

OVATION GIVEN 156 MEN OFF TO CAMP

burg, and to-morrow morning will awake to the tones of the reveille. Beginning at 10.30, the men from the Paxtang and three city boards began to assemble at the offices, and a little after 11 were ready to march to the station. As usual, there was no formal celebration, but enough of the embryo soldiers were accompanied by a party of relatives and friends that the procession to the station was paraded enough to attract the attention of bystanders. As has marked the departing months, there was little sign of emotion, and little visible sorrow as the quotas marched to the station and took their places on the troop train. Farewells were silently spoken between husband and wife, mother and son, and sweethearts. The lack of visible emotion, however, did not minimize the magnitude of the sacrifice each man was making as he left home and friends for army life, or the sacrifice each loved one was making as he stood on the station platform and watched the train pull out of sight. Among the departing men were the youths of the 1918 class, the first of their registration to make up a part of a regular quota from here. These men took their places among the older registrants with as much courage and fortitude as veterans. Many a silently weeping mother attested the fact that a large percentage of these youths were being taken from a home from which they had never gone before. The quotas were:

"THAT EGGY TASTE IS GONE" HE SAYS

Appetite Has Come Back and He Feels Better in Every Way Says Ben Strow "I don't know just what my trouble was, but I know I felt all in," says Benjamin F. Strow, a temperer at the Bethlehem plant, who lives at 315 North Thirteenth street, Harrisburg, Pa. "I had no appetite, I didn't want to eat, and I always had a nasty sort of an eggy taste in my mouth. "I'd heard a lot of the men around in the shop talking about Tanlac, so thinks I, I'll try it, maybe it will fix me up; and, sure enough, it did. Just fixed me right up in no time at all. "Now that eggy taste is all gone, my mouth feels clean and my appetite has come back strong. I have gained four pounds already and still going. I've got plenty of energy now and I go at my work with a vigor that makes things hum. Tanlac is the boy to put you on your feet." Tanlac is now being introduced here by George Gorgas.

WAR HITS STATE SCHOLSHOUSES

Smaller Programs For Building Reported to the State Board of Education

Plans for new school buildings and reconstruction of schools submitted to the State Board of Education for approval under the school code in the year ending with July 1 represented a value of $3,881,910.79, but there were many plans abandoned because of cost and if it is estimated at the offices of the Board that "the total expenditure for the year is less than that of the preceding period due to the increased cost of material and the scarcity of labor." Figures on file at the offices of the Board show that from January, 1916, to January of last year cost of materials used for school construction advanced fifteen to thirty-five per cent, while recent investigations have shown state officers that in many districts where there are urgent needs for school buildings, construction is now costing from forty to seventy-five per cent more than it did two years ago, while the cost of the materials for ventilating systems has doubled. In order to relieve the congested condition some school boards are using portable or temporary structures which state inspectors report, will at the end of the year find the district without funds or building. Others are using more durable temporary structures and go meet the emergency the State Board has prepared a standard plan which will provide for a substantial building with wall, roof and other parts made of substitutions which can be replaced by standard construction some years later. Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the State Board of Education, says that in the year 1917 has been reported, the largest being the junior high school in this city, which will cost over $400,000, while from standard plans prepared by the state there are 1000 schools undertaken 27 one-room, 15 two-room, 2 three-room and 9 four-room buildings. Mr. Shirk Dead-J. C. M. Shirk, architect of the University and other state hospitals, is dead at his home in Philadelphia. He was well known here. Interest in Rates—The announcement that the compensation insurance rates may be covered during the coming year has caused much discussion in the state and numerous inquiries are coming here. Up to 10,000—The number of volunteer state policemen named under the act of 1917 has gone over 10,000. There are signs that as many more will be named. Mover to Preside—Gabriel H. Moyer, of the Auditor's General's department, will preside at the state convention of the P. O. S. of A. at Lebanon this week. A number of Capitol Hill people will attend. Aliens Have Dogs—One of the surprises which officers of the State Game Commission have run up against in the past week was that over 1,000 dog licenses had been issued by Schuylkill county authorities to aliens. Under the state laws aliens are not allowed to keep dogs. Two Superintendents—John H. Neumeyer, of Easton, has been named superintendent of State Volunteer Police for Northampton county, and Captain John H. Gerbig, of Chambersburg, for Franklin county. The appointments have been announced in their home cities, nothing having been said about it at the Governor's office. A. James was to-day named Justice of the peace for Warwick township, Chester county. Increase 860 Per Cent.—Lansdowne borough, Delaware county, today entered complaint before the Public Service Commission against the new fire hydrant charges of the Springfield Consolidated Water Company, alleging that because of the pipe line charges there has been an increase of 860 per cent. The hydrant rental was decreased from $555 to $259, but it is charged that the pipe line charges added are $73.39. Complaint was also made by citizens of Atglen against the "readiness to serve" charge of the Parkersburg Gas Company. To Answer Soon—Information was given to the Public Service Commission to-day that the answer of the Harrisburg Light and Power Company to the complaints against its new steam rates would be filed in a day or two. Inspecting Roads—Highway Commissioner O'Neil is inspecting road work in Western Pennsylvania today. Attended Meeting—Adjutant General Beary attended the Republican meeting at Neff's on Saturday.
