

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF INTENSE INTEREST

BENEFIT BRIDGE FOR RED CROSS

Mrs. James I. Chamberlain Announces Plans For Patriotic Tournament

Announcement was made this morning that Milton C. Work, the famous auction bridge expert, will have personal charge of the National Patriotic Bridge Tournament of the Harrisburg Chapter of the American Red Cross...

Mr. Work will arrive Saturday afternoon, and deliver a lecture in the evening to anyone who cares to attend. Following a comprehensive lecture on the subject of "Auction Bridge," Mr. Work will give an intensive instruction lesson to a class in the evening...

Those who have already signified their intention of entertaining at card tables are: Miss Letitia Brady, Mrs. Arthur Bailey, Mrs. Otto Buxbaum, Mrs. Lewis Brown, Mrs. James I. Chamberlain, Mrs. Sanford D. Coe, Miss Crowl, Mrs. Jesse E. Cunningham, Mrs. E. Curzon Fager, Miss Constance Ferriday, E. Gillespie, Mrs. H. M. Gross, Mrs. Charles P. Garnett, J. A. Herman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill, Mrs. Mrs. J. H. Knisely, Mrs. George Kunkel, Mrs. George Kuster, Mrs. Philip T. Meredith, Mrs. George Prosser, Mrs. Mrs. Martin E. Charles E. Ryder, Mrs. Frank Robinson, John Schilling, Mrs. Harriet Tress Kennedy, Mrs. Shearer, Mrs. A. P. Simons, Mrs. W. N. Spooner, Mr. and Mrs. George Trapp and Miss Wilhelm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Stucker and daughter, Miss Marguerite Stucker, of 2218 North Second street, and Miss Dorothy Cox motored to Lancaster today for a several days' visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Nina Ruth, of Highspire, spent several days with her sister, Mrs. E. J. Knisely, of the Berry Block apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moody, of Wellsville, spent the Easter holidays with their daughter, Mrs. William Mell, of 225 South Fourteenth street.

Mrs. J. H. Knisely, of Fourteenth and Hachelin streets, is visiting relatives in Carlisle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hebel, of 929 Briggs street, announce the birth of a son, Donald Lester Hebel, Monday, April 1, 1918.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fairing, of Cleveland, Ohio, announce the birth of a daughter, Selma Young Fairing, Saturday, March 30, 1918. Mrs. Fairing is remembered as Miss Alice H. Young, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Kennedy, former Harrisburgers, now residing in Pittsburgh, announce the birth of a daughter, Harriet Tress Kennedy, Monday, April 1, 1918.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Hoover, of 215 Yale street, announce the birth of a son, Jack Patterson Hoover, Monday, April 1, 1918. Mrs. Hoover was Miss Anna Patterson of this city prior to her marriage.

RILEY SOCIETY ENTERTAINMENT

Penbrook High School Club Give Benefit For Their Auxiliary

The Riley Literary Society of the Penbrook High school will give an entertainment Friday evening, April 5, in the Penbrook school building, at 8 o'clock.

The proceeds will be used to meet the expenses of the Junior Red Cross Auxiliary of the school. The program includes: Song society; instrumental trio, Miss Mary Hoofnagle, Miss Kathryn Healy, Miss Ora Kline; paper on current events, Miss Kathryn Healy; violin solo, Hayes McClelland; story of "Mazepa," a member of the senior class; "American Girl Drill," Miss Kathryn Healy; 20; Miss Ruth Hoeker; 20; Miss Clara Garverich; 20; Miss Sara Garverich; 20; Miss Ellen Garverich; 20; Miss Helen August; 19; Miss Blanche Hecker; 20; Miss Mary Harper; 20; Miss Clara Demmy; 19; song society.

MARRIED IN LANCASTER Miss Mattie Myra Lantz and Frank P. Weiman, of the Internal Revenue Department, were married at Lancaster Tuesday, April 2. They will be "at home" after May 1 at 1522 State street.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL William Morrison, who has been in ill health for some time, is in a better condition at his home in Duncannon. Mr. Morrison is one of the oldest and most prominent Masons in Perry county.

J. Horace Nunemaker has returned to Colgate College, Hamilton, N. Y., after a vacation spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nunemaker, 2224 Crescent street.

B. R. Knisely, of Reading, spent several days this week with his sister, Mrs. E. J. Lesoure, of 222 South Fourteenth street.

Miss Katherine Petrin has returned to Highland Hall, Miss Cowles' School, Hollidaysburg, after an Easter vacation spent with relatives in this city.

Miss Helen Eddy, of 505 North Front street, spent to-day in Philadelphia.

Miss Helen G. Rockwell, of the Riverside apartments, is home after a visit at her home in Towanda, Pa.

Rabbi Louis J. Haas, of the Chev Shalom Temple, is home after a visit in Philadelphia, where he visited his brother, who is home on a furlough from a camp in Florida.

Spies Denounced as Senators Try to Rush Through House Bill

Washington, April 4.—German spies, propagandists and persons making disloyal utterances were denounced in the Senate today when an effort was made to rush through a House bill providing penalties of twenty years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine for interference with Government bond sales, acts intended to interfere with Army draft and disloyal statements.

