

HOW AMERICAN BASEBALL OUPSET BY LOVE; CLARK BIGHTENS ALL LEAGUE TIE

SUMMIT WINS 17 STRAIGHT

"Mose" Swartz Arrives in Nick of Time Like Sheridan at Winchester

JUNIOR HILL LEAGUE
	W.	L.	P.C.
Summit	11	7	1.000
Swatara	11	7	.611
Albion	3	13	.187
Monarch	3	13	.187

Summit continued its miraculous string of victories yesterday by taking two from Swatara. In the third inning of the first game when "Mose" Swartz arrived he found Swatara in the lead, 5-6. "Mose" got busy right away, along with the rest of the team, and made five runs. That took the heart out of Swatara, and she could only score one more run. The Summits are trying their hardest to make a new record for the city of Harrisburg, a big class team to lose the season without one defeat. Tomorrow Swatara meets Albion. Yesterday's scores:

First Game
SWATARA
	AB.	R.	H.
Keller, rf.	4	0	0
Conner, lf.	4	0	0
Mickelwitz, cf.	4	1	2
Smith, 2b.	4	0	0
Mottet, ss.	4	0	0
Young, 2b.	3	2	2
Geohringer, 1b.	3	2	2
Matchett, c.	3	2	2
Nye, p.	3	2	2
Totals	31	9	15

Second Game
SUMMIT
	AB.	R.	H.
Snyder, c.	5	3	4
Swartz, p.	4	3	4
Slumberger, 1b.	4	1	2
Ehler, 1b, 2b.	4	2	1
Keller, lf.	4	1	2
Geohringer, 1b.	4	1	2
Walters, lf.	4	1	0
Hobbs, cf.	4	0	1
Lackey, cf.	4	0	1
Totals	37	12	18

Summit continued its miraculous string of victories yesterday by taking two from Swatara. In the third inning of the first game when "Mose" Swartz arrived he found Swatara in the lead, 5-6. "Mose" got busy right away, along with the rest of the team, and made five runs. That took the heart out of Swatara, and she could only score one more run. The Summits are trying their hardest to make a new record for the city of Harrisburg, a big class team to lose the season without one defeat. Tomorrow Swatara meets Albion. Yesterday's scores:

Third Game
SWATARA
	AB.	R.	H.
Keller, rf.	3	0	0
Conner, lf.	3	0	0
Mickelwitz, cf.	3	1	1
Smith, 2b.	3	1	2
Mottet, ss.	3	1	2
Young, 2b.	3	1	2
Geohringer, 1b.	3	1	0
Matchett, c.	3	1	0
Nye, p.	3	1	0
Totals	28	6	15

Fourth Game
SUMMIT
	AB.	R.	H.
Snyder, c.	4	1	3
Swartz, p.	4	1	3
Slumberger, 1b.	4	1	2
Ehler, 1b, 2b.	4	1	2
Keller, lf.	4	1	2
Geohringer, 1b.	4	1	2
Walters, lf.	4	1	0
Hobbs, cf.	4	1	0
Lackey, cf.	4	1	0
Totals	31	9	15

Fifth Game
SWATARA
	AB.	R.	H.
Keller, rf.	3	0	0
Conner, lf.	3	0	0
Mickelwitz, cf.	3	1	1
Smith, 2b.	3	1	2
Mottet, ss.	3	1	2
Young, 2b.	3	1	2
Geohringer, 1b.	3	1	0
Matchett, c.	3	1	0
Nye, p.	3	1	0
Totals	28	6	15

Russell H. Lindsay Wins Acting Ensign Appointment

Russell H. Lindsay, son of Prof. and Mrs. A. M. Lindsay, 1706 State street, will report to Washington tomorrow, for an assignment to the Battleship Maine, as an Acting Ensign in the United States Navy. Mr. Lindsay secured his appointment after a competitive examination, following the completion of his course at Lehigh University this Spring. He will report for engineering duty. His father, Prof. Lindsay, is a member of the faculty at the Technical High school.

