

PEACE HAS NO BEARING ON NEEDS OF SOLDIERS WHO REMAIN IN FRANCE

Raising of Big War Fund Vitrally Necessary if American Men Are to Have Comforts While Serving Nation

"Peace or No Peace," the $170,000 sought by the United War Work Campaign must be raised during the big campaign which starts Monday.

This is the message from district headquarters officials in this city on the eve of the opening of the great drive.

"The Sixth Pennsylvania District should act its quota of $300,000 by thirty to fifty per cent," declared E. J. Stackpole, chairman of the district-to-day, discussing the needs of the seven allied organizations even though peace be declared.

"We must take care of our men overseas until they come down the gangplank," Mr. Stackpole pointed out. "Don't let anyone tell you that the work of the seven organizations in the big United War Work Campaign will be over when the war ends. At that very moment their greatest value comes. When the strain of the heat of battle ends will come reaction, and that is when the entertainment and diversion supplied by the seven welfare organizations. Then if ever, he will need movies, ball games, concerts, track meets and similar recreative agencies to keep him the kind of man his mother wants him to be when he comes back to the hearthstone."

Peace Has No Bearing "It will take months to bring back our army from France even after the peace articles are signed," Mr. Stackpole went on. "Plans for the work of the seven welfare bodies during the period of demobilization have been carefully mapped out and it will take millions to finance those plans.

"The nearer peace comes, the more we must give here at home," he declared in conclusion. Mr. Stackpole explained that part of the plans for the army after the war ends is a "university khaki" in France. The fighting men will be enabled to make profitable use of their time by fitting themselves for big jobs when they get back to civil life. Textbooks, lectures and classrooms must be provided to help them prepare for advancement after they get back to their states. The country's greatest educators are already in uniform ready for this stupendous job.

Officials of the district organization declared that in every county of the district the campaign machine is well oiled and ready to get off with lightning speed on Monday in every city, town, village and township the workers are on their toes, and already the campaign among wealthier contributors and in industrial plants has borne fruit largely.

"Peace or No Peace—Give the Limit," is the word from the district chairman to every man, woman and child in the ten counties of Central Pennsylvania.

U. S. COMMAND IN WORLD TRADE

Ernest Trigg Delivers Strong Address on Future of Nation at Carlisle

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 9.—"The United States will come into a commanding position in world affairs, but for the continued advancement of the nation, the best thought of every trade and civic organization should be given to addressing the war branches of the government which will probably continue to function after peace is made." This was the gist of an address on "The Future of the Nation," delivered by Ernest Trigg, of Philadelphia, at a luncheon of the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday, the first since the raising of the influenza quarantine.

It was announced at the gathering by President Lee that the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce would arrange for a ratification meeting as soon as an armistice was signed. The attendance was large. Another meeting will be held on November 31, when E. J. Cattell, of Philadelphia, will speak.

Mr. Trigg, who is president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, regional adviser of the Fourth Zone of the War Industries Board, and a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, delivered an interesting address, in which he touched upon the principal features of re-adjustment after the war. Continued ship building activity for at least five years, a gradual let down of war manufacturing and reversion to peace time standards, stretching out of the United States into world commerce and industry, were among the things predicted. The return of the fighting men will have a big influence on the future growth of the nation, he further declared. The men will come back with an international rather than a national vision.

Building will be resumed after the war, water power resources developed and many sweeping changes be made.

New Minister Starts Work at Mechanicsburg Church

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—The Rev. J. A. Gohn, recently appointed pastor of the First United Brethren Church, who came here from York Haven, will deliver his first sermon to-morrow owing to the influenza ban, which closed the churches shortly after his arrival here.

Following seven pastoral work at Baltimore, Md., six of which were spent at the Fulton Avenue Church and one at the Second United Brethren Church, the Rev. Mr. Gohn moved to York, Pa., upon receiving an unanimous call by the board of that church, and served that congregation four years. Owing to the ill-health of Mrs. Gohn at that time, he resigned his work there for a smaller place and went to York Haven. Fully recovered, he and his wife, led the Rev. Mr. Gohn to take up work again in a larger congregation, and he accepted the Mechanicsburg charge.

Mrs. Gohn is exceptionally active in church work. She was the junior superintendent in the Pennsylvania conference for a period of eleven years at the present time is an officer of the Woman's Missionary Association in the conference, giving frequent addresses. She is on the program for an address on November 17, at Shiremanstown, and is greatly in demand by the conference for special work, of which missions is chief.

The Rev. Mr. Gohn was graduated from Westville Academy, Toledo, Ohio, and the Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. His son, the Rev. C. C. Gohn, pastor of the First United Brethren Church, at Indianapolis, Ind., expects to leave soon for France on a special mission for the Y. M. C. A.

FREAK APPLE FOUND Waynesboro, Pa., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Sarah S. Newcomer, Smithburg, Md., has grown an apple that is an unusual freak. The apple is of the York Empire variety, and weighs 10 1/2 pounds. The apple is a dark red with lines as distinct as if drawn, while the other three-fourths of the surface is colored a bright yellow. All the seeds of the apple seem to have centered in the one-quarter and to have drawn all the color from the other three-fourths of the apple. It was not covered to produce this effect.

SALOONS AND THEATERS OPEN WAYNESBORO, Pa., Nov. 9.—Following the order of the local health board, to open the churches and schools, one came yesterday from Dr. P. E. The movie fans were equally as delighted and there were packed houses at the local theaters at both matinee and night.

Battalion, Seventy-ninth Division, now in France. Captain Reiley was on his fourth day in the front line trenches when a shell exploded nearby, killing four men next him and causing a hemorrhage of his spinal cord with paralysis of both legs.
