School Children Follow Airplanes Several Miles

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—When the government airplanes flew over Mechanicsburg on Friday their advent created great excitement among the school children, especially those of the primary grades. The appearance of the planes in the afternoon, flying toward Harrisburg, caused many of the teachers to give permission for the children to go out of doors for a better view. So fascinated were some in the lower grades that they started in hot pursuit, hoping to see the planes close up. A number actually continued in the pursuit until they arrived at Camp Hill and viewed the wonders of the air at close range. It is said that some of the kiddies were picked up by teams and automobiles and carried to their destination. Other not so fortunate walked and some dropped out at Shiremanstown. One boy being asked whether he walked all the way, one little 7-year-old boy piped up and replied, "Oh, no, I didn't walk. I runned."

TWO HUNDRED CASES OF SPANISH INFLUENZA AT CAMP COLT HOSPITAL

Eighteen Deaths Occur Among Soldiers at Gettysburg During Week; New Medical Supplies and Materials Furnished by Field Director of Red Cross

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—Spanish influenza has held upon Camp Colt and the men are suffering from the disease. Almost two hundred cases have been reported to the camp hospital, but as only the most severe cases are going there it is not known just how many cases of a mild form may be scattered throughout the camp. Although the hospital was considered to have been sufficiently equipped for all practical purposes, the influx of patients has been so great during the past week that the various medical supplies were about exhausted until a truckload of additional equipment was brought in through the efforts of the field director of the Red Cross. For the past several days the women of the local chapter of the Red Cross have been busy at the workshop preparing supplies and materials for the relief of the patients. Some 37 men and women have gone out throughout the town for contributions of muslin and linen that can be used for necessary things at the hospital. Every precaution is being taken by the camp authorities to prevent the spread of the disease, and this will doubtless have its effect. Men not showing any symptoms of the disease are permitted to come to town, but they are prevented from congregating in numbers at any one place, even to stand in large groups on the streets. Military police have been stationed at the entrances of various public places and during the evenings when most of the men are in town, but three of them are allowed in any one place of business at the same time. Yesterday, however, guards were placed at all the churches and the men were not allowed to attend services at all. With all the precautions the grim reaper is claiming his victims, eighteen deaths having occurred during the week, almost every day seeing that the number of deaths is increasing in establishments in town. No civilian cases have yet been reported.

Advertisement for Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. Text: 'An Announcement About the Shortage of Clicquot Club GINGER ALE. BECAUSE of war-time necessity, our sugar supply has been greatly restricted. We are indeed glad that our soldiers and sailors, our people in their homes, and our allies abroad are going to have this sugar. We are content to wait till it is reasonable that we should have the sugar we need to make Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. A beverage can be sweetened with something besides sugar, but our scientists have not yet found a sugar substitute which we are willing to use in Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. The absolute purity of this product means so much that we prefer to have the rapid growth of our sales retarded temporarily rather than to permit Clicquot Club Ginger Ale to deteriorate in quality. One of the things we are most anxious to do is to preserve without change the taste of Clicquot Club, which is exactly the taste a good ginger ale should have. Remember, whether you can get your whole supply or not, your grocer is doing the best he can for you, even if he cannot always get a full supply of your favorite brand. The Clicquot Club Company, Millis, Mass.'
