation; takes charge of money; buys supplies; pays troops; and keeps on hand stores of supplies.

The importance of all this work can hardly be overestimated. Napoleon said "An army travels on its belly," meaning that soldiers must be well fed and well supplied if they are to fight effectively. Depots are even more necessary to-day than they were in Napoleon's time. In modern warfare the scale of fighting and the quantities of supplies are so tremendous that the duties of the Quartermaster

Two Women Go on Trial For Murder of Child

St. Johnsburg, Vt., Aug. 31.—The trial of Mrs. Alvin Kenniston, jointly indicted with Miss Etta May Hicks and John Kerwin for the murder of Alice Bradshaw, eight years old, was opened here to-day. Kerwin pleaded guilty yesterday of being an accessory after the fact and his assistance was deferred. The little girl disappeared early in July and her body was not found until a month later. The three persons indicted were arrested shortly after the child's disappearance and the authorities announced that the two women had confessed that they killed Alice because Miss Hicks, housekeeper for the girl's father, John Bradshaw, was tired of caring for her. The child was crippled after an attack of infantile paralysis.

RUSSIA LOOKS FOR LOAN
By Associated Press
Petrograd, Aug. 31.—The Bourse Gazette says it has reason to believe that the favorable disposition manifested by Americans, particularly after the nation's conference at Moscow, will enable the provisional government soon to obtain from the United States a loan of 5,000,000,000 rubles.
