

TIMELY NEWS OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA AND CITY'S SUBURBS

NO STEAM HEAT FOR BELLEFONTE

President of Company Orders Plant Shut Down; Receipts Did Not Pay Expenses

Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 1.—Though Bellefonte has strictly observed the past two "heatless Mondays," designated by the Garfield edict, many residents and businessmen are now looking forward to heatless Tuesdays, Wednesdays and every other day of the week.

Formal notice has been issued by the Bellefonte Steam Heating Company controlled by ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis, that at noon Saturday, February 2, the city steam heating service will be discontinued—a condition that leaves well over one hundred patrons without heat, with February and March, two of the normally coldest and most blustery months of winter, still in prospect.

Judge Orvis recently called a meeting of representative businessmen at which he explained that he had been conducting the steam heating plant this winter at a monthly cost of $2,000, and followed this by an announcement that rates would be increased one hundred per cent. Last January Judge Orvis closed the

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET—AH

"Tiz" is grand for aching, swollen, tender, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

Heavy Snow Threatens to Demolish Farm Buildings

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—Much concern is beginning to be manifested for the safety of many buildings in the county because of the heavy pressure of snow and ice on the roofs.

Snow to a depth of almost five feet, with three distinct layers of ice being, covers the ground and the roofs, much of it having been there for almost two months, and the weight is beginning to have its effect. Already two big barns in the country district have given way and collapsed, while others are reported to be in bad shape. Hurry calls are being sent for carpenters and others in an effort to avoid damage.

BIG BARN COLLAPSES
Liverpool, Pa., Feb. 1.—A barn on Maurice Delhi's property collapsed under the weight of snow. This is the second barn to collapse here and many people are trying to clear the snow off all roofs where it is possible to do so.

The other meetings are as follows: Wednesday, February 6, at 7:30, Bowling Alley at Bonnymeads. Thursday, February 7, at 2:30, Oakthall schoolhouse. Thursday, February 7, at 7:30, Shellville schoolhouse. Friday, February 8, at 2, Linglestown chapel. Friday, February 8, at 7:30, Geyer's school.

SOLDIER DIES AT CAMP
Marietta, Pa., Feb. 1.—Private Walter Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ely, living at Highmount, opposite here, died from pneumonia and spinal meningitis, at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Georgia, after a three weeks' illness. The young man was 23 years old and among the first to be called last fall in the new National Army. The body has arrived at the home and will be buried with military honors. Besides the young soldier's parents, a number of brothers and sisters survive.

OFFICER'S WIFE DIES

Sunnyside, Pa., Feb. 1.—The third death to occur in the Stauffer family took place Wednesday, when Mrs. Dorothy Stauffer, wife of Captain Walter J. Stauffer, one hundred and forty-first Artillery, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, died. The other members to die were Mrs. Cecelia Burnett and Albert Schwartz, son-in-law and sister-in-law of the first mentioned.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY

Fine Gray Fox Walks Into Small Game Trap

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 1.—That foxes still exist in the surrounding mountains is shown by the fact that one was walked into the small game trap set in the mountains east of Touzerville by William Sanders, a Rouzerville resident, but this one is perhaps the first seen or caught in this section for the past number of years.

Mr. Sanders has been placing small game traps in the mountains during the past several months and on a recent morning, while making his rounds through the woods he saw the fox, a gray one, being held by its front foot in the jaws of the trap. It was a fine specimen of gray fox, but was very thin and perhaps only took its last chance to get something to eat from a trap, which all foxes are particularly sly of, which caused its imprisonment.

NO ALIEN ENEMIES

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 1.—Burgess Ed. S. Myers and Chief of Police Gillan have not as yet located any alien enemies in Waynesboro, but they believe that there may at least be a few here who have taken the precaution to provide themselves with cards should any turn up for registration in the week of February 4.

FIRST CLASS MEN CALLED

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 1.—Exemption board No. 2 has called for examination at the courthouse at Chambersburg, ninety-five registrants in class 1. These are men who were exempted on physical grounds in the former examination. Board No. 1 is now arranging its classification lists and will begin calling quotas for examination some time next week. All in class 1 will be called for examination regardless of whether they passed or failed in

FLORIST WINS PAPER'S PRIZE

Suggests Coal-Saving Method For Greenhouses in Extremely Cold Weather

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 1.—Florists, as well as others, are forced to save coal just now, however inconvenient or prejudicial to their interests it may be. But Henry Eichholz, one of Waynesboro's well-known florists, has solved the problem, as applied to his own greenhouses.

A New York publisher of a florist periodical has been offering small money prizes for the best suggestions for a coal-saving device, and Mr. Eichholz was among the first to win the prize. This is what he does here, as just published: "When temperature gets so low that the glass freezes, we spray the hot steam pipes under the benches with the hose. The steam or vapor arising freezes into a mat of fine snow against the glass inside and closes up every opening and makes the houses air tight, helping to keep out cold air and draughts. This little extra labor has saved us a great deal of coal and firing this season so far."

BOYS IN FRANCE

Hummelstown, Pa., Feb. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brightbill received a cablegram from their son, Earl J. Brightbill, on Monday morning, advising them of his safe arrival in France. Mr. Brightbill is a master engineer in the Four Hundred and Nineteenth Battalion of Engineers and was formerly stationed at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass.

Word received from Howard Samsam by his parents informed them of his safe arrival in France.

PERRY BOYS IN SERVICE

New Bloomfield, Pa., Feb. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kell have received word that their son, George Kell, who enlisted recently, has crossed the Atlantic safely and is now in France.

Harold Millington, of this place, is now a private in Company G, Fourth Infantry, at Camp Stewart, Newport News, Va.

George Ritter and Harry Pontius are also members of the same company.
