

GUARD AGAINST FROST DAMAGE

Weather Bureau Specialists Tell How to Protect Garden Stuff

Washington, D. C.—Don't watch the moon for signs of the first frost; watch the Weather Bureau.

When the warning from the forecast comes, as it usually will from 24 to 48 hours in advance, look to the protection of the garden produce which is not yet under cover.

First, the specialists suggest, protective coverings should be made ready. These may be made of straw, burlap, or other material.

When frost is imminent and protection is not possible, or practicable, vegetables likely to be injured should be gathered and canned.

Tomatoes may be pulled up, plants and all hung tops downward in a dark place, preferably a cellar.

Many vegetables such as cabbage and turnips are not harmed by ordinary frost and need no special protection.

Vegetables which are frost-killed may be improved by freezing and are customarily left in the ground until needed.

Peter Stevens Hangs Up New Record at Byberry

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Peter Stevens set a new track record for Byberry at the opening day races of the Philadelphia County Fair yesterday by negotiating the mile in 2:06 1/4, lowering the former mark by one full second.

Eddie McGrath landed Wade Landona a winner in straight heats in the 2 1/2 mile pace, with Queen Hal a close second.

It was a split-heat race in the 2 1/2 mile, which required five heats to decide the event.

Hagerstown Takes Two; Lands Blue Ridge Flag

Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 4.—With a huge crowd of home town fans cheering them on, Hagerstown won the Blue Ridge League pennant yesterday by beating Gettysburg morning and afternoon.

Hagerstown virtually had the title won a week ago, but it was problematical for them to lose out.

Early in the season Martinsburg had a huge lead and appeared to have the field outclassed.

Gettysburg fought hard, but was beaten by a better team. The scores were 3 to 2 in the morning and 2 to 0 in the afternoon.

Grocerymen to Continue Half Holiday Until Oct. 1

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at.

The surest, safest, easiest way to get rid of the discolored skin is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scarf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath.

One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny. If its action is so gentle no harm is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.—Advertisement.

Eleven Carloads of Peaches Shipped From Dillsburg

Dillsburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—Peachgrowers near here have been busy harvesting their crop during the past week and will continue to do so during the coming week.

Second Murder Suspect Arrested at Pittsburgh

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 4.—Eli Lukas, 36 years old, was arrested at Pittsburgh yesterday by Pennsylvania Railroad police on suspicion of being the man who killed Mike Smith, a restaurant-keeper, near Burnham early Sunday morning.

Lukas has been identified as the man who bought a revolver at a local hardware store a few hours before Smith was killed. According to the police, Lukas paid an automobile owner to drive him out of town on the night of the murder. He bought a ticket at Bellefonte for Gary, Ind. When taken into custody he was ready to board a train at Pittsburgh.

Jake LeMagara, arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder, probably will be released from jail.