Highway Construction

State Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil today awarded the contract for building a section of state highway route 276, lying between Lamb's Bridge Station and South Fork borough line, to the supervisors of Croyle township, Cambria county, at their low bid of $57,933.83. The section of road to be built is a portion of the historic Old Frankstown road. The project calls for the construction of 4,983 feet of brick pavement, sixteen feet wide.

Wild Enthusiasm

"Both for distinction and for enthusiasm the gathering was without precedent in baseball, or rather 'the ball game' as the more knowing among the spectators were careful to call it. Everybody appeared to realize that this was the kind of match that makes history. When we have pitched our respective sides to these ball games, the English King once to an enemy herald. An even larger meaning than Shakespeare's Henry gave to his sentence was attached to yesterday's match. It was symbolic and symbolic; for two peoples who have learnt to play together were not far from complete understanding.

At the epoch came a moment which, of all the wonderful moments that had characterized it, was the most wonderful. The game had been won for the Navy. The Navy in its own corner of the field had previously packed serried ranks of sailors to shout and demonstrate as soon as the last stroke was made. The crowd surged on to the field among them, in single file, their hands on one another's shoulders, like one huge snake, the sailors twined their hilarious path. The uproar was tremendous. Englishmen cheered, Americans yelled, and the meaning of this most significant of all ball games was carried along the air. There was more cheering afterwards, but cheering of a radically different kind. The crowd was attentive to consciousness that the afternoon had passed into the history of two great nations.

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

Snoodles

His Friend's Recommendation Sounded Pretty Fair to Him

Snoodles

Snoodles

Snoodles

Snoodles

Snoodles

CLARK'S CRASH CLEANS CUSHIONS

Timely Three-Bagger Wins For Hickies and Keeps the Leaders Handcuffed

LAST NIGHT'S RESULT
STANDING OF THE CLUBS
	W.	L.	P.C.
Reading	14	8	.636
Hick-A-Thrift	13	8	.615
Galahad	9	13	.409
Hick-A-Thrift	1	31	.243

Only when Reading and Rosewood meet Thursday and Friday nights will the Gordian Knot in the Allison Hill League be untied. The two leaders are again on an even footing, at the head of the procession with fourteen games won and eight lost. Each team has two more games to play, and these fall on Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

Reading had tripped Rosewood, Monday night, and had given Reading a lead that looked good enough for the pennant, along comes Hick-A-Thrift and repeats the trick with the railroaders, defeating them 5 to 2 last evening.

"Bobby" Clark was the lad who did the trick. It was his triple in the third, with the bases loaded, that virtually won the contest. He was thrown out at the plate in trying to stretch it into a homer. Clark pitched for the winning aggregation, and struck out seven men in the five innings that were played. The Reading-Galahad game only three bingles off his delivery. Darkness halted the game after five innings had been played. The reading summary:

THE READING
	AB.	R.	H.
Dunkle, lf.	3	0	1
McCurdy, 1b.	3	0	1
Shurtle, cf.	3	1	2
Shurtle, 2b.	3	0	2
Shurtle, 3b.	3	1	4
Shurtle, 1b.	3	1	4
Shurtle, c.	3	1	4
H. Swartz, p.	3	0	0
Fellows, p.	1	0	2
Totals	18	2	15

HICK-A-THRIFT
	AB.	R.	H.
Hinkle, ss.	3	2	0
Hoerner, 2b.	3	2	0
Clark, p.	3	1	0
Minnick, 3b.	3	0	2
Griffin, lf.	3	0	2
Shickley, 1b.	3	0	2
Oman, rf.	1	0	0
Foland, c.	2	0	1
Totals	21	5	14

Reading 0 0 2 0-2
Hick-A-Thrift 0 0 2 0-2
Two-base hit—Minnick. Three-base hit—Clark. Struck out—By Clark, 3. Base on balls—Off Clark, 3. Hit by pitcher—T. Euker. Stolen bases—G. Swartz, Griffin, T. Euker. Umpire—G. Shickley.

