Young Fruit Farmer Serving on Foreign Soil

JOHN H. YOUNG

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Young, 1619 Berryhill street, have been notified of the safe arrival of their son, John H. Young, "over there."

The young man's home was in Hotchkiss, Colo., where he had leased a fruit farm. He was drafted and when assigned to his camp was forced to leave a large orchard of apples with no one to take care of them.

The whole crop totaled a loss of over 200 bushels. This is another little bit of evidence of the sacrifice one must bear in order to "lick the Kaiser." Before sailing he was stationed at Camp Funston, Kans.

This is the first time since the late situation has become acute that help has been freely given of all of the men and women who put through the "no wheat" campaign, which helped us to provide for the necessities of the war in a spirit of democracy.

"I have confidence that the same spirit will enable us to build up the great reserve of wheat and other foodstuffs and to provide the future crop failure and to assist the allied nations in putting through the great offensive that must win the war."

Harrisburg Boy Killed Fighting With Keystone Division at the Front

HARRY F. WALTZ

Another Harrisburg lad, the second of the 28th or Keystone Division, has fallen a victim on the field of action while fighting with the American forces.

This time it is Harry Franklin Waltz, 21, formerly of 501 Hamilton street, who has made the supreme sacrifice. He died July 15, the day on which the big but unsuccessful German offensive started.

Waltz was serving with Company I, of the 112th United States Infantry.

Prominent as an athlete, "Peanuts" Waltz was employed by John L. Kuhn, of the State Printery, when war was declared on Germany.

Enlisting in September, 1917, with Company I, of the old Eighth Pennsylvania National Guard, he soon went to Camp Hancock, Ga., when the National Guard was reorganized, he was transferred to the Headquarters Company of the 112th.

Company E of the same regiment, Waltz left for France and reached there only several weeks ago. But a single letter had been received from him by his relatives before the receipt last evening of the official notice of his death from Adjutant General Mott.

Waltz was well known as an athlete in Harrisburg, playing both football and baseball. He was a member of the Tarsus A. C. and other gridiron teams. He also played baseball with the old Susquehanna A. C., the Stanley A. C., with the Enola Highway team, and other amateur and semi-professional teams of this city.

The dead soldier is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marie Waltz, 501 Hamilton street, six brothers, and two sisters. They include Solomon A. Waltz, Oscar Waltz, Herman Waltz and Charles Waltz, of Harrisburg; Roy Waltz, serving with the National Army at Camp Lee, Va.; Earl Waltz, of Enola, and Mrs. Sadie Wilson and Mrs. Mazie Sharr, of Harrisburg.

HOOVER EASES UPON WHEAT SAVING AUG. 1

Public Eating Places to Be Allowed to Use Cereal

Washington, July 29.—Proprietors of hotels, restaurants and dining car services throughout the country, who voluntarily agreed to use no wheat until the present harvest, will be released from their pledges on August 1, according to a cablegram received by the food administration yesterday from Herbert C. Hoover.

Under Mr. Hoover's new arrangement the public eating places may offer wheat products in much the same manner as formerly, but they will be required to continue to comply with the food administration regulations and serve "Victory bread."

While exact figures are not obtainable, it is estimated that the hotels, restaurants and dining cars of the country will have saved from October 1 last to August 1 between 175,000 and 200,000 pounds of wheat and its products.

About 5,000 hotel proprietors gave the wheatless pledge and nearly 200,000 restaurants and cafe owners cut down on flour as much as their business would permit.

It also is estimated that the meat saving of public eating places for a similar period amounted to 150,000, 000 pounds and the conservation of sugar approached 50,000,000 pounds.

The ban on meat is expected to be made stringent shortly, but the serious sugar shortage faced by the country for the next six months will require the eating places to hold their consumption of this staple to two pounds for every ninety meals served.

In his message Mr. Hoover congratulates the hotel proprietors and their patriotic example they set and thank them for the large savings made. The echo of the service has been heard in Europe and has pointed the way to democracy.

"I have confidence that the same spirit will enable us to build up the great reserve of wheat and other foodstuffs and to provide the future crop failure and to assist the allied nations in putting through the great offensive that must win the war."
