All who are profoundly thankful for the bountiful provision for our needs that God has made, have been invited to worship.

The Sunday school and Men's Class will hold their last morning sessions. On Monday evening the Boy Scouts will be directed by C. A. Seifert, who will succeed Mr. Samuel, assistant scoutmaster. The Ladies Aid Society will begin work on Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Blattenberg.

The pastor will conduct the mid-week service, after which the Teachers' Association will meet. The Teachers' Training Class directed by Miss Brown will meet at 7 o'clock and the W. H. and F. Missionary Society will hold the monthly meeting at 8 o'clock on Wednesday.

Homer Rodenhaver, formerly choir leader for Billy Sunday, the evangelist, is now a leader in the greatest of all tabernacles—the world war. Rodenhaver recently enlisted as a T. M. C. SOLDIER SINGER AT STEVENS M. E.

Noted Vocalist Will Be Tomorrow Night's Program at Stevens Memorial

Corporal Humphrey J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, the well-known soldier singer is to appear on the program to-morrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Stevens Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Thirteenth and Vernon streets. The highest paid church singer in America, Leon Rice, New York tenor, has been offered $100 a Sunday to sing in a church in Texas. The Musical Courier says of the offer: Such a proposition as this is not made without a reason is found in the fact that Mr. Rice in this church a few years ago under a most unusual contract. He received what was at that time one of the larger salaries in America on a contract that his singing should attract a capacity audience at each service—the church seat 1,500 persons. Mr. Rice's singing proved so popular that it was not an infrequent occurrence to find hundreds unable to secure even standing room. At the conclusion of his contract Mr. Rice was induced to remain four months longer—until he went abroad for further study. Since that time the officials have been endeavoring to secure him for another engagement, hence the offer of $100 a Sunday.

Girls Learning Automobile Repairing To Take Place of Men if Necessary

That the ladies are fast taking their places at any old thing the men used to do is evidenced by the number of them that are taking to Automobile repairing at Mac's new garage on South Third street.

A. G. McMullen, the proprietor of Mac's garage is an aggressive automobile man and believes in being one step ahead of the other fellow. In equipping his establishment, he is considered labor savers and tend to better work, that was recommended by the Ford Motor Car Co. of Detroit. He has one of the most up-to-date repair shops for Ford cars in Central Pennsylvania and according to the Editor of Motor Age it is the best in the East.

Seeing the shortage of labor that is inevitable, due to the fact that the government requires so many skilled mechanics, Mac has secured the help of several girls and is teaching them the fine points of the automobile game. In this movement he is a pioneer. All over the country shops are closing down because they can not get the labor. Not so with Mac, for in an interview this morning he says:

"I have studied this situation over carefully and have come to the conclusion that girls can make almost as good mechanics as the men. If most the men are called for war service, I'm not going to close my shop, but will put the girls to work. That is why I am training them now. It is a known fact that cars are necessary to maintain the business of a community and to back up the military in this big war. They must be repaired and it is up to some of us to be prepared to render quick and efficient service. Hence, if I can't get the men I'll train the girls and keep the wheels of the motor car industry moving."

ferred classification if he had chosen to await the call of the draft, but last summer he determined it was his duty to go to France and he enlisted in the Marines, despite the fact that only a short time previous he had added to his duties as manager of the Lantz Christmas Savings Club by opening a new place of business in North Second street, known as the Gift Shop. He left his business in the care of other members of his family and did not become home since he went into the service. He was a fine type of young manhood and had a bright future. In addition to the Rotary Club he was a member of Robert Burns Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons; Harrisburg Consistory, and the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce. Yesterday his fellow Rotarians sent him a message of encouragement and a box of flowers. They did not reach him until after his death. His will be the first gold star on the Rotary service flag.
