

STATE POLICE DO EXCELLENT WORK

In Addition to Maintaining Order They Make Investigation For U. S.

State by a concerted campaign to Pennsylvania's state police made 257 arrests during 1917, the offenses including practically every crime on the calendar.

George C. Lumb, the acting superintendent, in commenting upon the report says that the morale of the men was never better and that in addition to the work of running down law breakers and patrolling the force did a great deal of investigating for different branches of the United States Government.

Thousands For State—Over $127,000 was received for the state during 1917 by the Attorney General's Department from estates or relatives of wards of the Commonwealth in insane and other institutions for maintenance. The bills were collected from those able to make payment and it is believed that the total this year will aggregate $200,000.

Appetite Has Come Back and He Feels Better in Every Way

"I don't know just what my trouble was but I know I felt all in," says Benjamin F. Strow, a temperer at the Reichstein plant, who lives at 515 N. 13th St., Harrisburg, Pa. "I had no appetite and I always had an eggy taste in my mouth."

"I'd heard a lot of the men around in the shop talking about Tanlac so I thought I'd try it, may be it will fix me up and sure enough it just fixed me right up in no time at all."

"Now that eggy taste is all gone, my mouth feels clean and my appetite has come back strong. I've gained four pounds already and still going. I've got plenty of energy now and I go at my work with a vigor that makes things hum. Tanlac is the boy to put you on your feet."

Itching, Scratching, Skin Diseases That Burn Like Flames of Fire

Here Is a Sensible Treatment That Gets Prompt Results.

For real, downright, harassing, discomfort, very few disorders can approach so-called skin diseases, such as Eczema, Tetter, Boils, eruptions, scaly irritations and similar skin troubles, notwithstanding the lavish use of salves, lotions, washes, and other treatment applied externally to the irritated parts.

How to Speak in Public Is an Important Art

Members of the class in public speaking of the Central Y. M. C. A., will meet at an acquaintanceship dinner at the Y. M. C. A. building, this evening, at 6:30 o'clock, when the work of the class will be opened.

Information has been brought to the attention of the officers of the class, to the effect that many men have failed to qualify for commissions at the training camps because they lack mental alertness, accuracy in thinking and acting, and the clearness of enunciation which can be secured by a course of public speaking.

Comments on the fact that Robert B. Reeves, general secretary, quoted recently by the Adjutant-General of the Army as a reason why so many young men failed to be recommended for commissions after completing the course of training at the military camp.

A man may be a clear thinker but he is not apt to produce conviction and determine acts unless he expresses himself in a tone of voice that has ease, power and the proper intonation through all that he wishes to convey to his hearers.

Reports Starvation on Return From Germany

An Atlantic Port, Feb. 4.—Opinion that unless the war ends within the year 1918 there will be a revolution which will overthrow the Hohenzollerns in Germany was expressed by the Rev. Aloysius Daniels, of Hewitt, Wisconsin, upon his arrival here from Germany by way of Switzerland.

"The people of Germany are starving," said Mr. Daniels, who, for three years has been studying in Westphalia. "There are few left who are more than 50 years old, all succumbing to lack of nutrition, while the death rate among the children is frightful."

"President Wilson is anathematized throughout the empire, but hardly worse than is the emperor, while what is said openly of the crown prince is not fit to repeat. I believe they will quell this insipient revolution, but there will be another unless the war ends before next year, and that one will be the end of the Hohenzollerns."

Last of Hardscrabble Cases Are Listed For Court Trial

A special trial list of the five remaining hardscrabble appeal cases has been prepared by Probationary Charles E. Pass.

The five cases which are to be heard next week are suits brought by the following property owners: E. C. Slabach, John Vintag, Harry J. Berrier, Margaret C. Berrier, executrix and sole legatee under will of late Joseph Berrier and Lewis Finckel, Jr. A special jury of thirty-six has been drawn to serve at the session.

With the return of verdicts for damages in each of these suits all the litigation in the cases will be ended with the exception of settlement of the controversy over the act of 1871 which provided that the city is not liable for damages in case properties are erected on a public street after that date. This point has been reserved for argument after the settlement of damages for properties which had been built prior to that time.