CONTRACT LET FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

State Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil today awarded the contract for building a section of state highway route 276, lying between Lamb's Bridge Station and South Fork borough line, to the supervisors of Croyle township, Cambria county, at their low bid of $57,933.83. The section of road to be built is a portion of the historic Old Frankstown road. The project calls for the construction of 4,983 feet of brick pavement, sixteen feet wide.

Wild Enthusiasm

"Both for distinction and for enthusiasm the gathering was without precedent in baseball, or rather 'the ball game' as the more knowing among the spectators were careful to call it. Everybody appeared to realize that this was the kind of match that makes history. When we have pitched our respective sides to these ball games, the English King once to an enemy herald. An even larger meaning than Shakespeare's Henry gave to his sentence was attached to yesterday's match. It was symbolic and symbolic; for two peoples who have learnt to play together were not far from complete understanding.

At the epoch came a moment which, of all the wonderful moments that had characterized it, was the most wonderful. The game had been won for the Navy. The Navy in its own corner of the field had previously packed serried ranks of sailors to shout and demonstrate as soon as the last stroke was made. The crowd surged on to the field among them, in single file, their hands on one another's shoulders, like one huge snake, the sailors twined their hilarious path. The uproar was tremendous. Englishmen cheered, Americans yelled, and the meaning of this most significant of all ball games was carried along the air. There was more cheering afterwards, but cheering of a radically different kind. The crowd was attentive to consciousness that the afternoon had passed into the history of two great nations.

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

LONDON TIMES TELLS OF YANKEE BASEBALL

That weighty, conservative newspaper, the London Times, known wherever English is spoken as "The Thunderer," devoted two of its very broad and valuable columns of a first page, to describing the introduction of baseball into John Bull's realm.

It is safe to say that a sporting story never occupied such a prominent place in this reserved publication, which has never given much of any kind to American news. The writer was evidently jammed full of enthusiasm, though somewhat dazed by the adventure. He says:

"The baseball match on the Chelsea Football Ground yesterday was an awakener for London. It was a revelation of America at play; and the afternoon was as strenuous as a pillow-fight in a boys' dormitory. It took us completely away to those distant times when we could rejoice under a blue sky without looking for Zeppelins and Gothas. The afternoon was crammed full of extraordinary moments. It passed in such a pandemonium that perhaps no one heard before on an English playing field; not even on a football ground. The United States seemed to be shouting in chorus, and Great Britain joined in, little breathes, but determined to make a good show of lung power. Never, moreover, was a football ground so arrayed. The rattling dingy surroundings were shut out by a square mile or two of flags, 'Old Glory' and the Union Jack predominating, but the rest of the Allies not being forgotten. The grand stand was gorgeously draped, and King and Queen went to their seats by a flowery way.

Queen Alexandra was the first of the Royal party to arrive and was accompanied by Princess Victoria, the Duchess of Devonshire, the Duchess of Fife, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll came shortly afterwards. The King and Queen arrived with Princess Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. Asquith and Miss Asquith, Admiral Sims, and Major-General Biddle were seated immediately behind the Queen and Princess Victoria, and the Duchess behind them. Lord and Lady Chesterfield, Lord and Lady Strathfield, Lord Farquhar, Lieutenant Colonel Clive Wigram, Major Reginald Seymour, Lord Herschell, the Duchess of Devonshire, and Sir Alfred and Lady Montagu. The Duke of Connaught arrived later with Prince Albert (in the uniform of the Royal Air Force). General Sir William Robertson and Lieutenant-General Sir Francis Lloyd were seated on either side of the Princess Louise, and farther along Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Lady Doreen Long, Lord Desborough, Mr. G. N. Barnes, M. P. and Lord Hardinge of Penshurst, while Captain Twining, of the U. S. Naval Staff, was seated on the right of Queen Alexandra.

