

YANKEE HEROES, PERSHING'S MEN, IN U. S. HOSPITAL

Twenty-three Are Sick and Weary, but Anxious to Get Back

Philadelphia, May 8.—Grimly determined and anxious to get back, twenty-three of General Pershing's fighting men, all bearing evidence of their encounters with the Huns, passed through Philadelphia yesterday afternoon on the way to the Army Hospital at Lakewood.

"Yankee Devils" is the name applied by the Germans to the dauntless American warriors and battered heroes from "over there," offered mute testimony substantiating the reported wish of the Teutonic barbarians to be sent against any save American troops.

Two of the veterans are tem-

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Perfect Health Is Yours If the Blood Is Kept Pure

Almost Every Human Ailment Is Directly Traceable to Impurities in the Blood.

You cannot overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body, you can easily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications.

Any slight disorder or impurity that creeps into the blood is a source of danger, for every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the porarily deranged as a result of shock and gas poisoning and all are more or less incapacitated from these causes. Three have serious bayonet wounds, one a saber wound, another a shell wound in the back, and still another wears a silver plate in his head, which was laid open by a shell fragment.

The contingent is in charge of Lieutenant H. F. Sutton, of the United States Hospital, at Camp Stewart, Va. The intrepid band of unconquered Sammites originally numbered 200 wounded, but all save the twenty-three who passed through here have been quartered in hospitals in Washington and Baltimore.

Have Not Lost Spirit

Although sick and weary, the men have not lost their spirit and all fondly cherished the hope that opportunity will be afforded them to return to France to "get the Hun" that caused their withdrawal from active service. All bring a glorified and wonderful message to the people of the United States of honor and courage from the blood-stained trenches. To see these plucky boys, maimed by bayonet and cruelly torn by shell, and to listen to their most earnest recital of their experiences abroad, explains why the panic-stricken Potsdam clique see the handwriting on the wall.

A casual glance at Private Martin R. Tackberry, of Tampa, Fla., would identify him merely as an average American youth, unassuming and gentle. Tackberry was run through the left shoulder and brutally clubbed with a rifle.

"But I Got My Boche!"

"But I got my Boche—darn him," he said, with eyes ablaze, "with the bayonet sticking clean through my shoulder, I gave him five chambers of my automatic and blew his face away."

Edward Olson, a giant Swedish-American from New York, is eager to get back, although his body has been terribly battered in battle. There is a lump on his forehead, where the frontal bone was concaved by a shell fragment.

In the top of his head is a silver plate as big as an individual butter dish. He has a bullet wound in his left leg, and a bayonet wound in his right shoulder. He proudly exhibited the helmet, chevrons and boots of a German lieutenant whom he said, he killed in a hand-to-hand struggle.

"I got him," he said. "He was pumping his automatic at me, when I jumped and caught him around the neck. I knocked him down and stuck him."

"That was five days before I got mine. They ordered us over the top, and I was over in god shape when I was caught in the Germans' counter barrage. After the shells had ripped me up a big Boche stuck me with his bayonet."

Saved by Women

"The last thing I remember, a Red Cross woman and a Salvation Army girl were dragging me off to a field hospital. I would not be here now if it hadn't been for those brave women."

HEALTH DEPT. IS AWAY OVER TOP

Bond Subscriptions Made in Offices and at Sanitoria Are Over $70,000

A total of $70,850 in subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan has been reported from employees of the State Health Department, including the administration offices and the sanatoria, but not the rifle officers, covering more than 3,000 individuals, many of whom served on loan committees in their home communities.

The employees of the central office subscribed $16,550; the employees of the Mont Alto Sanatorium, $18,000, winning a "two star" flag; the Cresson Sanatorium, $16,450, and those at the Hamburg Sanatorium, $13,850. The employees of the Philadelphia office subscribed $4,150 and of the laboratory, $1,850.

A list of subscriptions on Capitol Hill is being made up and it is expected that it will go away over $100,000.

The placing of names of communities on the "Pennsylvania Honor Roll" in front of the Capitol will be started as soon as reports on all counties and municipal ties are received by Commissioner of Banking Lefean.

Must Comply

The State Highway department has announced that in making up the payments to counties for cash road tax bonus for second class townships it will adhere strictly to the requirements which include road construction, masonry, drainage work, headwalls, culverts and bridges, grading, siding or permanently improving dirt roads and similar work in accord with the rules of the Township Highway Bureau as provided by the act. The amounts are now being certified to the State Treasurer.

The department has just asked for bids for construction of roads in Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Franklin, Blair, Washington, Greene, Mercer, Clarion and McKean counties, aggregating over 100,000 feet. Thirty thousand feet will be built in Franklin county.

A Real Birthday

Many Capitol Hill people rang up James C. Deininger, executive clerk to Governor Brumbaugh yesterday, to ask if it was true that he had a birthday. Mr. Deininger is very modest, but everyone was so insistent that he had to admit it. He received many congratulations, but declined to give specifications on age.

Boards Busy

The state financial boards are busy this week, the fiscal officers having returned to the Capitol. Details of closing up Liberty Loan subscriptions are being handled.

Godcharles Sure

Frederic A. Godcharles, deputy secretary of the commonwealth, who had a "run in" yesterday with Senator Edwin H. Vare over his testimony in the Woodward senatorial nominating petition case, declined to make any comment about the talk he had with the senator except to say that Mr. Vare had abruptly terminated it. "What I said was the fact in the case and that I am content to stand. That's all. If I can always tell the truth the way I did in that case I am sure of the pearly gates," said he.

Many Hearings On

CITY IS TO BACK MEN WITH MONEY

calls for monetary aid that would be forthcoming—the drives for the sale of Liberty Bonds, Red Cross memberships, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and Jewish camp funds and recreation huts. Red Cross contributions and a score of minor reliefs—it was the opinion of many that the people would not respond.

"It can't be done!" a well known citizen said to me the latter part of May, 1917.

"But it has been done!" "Furthermore, the oftener these campaigns come along the easier it becomes to get the answer. That is easily explained. The people of Harrisburg are absolutely awake. The first Liberty Loan campaign was the hardest of the three. The third was the easiest. The fourth, to use the street boy's expression, will be 'a cinch'."

"But we really deserve little credit for what we have done in the Liberty Bond campaigns.

"Does a man deserve world-wide commendation for simply taking care of his own interests? In buying Liberty Bonds we put our money away for ourselves. We loaned it to the government, it is true—but we are the government.

Time to Measure Up

The second Red Cross campaign for $100,000,000 will give all the people of the United States a second opportunity to prove that they are willing to shoulder some of the burden of this war. Harrisburg is asked to give the National Red Cross not less than $150,000. My personal idea is that the total will be nearer $200,000.

"When we bought Liberty Bonds we aided the government in its war preparations. But when we give to the Red Cross we ourselves say to the men of Harrisburg and surrounding territory:

"You fellows are going across to fight for us; and we know it! We folks at home can't all follow you, although thousands of us will be with you after awhile. Some of us are too old, and some of us must pursue useful occupations, and some of us are physically unfit. But all of us on this side are with you over there—in spirit; and to prove that we are giving our money to the Red Cross. And, boys, every time—over there—that the insignia of the Red Cross just recall that the people back home are back of you, doing everything they can for you."

Announcement was made to-day that two of the half hundred Pershing veterans, who were sent home several weeks ago to talk for the Liberty Loan will be in Harrisburg to talk for the Red Cross.
