WOMAN STARVES SELF TO DEATH

Actions of Her Sweetheart Said to Have Caused Anna Klingler's Suicide

Selinsgrove, Pa., May 28.—Police of St. Petersburg, Fla., are probing the strange death of Miss Anna Klingler, aged 35, a Salem, Snyder county, woman, who died at the City Hospital at that place. Friends in St. Petersburg declared she started herself to death, because of the alleged pernicious actions of Ralph A. Chandler, her sweetheart. Police found his suitcase in her home, and in it were letters begging money and one note for $700 for money apparently loaned Chandler by the woman. In one letter he pleaded for $50 to save his from death and make their life happy. Miss Anna Klingler was of a prominent family. She fell in love with Chandler shortly after she went to St. Petersburg, and he was apparently devoted to her.

Photograph Which Cost Human Life in France

Body of Nurse Reaches Home as Volunteers GGO

Bloomburg, Pa., May 28.—A peculiar combination of circumstances marked the departure of volunteers from Bloomburg, who will go direct into service with General Pershing. The Bloomburg Band was at the station and as the train pulled in it struck up "The Star Spangled Banner." But as the train stopped friends lifted from the baggage car a coffin with the body of Miss Merly Phillips, a trained nurse, who died in the service of her country before reaching France. Quickly the coffin was draped with the American flag, the band stopped playing "The Star Spangled Banner" and softly played "America." Heads were bared and tears streamed from every eye as the bystanders marked the return of one heroine and the departure of heroes.

Carlisle Officer Sends Remarkable Picture From Battlefield of Verdun

Carlisle, Pa., May 28.—This photograph cost a human life, being one of the few extant which have done so. In addition it portrays real war and is distinctly unique in that it is probably the only photograph in existence that shows the actual explosion, with effects of concussion, of a lyddite shell used under actual battle conditions. Two British officers engaged in advance photographic work essayed to photograph the terrain in the actual battle front beside the Bois de Preire on the Verdun front. As a plate was about to be snapped a lyddite shell struck beside the photographer and his assistants. The explosion instantly killed the camera operator, but the camera, protected by his body, was imbedded in the ground. The jar tripped the camera curtain and exposed the negative while in the operator's hands. The assistant was blown back by the explosion and is shown on the lower edge of the picture. He was picked up later and carried to safety.

Six weeks afterward the imbedded camera was discovered and the exposed plate developed, with the result seen. The photograph was sent home by Lieutenant Stuart, of Carlisle, who is in the ambulance corps in France.

STORM CAUSES $50,000 LOSS

Lightning Fires Lime Plant and Dwelling on Brockerhoff Farm

Bellefonte, Pa., May 28.—One of the most destructive thunderstorms in years swept over this section about 10.30 Saturday evening, lightning striking and causing the total destruction by fire of the big rail and crushers plant of the American Lime and Stone Company, with a loss of approximately $50,000; the big farmhouse on the Brockerhoff farm east of town, occupied by Earl Cornan and family, who escaped in their night clothes with but little household furniture, and struck the American Union Telephone Company switchboard in the exchange in Temple Court, entailing a heavy loss there.

The alarm of fire in the midst of the severe storm quickly called out the fire department, but there was little the firemen could accomplish save extinguish the fire in Temple Court after the switchboard of the American Union Telephone exchange was badly damaged. Though the firemen worked all night long the American Lime and Stone Company mill was burned to the ground, as was the big farmhouse on the Brockerhoff farm. Practically no insurance was carried by the American Lime and Stone Company, while the loss on the

Man's Leg Broken by His Own Automobile

Run over by his own automobile, Samuel Nuss, of Berwick, is suffering from a broken leg and other injuries in the Berwick Hospital. Nuss, with several companions, was at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., returning, they ran out of gasoline and started to push the car up a hill and coast down the other side, so that they would have a shorter distance to walk for a new supply of fuel. Nuss slipped and fell in front of the machine and both wheels passed over his body.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this to-night, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
