SUGAR RATIONS ANNOUNCED TO CONSERVE SUPPLY

Manufacturers of Sweets to Have Limited Quantity For Their Products

If the sugar supply is to meet the heavy demand of the fruit-preserving season, conservation measures more stringent than before, must be applied to the daily consumption.

For this reason, grocers are forbidden to sell sugar in quantities greater than two to five pounds to town trade, or five to ten pounds, rural trade.

Effective May 15 The food administration will ration sugar to all manufacturers of foodstuffs using sugar, with the exception of those listed in a small preferred class.

Firms which started in business or expanded their plants after that date will be cut to 50 per cent. of their production after April 1, 1918.

Candy Hard Hit The candy and soft drink trades will be affected by the new regulations, but it is believed that in the manufacture of candy substitutes such as nuts, can be used without appreciably reducing quantity production.

Included with the confectionery and soft drinks in the rationing system are condiments, soda water, chocolate, candies, beverage syrups, flavoring extracts, chewing gum, cocoa, sweet pickles, wines, cereals and invert sugar.

Ice Cream Preferred Ice cream is put on the preferred list, it is announced, to assure consumption of surplus milk supplies.

BULLER OPPOSED TO USE OF NETS

Up-State Move to Permit Unrestricted Fishing Not Likely to Receive Much Support

State Fish Commissioner Buller is unalterably opposed to letting down the state fish laws in the interests of increasing the immediate supply of foodstuffs at the expense of the future.

As a sugar conservation measure the service in public eating places of sherberts and water ices and their commercial manufacture is strictly forbidden.

These rules will become effective May 15 and were adopted in order to secure a sufficient supply for home canners and the commercial manufacture of jams and other foodstuffs regarded as essential.

Producers of non-edible products will be forced to go entirely without sugar, as a survey of the stock on hand and that which will be available during the year has shown that careful conservation measures must be adopted.

Engineer Bribes Guard; Escapes From Chinese Bandits; $125,000 Gone

A Pacific Port, May 7.—After being captured by Chinese bandits, robbed of a fortune and hauled through the interior of China in a cage in which he was exhibited to the natives like a wild animal and from which he finally escaped by bribing a guard, E. J. Purcell, an American railway engineer, arrived at this port yesterday enroute to the Orient to look after his wife and three children who were in Peking during the time Purcell was held prisoner by the bandits. The engineer said he and G. A. Kyle, also an American engineer, left the village of Yen Chang, in the province of Honan, China, on March 2, on a surveying trip. They took with them a number of Chinese assistants, twenty soldiers, and carried seven large boxes of American currency totalling about $125,000.

On the fourth day out they were overpowered by bandits who took Purcell, put him in a cage and transported him 200 miles into the mountains subjecting him to all manner of humiliations and hardships, including that of being exhibited as a " freak." Kyle, he said, was taken in custody by another bandit band but was rescued by Chinese soldiers. Purcell bribed a guard and escaped, eventually reaching Peking. Efforts to recover the money failed, he said.

Lusitania Tragedy Stirs English Press on Anniversary Day

By Associated Press London, May 7.—The Lusitania anniversary is commemorated by the newspapers to-day with big captions and special articles recalling the crime which the British public is not likely to forget. The Daily Graphic, in an editorial, laments that the public apparently is becoming dulled to the horror of the Lusitania atrocity. It asks why there is not a commemorative procession this year as there was last year. If there is not, it asks, will its absence not be proof of the extent to which Germany's many crimes against humanity have deadened the world's sense of tenderness. "Germany has not changed since then," says the Daily Mail. "That is the important thing for all of us to remember. The 'repentant' Germany of which our pacifists prattle simply does not exist."

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
