WAR AID FUNDS $100 PER CAPITA

Contributions in Cumberland Reach Enormous Figures For Various Campaigns

Carlisle, Pa., May 31.—Organization and education are the methods which have resulted in the mobilization of the resources of Cumberland county for war service and caused this district to set records seldom equaled for the aid of every war project.

Just following a successful campaign in all sections in the interests of the Red Cross, the pledge campaign of the War Savings Committee will be resumed during the coming week with the view of securing pledges of $10 per capita for the entire 55,000 population.

Every band in this section will be ordered, meetings in the rural districts will be held at twilight in order not to interfere with the work of the farmers and the same plan will be followed in the various industrial centers.

Cumberland county, embracing the section generally placed in this class in the various campaigns, has contributed $2,500,000 to the three Liberty Loans.

George E. Lloyd, recently appointed assistant director, is at the head of the War Savings and Liberty Loan Committees; Eugene L. Martin, formerly of Philadelphia, has been made executive manager, and W. Z. Mahon, former postmaster and a State Capitol employe, is the Carlisle chairman.

Harrisburg Watch Given General March at Easton

Of all tributes and presents bestowed upon General Peyton Conway March at his home town of Easton, none, perhaps, gave him more pleasure than the one given him to-day by a delegation which included many Harrisburgers representing Rho Chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Greek fraternity. General March is a graduate of Lafayette College in the class of 1884 and a member of this fraternity, one, if not the oldest in America. The chapter wanted to give its most distinguished member something of value which would be really useful. The result was a wrist watch furnished by C. Ross Boas, jeweler and employed at 28 North Second street. Mr. Boas being a Delta Kappa Epsilon and thus all the more concerned in turning out something rare and beautiful.

The watch is a 14-karat, solid gold one, cushion shape, with gold dial and radium hands and numerals. It is mounted on heavy pigskin strap with special buckle bearing Army insignia. The watch is engraved on the back: "Gen'l Peyton C. March, Chief-of-Staff, U. S. A., from his Brothers of Rho Chapter, Delta Kappa Epsilon, May 31, 1918."

CHILDREN SING AT DAUPHIN Dauphin, Pa., May 31.—Memorial Day was observed by a program of music and speechmaking. The feature of the day was the singing of patriotic songs by the children. Mrs. Harry Miller and Miss Carrie Gerberich trained them to the work. Harvey Knupp's address was in keeping with the day. After the exercises in Market Square the honor flag was unfurled. "Old Glory" was drawn to its place by two young girls and the honor flag by two small boys. Community singing closed the exercises of the day.

DANVILLE FOOD PRICES FIXED

Retail Dealers and Consumers Organize to Prevent Injustice in Sale of Food

Danville, Pa., May 31.—Twenty retail merchants, together with E. D. Swank, borough food administrator, organized the Retail Food Dealers' Association of the United States Food Administration. It will act as a price-fixing board for all foods sold at retail in Danville. No article may be sold at a price other than that fixed by this board.

George B. Jacobs was chosen as chairman and Charles P. Murray, secretary. John H. Goesser will represent the wholesale dealers; Frank Russel and John P. Tooley, the retail dealers, and Edward Purpur and Harry Machamer, the consumers. According to Mr. Swank, once prices are fixed by the board no deviation will be tolerated, and the violation of the penalty will be heavy, nothing less than the offending dealer being shut out of business for the remainder of the war.

CAMP COLT MEN DISAPPOINTED

Battalion Moves Out on Trucks to Go "Overseas," and Then Returns to Quarters

Gettysburg, Pa., May 31.—Real excitement prevailed throughout Camp Colt and the town the other day when the 302d Battalion received orders to pack up and leave as soon as possible. The men ran hither and thither getting their belongings together and packed their kits strictly for overseas use, either giving away or selling for a song what they could not take along. They were then loaded on the big trucks and started with a rush for "An Atlantic Port," and the transport. After going several miles a stop was made and the trucks were turned around and the men returned to camp and told to unpack and set up their camp again. The sorrow of the wives of the men and others was turned to joy when it was found that they were not to leave. The only explanation given for the move was that it was "merely a problem in transportation" to see how quickly the men could get ready.