Dr. Robert Bagnell Speaks Before the People's Forum

Because of national legislative matters, Senator Wesley A. Jones, scheduled to speak before the People's Forum yesterday, was unable to get to Harrisburg. In his stead, Dr. Robert Bagnell gave an interesting account of his experiences in the various camps under the title, "Higher Americanism." Members of the Wickersham Auxiliary of the Red Cross acted as ushers and took up the collection, which is to be devoted to the purchase of materials for their work.

Another Sunday meeting will be held next week, but no speaker will be announced until the middle of the week.

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED TO SEND TOBACCO ABROAD

Growing Army in France Increases Demand For Soothing Smokes

A foolish deer once missed his guess Because of unpreparedness.

Said he, "I don't believe in such; I think they praise it overmuch."

"The forest is so very wide No enemy could reach my side."

"And if they did, I have my horns, A weapon no one ever scorns."

"And should that fall, I have my heels; A single glance my speed reveals."

Alas, the deer who proudly spake Was soon a hatrack and a steak!

Don't let yourself be a hatrack or a steak by failing to help prepare the soldier for the suffering that may be expected in the approaching spring conflict. Don't wait until 1,000,000 Yanks are over there, ready to leap in the trenches and fight to the finish. Yet your contribution in now so that there will be a supply of tobacco on hand when this enormous number of men are gathered in France. The smokes for soldiers' fund is trying to do this now, trying to collect a great quantity of tobacco which will be kept fresh and sweet so that the fragrant weed will not be lacking when American troops are called to desperate combat.

The request is no burden, surely. All that is asked of any one is to deny himself, or herself, a mere trifle, a few cents. If even a small percentage of Americans would do this the soldier could be amply supplied, but so plenty is tobacco over here that persons pause to picture the conditions abroad. The American soldiers are unanimous in saying that French tobacco is distasteful. Therefore, if regular tobacco is not sent from this country there is no way of a soldier getting it.

When General Pershing, himself, asks that his men be supplied for tobacco seems to be an actual necessity; when the Y. M. C. A. reports narrate how much tobacco is relished, and when the Red Cross folk not only sanction its use but urge greater contributions, why should any individual set up his opinion against such an array?

The Telegraph fund steadily grows, but to meet the demand which will follow the arrival of one million troops in France, the public should speedily loosen up and chuck away all selfish considerations.

Joseph T. Bailey, Head of Famous Jewelry House, Is Dead at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Joseph Trowbridge Bailey, president of the Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, jewelers, died yesterday shortly after midnight at the home of his son, Major Charles Bailey, 219 Delancey street. Death was due to pneumonia after a brief illness. At his bedside were Mrs. Bailey and the members of the family.

Joseph T. Bailey was born in Philadelphia March 29, 1835, of English ancestry, and was educated in private academies. In 1851 he began working for his father, a man who felt that the only way in which to learn any business was for one to "start at the bottom and go up."

So young Bailey entered the store as a clerk. As he reminiscently said in later years, he "used to open the door" in the morning.

He was expert with rifle and pistol, and was never happier than when fishing or hunting in the Canadian woods or Rocky mountains. Big game hunting was his delight, and he possessed many trophies testifying to his skill as a marksman. For months at a time he lived and hunted with the Indians, who always found in him a true friend and a loyal companion.

In 1871, during the German siege of Paris, in the Franco-Prussian war, Mr. Bailey, who was at that time in Paris on business, was forced to flee the city, along with many of the inhabitants.

Mr. Bailey was the eldest son of Joseph Trowbridge Bailey, the founder of the present house of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, which began business at 136 Chestnut street, under the name of Bailey & Kitchen, in October, 1832.

Tumulty May Seek Senatorial Seat From State of New Jersey

Atlantic City, Feb. 4.—Joseph F. Tumulty, private secretary to President Wilson, a former Assemblyman from Hudson county and clerk of the New Jersey Supreme Court prior to making his political fortunes with President Wilson while he was Governor at Trenton, will be the Democratic candidate for United States Senator to succeed the late Senator Hughes.

This assertion, the first indication of Democratic plans with respect to the Senatorship, was made yesterday by North Jersey Democrats who came here to confer with Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City.

This statement was made: "Secretary Tumulty has had the Senatorship in his mind for a long time. Having been a close student of legislation at Washington for close to five years as President Wilson's right-hand man, he is anxious to have a hand as one of those who formulate and pass laws. Recently Mr. Tumulty sent two confidential representatives to Trenton, Newark and Jersey City to size up the situation there for him, and their report is said to have decided him to get into the Senatorial contest with all possible confidence that he can be elected."
