Camp Meade, Md., Sept. 27.—Woodrow Wilson, commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, is expected at Camp Meade on Saturday to take a look at his "boys" from Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The President, as unofficial report has it, will motor from the White House during the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and several dignitaries of the War Department.

None of the exact details is known, and nothing official has been promulgated about the expected visit.

Maryland and the District of Columbia sent their "S. M. S." today to join the thousands of selected men from Pennsylvania already on the job.

Many of the young Philadelphians are strutting around with laurels on their brows and handkerchiefs on their arms.

Every evidence that the commander is taking no chances with a flying visit by winter on an every hand. Huge heaps of cord wood are being strewn about the regimental blocks, while tons of hay to stuff the mattresses are being delivered by the auto trucks.

Surplus Fruits May Be Conserved in This Way For Winter Use

Washington, Sept. 27.—As a final drive on fruit preserving the United States Department of Agriculture urges the making of homemade fruit butters. This is recommended not only to those who grow the fruit, but to those in the city who may take advantage of large supplies and cheap prices.

There is no better way to use good apples, says the department, than to make them into butter. The sound portions of windfalls, wormy, and bruised apples may be used.

The city in the raising of produce and in the conservation of food products. It would probably astonish many to know that more than $10,000 worth of garden truck has been raised on the garden plots of Harrisburg during the present season.

The committee of agriculture of the Chamber of Commerce, with Donald McCormick as chairman, engaged Shirley B. Watts as superintendent of the garden plots and the results have been remarkable.

Mr. Watts stated that instead of playing at recess the school children went to their garden plots and thoroughly enjoyed the work.

There were also some excellent results of the experimental farming by the children of the Children's Industrial Home. These farmed an acre of ground and raised a considerable quantity of vegetables.

COL. HOUSE TO PLAN U. S. PART AT PEACE MEET

Adviser to President Wilson Picked For Important Diplomatic Work

Washington, Sept. 27.—As is well known, both France and Great Britain have for some time been making active preparations in their own behalf for the peace conference. Many letters corroborating this fact have been received in important quarters in America during the last few months.

It would be altogether erroneous, however, to attach unwarranted significance to the fact that America is in her own behalf for the peace conference. Such a step on the part of America would not be a step in the direction of peace and could not be properly interpreted as having the slightest bearing upon the possible date of the peace conference.

The choice of Colonel E. M. House to head this important mission for America is a natural and logical one. In such a position he would be only enlarging and extending the activities which he has pursued in comparable obscurity during the last few years.

The bulk of his labors as an unofficial diplomat, his contributions to the cause of international enlightenment, his grasp of all the strings leading to the various European capitals, as well as his gathering prestige in governmental circles throughout the world, have all, according to reports in official and diplomatic circles, in quarters where the name of Colonel House is