Others present were the Duke and Duchess of Roxborough, Mrs. Lloyd George, Lord Richard and Lady Denny, the Canadian Major-General Sir William Furse, the Hon. Henry Stonor, the Hon. Lady Johnstone, and Major the Hon. Waldorf and Mrs. Astor.

"Both for distinction and for enthusiasm the gathering was without precedent in baseball, or rather 'the ball game' as the more knowing among the spectators were careful to call it. Everybody appeared to realize that this was the kind of match that makes history. When we have pitched our respective sides to these ball games, the English King once to an enemy herald. An even larger meaning than Shakespeare's Henry gave to his sentence was attached to yesterday's match. It was symbolic and symbolic; for two peoples who have learnt to play together were not far from complete understanding.

At the epoch came a moment which, of all the wonderful moments that had characterized it, was the most wonderful. The game had been won for the Navy. The Navy in its own corner of the field had previously packed serried ranks of sailors to shout and demonstrate as soon as the last stroke was made. The crowd surged on to the field among them, in single file, their hands on one another's shoulders, like one huge snake, the sailors twined their hilarious path. The uproar was tremendous. Englishmen cheered, Americans yelled, and the meaning of this most significant of all ball games was carried along the air. There was more cheering afterwards, but cheering of a radically different kind. The crowd was attentive to consciousness that the afternoon had passed into the history of two great nations.

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

"The 'rooters' in his scarlet coat was in the crowd. Somebody wondered 'what he thought of it all.' Somebody else said amusingly: 'I wonder what the Kaiser would think of it all if he could be here.' It cannot be denied that, superficially, the two great nations were just making an afternoon of it. The 'rooters' for

AROUND THE BASES

Steve Yerkes, the veteran phenom who is nursing a sprained ankle, meanwhile giving a Stutz a chance to star at second. "I see by papers," said Steve, who has plenty of time to read now and then for the hidden trick he fell for the hidden home on Dumont's drive into the crowd, counting for the Quince is the only guy in Germany this time the Kaiser, that these Huns need to man an human baseball. Kidding? They don't know what it means."

T. Bradlee Fenno, swimming enthusiast of the Boston Y. M. C. A. says: Swimming should be taught children at the earliest age possible in all public schools and swimming baths. The younger a child who learns to swim the more efficient he is and the less danger from drowning should occur at all ages. He believes policemen should know everything possible about first aid and life saving.

Tris Speaker, the world's greatest outfielder, will enter the service of his country before the year is over, it is made preliminary arrangements to become a naval aviator by obtaining an application blank.

Fred Fulton has begun training for his eight-round bout at Harrison, N.J., with Jack Dempsey, Saturday afternoon, July 27. The big gladiator is training at "Billy" Grupp's gymnasium in New York with Bartley Madden and Harry Williams, boxing partners. Dempsey will start light work tomorrow at Long Branch, N. J.

Professor Charles Kelchner, in charge of athletics at Albright College, Myerstown, and for many years a scout for major league ball teams, has been named as the manager of an amateur team in the Bethlehem Steel League. For the last several seasons Kelchner has been a scout for the Nationals, but when offered the Lebanon berth he had Branch Rickey ready to offer him a major league berth. Kelchner apparently sees major league ball as a better offer than a scout's job. It is reported that he has lined up a hand territory of the big league stars who are affected by the secretary Baker's "work or fight" ruling.

Failure to agree on a decision by the umpires came near causing a riot in the game lost by Bethlehem to Wilmington on Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The result

MARINES FIGHT FROM KOLA BAY TO MARNE FRONT

Oppose Huns Through All Wars; Are Winning Laurels as in the Past

"The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand! From the far-off port of Kola, one of Russia's gateways on the shores of the Arctic ocean, there flashes assurance to America and her Allies that the United States Marines are on the job; that where help was needed, all is now well.