"We must do something to catch these scoundrels and spies all over the country," said Senator Overman, of North Carolina. "People are taking the law into their own hands on the ground that Congress is not passing necessary laws. We hear reports of mobs everywhere."

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, declared the bill would "not catch a single spy," asserting spies do not come out openly but operate in disguise.

German propaganda has been "notorious," Lodge said. Federal courts have made "strained constructions" of existing law, and discharged persons who have denigrated the President and nation and obstructed the draft and bond subscriptions.

LEADERS OF CITY COMMUNITY SINGING MOVEMENT

HOWARD E. GENSLER, FRED C. HAND, DR. JOHN C. FREUND, WM. JENNINGS, BISHOP DARLINGTON

Many Donors in List of Nursery Home For March

The board of managers of the Nursery Home, 1327 South Cameron street, acknowledged donations for the month of March from the following: Mrs. A. Carson Stamm, Mrs. Groff, Mrs. Reed's class of the First Baptist Church; Golden Pen Circle of the Augsburg Lutheran Church; Mrs. W. S. Tunis, Mrs. C. A. Sheely, Miss Sible, Mrs. Herman Astor, Mrs. Charles Etter, Mrs. John Record, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. White, Mrs. Percy Beltz, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Charles Knoll, Almshouse, Mrs. Garvin, public schools, Miss Felix Witman Brothers, Sunshine Society, Miss VanHorn, Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Whistler.

ZION LUTHERAN CHORH HOLDS REHEARSAL TO-NIGHT

The choir of the Zion Lutheran Church, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin J. Decever, will meet to-night at 7:45 for rehearsal, instead of tomorrow as usual.

The time is changed on account of the mass meeting for those interested in community singing being held to-morrow evening in the Chestnut Street Auditorium, with Dr. John Freund, president of the Musical Alliance of America, editor of Musical America, as speaker.

THE CAMP HILL M. E. CHURCH TO GIVE PASTOR RECEPTION

The Camp Hill Methodist Church will give a reception for their pastor and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. Brennenan, Friday evening, April 5, at 8 o'clock in the assembly room of the church.

An interesting program has been arranged and a pleasant social time expected for these members of the church and Sunday school friends of the church and Sunday school who will attend.

HEPFOOD-NOBLE WEDDING

Miss Blanche Noble, of Hanover, and Herbert T. Hepford, of 220 Pine street, this city, were married in Hagerstown Thursday, March 23.

Mrs. James I. Chamberlain, of 323 North Front street, is home after a little visit in Philadelphia.

Mrs. George Etter and Miss Katherine Etter, of 209 Pine street, have returned after a visit in Baltimore.

Miss Miriam C. Cocklin, a student at the Miss Kirk's School, Bryn Mawr, has resumed her studies after a spring vacation stay with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Cocklin, of 124 Walnut street.

Mrs. Walter R. Sohn, of 1419 North Front street, and her cousin, Miss Dorothy Whitaker, of 1791 North Front street, who has been spending the spring recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey, has resumed her studies at Bryn Mawr College.

Dr. M. L. Ernst, of 10 North Fifteenth street, spent yesterday in New York City.

Miss Ruth Dowdell, of 1813 Whitehall street, is home from Swarthmore and Philadelphia, where she visited relatives and friends.

Miss Charlotte Crabbe, of 1931 Whitehall street, is home from Carlisle, where she was a guest at a fraternity dance.

George Jeffers, of the Regal Umbrella Company, was a Philadelphia visitor this week.

Miss Maryland Gouley has resumed her studies at Wilson College, Chambersburg, after a vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gouley, 395 Chestnut street.

Harry Kurtz in Service Training at Camp Meade

Harry R. Kurtz, of 1529 North Third street, is one of the first men to be called by the county draft board into military service. Mr. Kurtz is now at Camp Meade training for duty "over there."

He has just returned home after a visit with his parents, at Port Henry, New York, where he spent the Easter holidays prior to leaving for camp.

Miss Irene Freedman, who also visited in Port Henry during the Easter vacation returned to this city with Mr. Kurtz.

CITY'S MUSICAL PLANS GIVEN GREAT IMPETUS

[Continued from First Page.]

the plaza or the park, singing," said William Henderson, manager, hopeful tones "I will be happy. I would like to see dancing on the water front steps, too, all of course, under proper chaperonage. This would make Harrisburg joyful, relieve all boredom and be wholesome." She pledged the efforts of the Civic Club of which she is president, to help along community singing.

Many Support Movement The Wednesday Club, next to the splendid accompaniment of the kind in the United States, was ably represented by its president, Mrs. William L. Keller. There was no doubt of this society's being in sympathy with community singing, she said and the fine big audience applauded loudly.

One of the liveliest speeches of the Harrisburgers welcoming Dr. Freund and community singing, was made by Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, pastor of Pine Street Church, Dr. Mudge was evidently very much interested in this movement and the occasion appealed to him not as one for John Longest child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding his voice. He linked good singing with patriotism and the electric, galvanizing message brought to Harrisburg last night by John C. Freund, a big man of big vision, who called out suppressed emotions from representatives of the Civic Club, and the Civic Club, it may be said that Harrisburg hugged Dr. Freund to its bosom like a mother welcoming her long-lost child. He had the punch. He woke up everybody to the necessity of finding