

Red Cross Women Are Urged to Knit Sweaters Needed by Soldiers

The Red Cross is short of sweaters. This shortage must be overcome. Workers are urgently needed at the headquarters of the local chapter, in the basement of the Public Library.

that the need of their knitting is not over. The only orders which should be made are for those of the Army and Navy. These are also imperative.

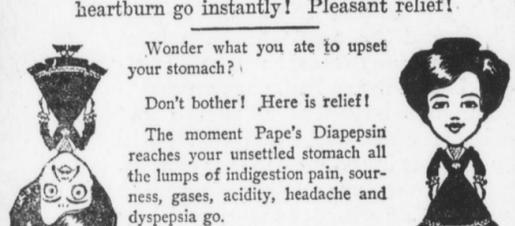

When the armistice was declared, we were 1,000,000 sweaters short of what we require for our Army called for. Even though the mustering out of men now in camp will reduce this number a good deal, we must see that our boys overseas and here are kept warm during the winter.

The Doctor's Advice

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, 221 College Bldg., College-Elwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in the answers.

Answer: What you need is a laxative to get rid of the constipation. The following prescription will check your bowels and give you relief.

Traveller writes: "Perhaps you can prescribe for me, as I am at a loss to understand my condition. For the past year I have suffered extreme nervousness, trembling and tremors. My legs are cold. Have poor appetite, am weak, listless and no ambition to work or seek recreation. Am tired all the time and in no sense the strong, capable man I was a few years ago."

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the columns of this paper. Doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history.

Walter asks: "My hair is too oily and my scalp itches with dandruff, and of late it is coming out too much. What is a good treatment?"

Answer: It is probably neglect of constipation that has made your hair fall out. A thorough treatment of the bowels with Pape's Diapepsin (not sulphur tablets). Continue for several months.

"Brother" says: "Some time ago I contracted a very severe cold and cough. I have tried many remedies, but they do not seem to help me at all. I wish you would advise me what to do."

Returned Soldier Says German AAmazons Clubbed Him When Helpless

New York.—How German women soldiers—members of an Amazonian machine gun battalion—attacked wounded American soldiers on the battlefield near Verdun, cut the throat of a helpless lieutenant and were shot afterward was told at the base hospital on Staten Island by Sergeant Sam Horrocks, 21 Chapel street, Orange, N. J., who himself is recuperating from a beating he received at the hands of the female fiends in Boche uniform.

Horrocks, who was a member of Company B, One Hundred-fourth Infantry, walks with the greatest difficulty and carries his right arm in a plaster cast. He saw service on the Mexican border and went overseas June 14, last, reaching the trenches on the Alsace-Lorraine front in July.

"We got the order to go over the top at 7 o'clock on the morning of October 12," said he. "Through some misunderstanding we had no artillery support, but our boys went right ahead and put the enemy snipers out of business with cold steel. I was injured early in the morning. The shrapnel was so thick that our stretcher bearers had to drop some of us and let us shift for ourselves."

"I was near a lieutenant in the Ninety-first Division who was seriously wounded in the leg. While we were helpless we were attacked by several German women in uniform. Our boys caught them, but they, who indicated their sex when they yelled 'Kamerad!' Out of the 200 about a dozen broke away from the guard and started after our wounded."

"Three of them came after the wounded lieutenant and myself, cutting his throat and kicking me and striking us both with clubs. I became unconscious. I had no ammunition and couldn't defend myself. When the stretcher bearers came back for the wounded we were told that the German women were caught attacking us had been shot by our men. Those of the women who were not shot were recaptured."

"We were informed that a battalion of German women machine gunners was in the fighting. Believe me, we prefer to fight men. Most of the Germans we met were too busy running to put up much of a fight. They were a mean lot, too. I've seen them shoot down Red Cross men who went out on the battlefield to pick up the wounded."