Suddenly, out of the whirling fog of rumors, statesmanship, intrigues, diplomats and revolutions, there developed a critical situation. The port of Kola, in the Russian province of Archangel, developed almost overnight into a position of supreme strategic value. And it was in grave danger. Associated Press dispatches stated:

"At Kola and for miles inland along the railroad there are acres of military supplies running all the way from locomotives and cannon to clothing and provisions, scattered over the country. Most of these were shipped from America and England when the Russian armies were still fighting the Germans. It is known the Germans have been anxious to obtain these supplies or, if they could not do so directly, to have them taken over by the Finnish White Guards, who have been acting under German prompting. The Allies have realized the danger and determined to save these stores for a rehabilitated Russian army which could be depended upon to fight the Germans.

"At this territory is regarded by the Allies and by the United States as within the sphere of control of General Foch in his capacity as commander-in-chief, it has been deemed proper to give the occupying force an international character. Therefore, American marines and bluejackets are mingled with the French and British naval forces at Kola."

Mifflin County Soldiers Killed or Wounded in War

Lewisport, Pa., July 24.—Mifflin county soldiers have been killed or wounded in the war, as follows: Lieutenant E. W. F. Childs, United States Navy, lost in European waters in British submarine with crew. Seaman David C. Miller lost from deck of United States battleship Texas during a storm. Sergeant James Clair Wertz killed in France while leading patrol in face of fierce fire. Private Harper received fatal wounds in a western training camp. George Krepps, fatally wounded in a western camp by accidental discharge of gun. Sergeant C. C. Knepp, killed in action on western front. Michael Mattinger, injured in hand by piece of shell in France. Private Frye, of Decatur, wounded in western front.

AROUND THE BASES

Steve Yerkes, the veteran phenom who is nursing a sprained ankle, meanwhile giving a Stutz a chance to star at second. "I see by papers," said Steve, who has plenty of time to read now and then for the hidden trick he fell for the hidden home on Dumont's drive into the crowd, counting for the Quince is the only guy in Germany this time the Kaiser, that these Huns need to man an human baseball. Kidding? They don't know what it means."

T. Bradlee Fenno, swimming enthusiast of the Boston Y. M. C. A. says: Swimming should be taught children at the earliest age possible in all public schools and swimming baths. The younger a child who learns to swim the more efficient he is and the less danger from drowning should occur at all ages. He believes policemen should know everything possible about first aid and life saving.

Tris Speaker, the world's greatest outfielder, will enter the service of his country before the year is over, it is made preliminary arrangements to become a naval aviator by obtaining an application blank.

Fred Fulton has begun training for his eight-round bout at Harrison, N.J., with Jack Dempsey, Saturday afternoon, July 27. The big gladiator is training at "Billy" Grupp's gymnasium in New York with Bartley Madden and Harry Williams, boxing partners. Dempsey will start light work tomorrow at Long Branch, N. J.

Professor Charles Kelchner, in charge of athletics at Albright College, Myerstown, and for many years a scout for major league ball teams, has been named as the manager of an amateur team in the Bethlehem Steel League. For the last several seasons Kelchner has been a scout for the Nationals, but when offered the Lebanon berth he had Branch Rickey ready to offer him a major league berth. Kelchner apparently sees major league ball as a better offer than a scout's job. It is reported that he has lined up a hand territory of the big league stars who are affected by the secretary Baker's "work or fight" ruling.

Failure to agree on a decision by the umpires came near causing a riot in the game lost by Bethlehem to Wilmington on Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The result

MARINES FIGHT FROM KOLA BAY TO MARNE FRONT

Oppose Huns Through All Wars; Are Winning Laurels as in the Past

"The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand! From the far-off port of Kola, one of Russia's gateways on the shores of the Arctic ocean, there flashes assurance to America and her Allies that the United States Marines are on the job; that where help was needed, all is now well.

Suddenly, out of the whirling fog of rumors, statesmanship, intrigues, diplomats and revolutions, there developed a critical situation. The port of Kola, in the Russian province of Archangel, developed almost overnight into a position of supreme strategic value. And it was in grave danger. Associated Press dispatches stated:

"At Kola and for miles inland along the railroad there are acres of military supplies running all the way from locomotives and cannon to clothing and provisions, scattered over the country. Most of these were shipped from America and England when the Russian armies were still fighting the Germans. It is known the Germans have been anxious to obtain these supplies or, if they could not do so directly, to have them taken over by the Finnish White Guards, who have been acting under German prompting. The Allies have realized the danger and determined to save these stores for a rehabilitated Russian army which could be depended upon to fight the Germans.

"At this territory is regarded by the Allies and by the United States as within the sphere of control of General Foch in his capacity as commander-in-chief, it has been deemed proper to give the occupying force an international character. Therefore, American marines and bluejackets are mingled with the French and British naval forces at Kola."

Mifflin County Soldiers Killed or Wounded in War

Lewisport, Pa., July 24.—Mifflin county soldiers have been killed or wounded in the war, as follows: Lieutenant E. W. F. Childs, United States Navy, lost in European waters in British submarine with crew. Seaman David C. Miller lost from deck of United States battleship Texas during a storm. Sergeant James Clair Wertz killed in France while leading patrol in face of fierce fire. Private Harper received fatal wounds in a western training camp. George Krepps, fatally wounded in a western camp by accidental discharge of gun. Sergeant C. C. Knepp, killed in action on western front. Michael Mattinger, injured in hand by piece of shell in France. Private Frye, of Decatur, wounded in western front.

AROUND THE BASES

Steve Yerkes, the veteran phenom who is nursing a sprained ankle, meanwhile giving a Stutz a chance to star at second. "I see by papers," said Steve, who has plenty of time to read now and then for the hidden trick he fell for the hidden home on Dumont's drive into the crowd, counting for the Quince is the only guy in Germany this time the Kaiser, that these Huns need to man an human baseball. Kidding? They don't know what it means."

T. Bradlee Fenno, swimming enthusiast of the Boston Y. M. C. A. says: Swimming should be taught children at the earliest age possible in all public schools and swimming baths. The younger a child who learns to swim the more efficient he is and the less danger from drowning should occur at all ages. He believes policemen should know everything possible about first aid and life saving.

Tris Speaker, the world's greatest outfielder, will enter the service of his country before the year is over, it is made preliminary arrangements to become a naval aviator by obtaining an application blank.

Fred Fulton has begun training for his eight-round bout at Harrison, N.J., with Jack Dempsey, Saturday afternoon, July 27. The big gladiator is training at "Billy" Grupp's gymnasium in New York with Bartley Madden and Harry Williams, boxing partners. Dempsey will start light work tomorrow at Long Branch, N. J.

Professor Charles Kelchner, in charge of athletics at Albright College, Myerstown, and for many years a scout for major league ball teams, has been named as the manager of an amateur team in the Bethlehem Steel League. For the last several seasons Kelchner has been a scout for the Nationals, but when offered the Lebanon berth he had Branch Rickey ready to offer him a major league berth. Kelchner apparently sees major league ball as a better offer than a scout's job. It is reported that he has lined up a hand territory of the big league stars who are affected by the secretary Baker's "work or fight" ruling.

Failure to agree on a decision by the umpires came near causing a riot in the game lost by Bethlehem to Wilmington on Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The result

MARINES FIGHT FROM KOLA BAY TO MARNE FRONT

Oppose Huns Through All Wars; Are Winning Laurels as in the Past

"The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand! From the far-off port of Kola, one of Russia's gateways on the shores of the Arctic ocean, there flashes assurance to America and her Allies that the United States Marines are on the job; that where help was needed, all is now well.

Suddenly, out of the whirling fog of rumors, statesmanship, intrigues, diplomats and revolutions, there developed a critical situation. The port of Kola, in the Russian province of Archangel, developed almost overnight into a position of supreme strategic value. And it was in grave danger. Associated Press dispatches stated:

"At K