

LIBERTY'S YOKE NOT HARD, SAYS PRINCETON HEAD

By Blood, Dr. Hibben Says Nation Should Remember

New York, Dec. 6.—"When the flag is carried upon our streets as a protest against law and order and therefore a menace to our free institutions," declared President John Grier Hibben, of Princeton University, in an address today before the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Dr. Hibben was emphasizing the obligation of liberty which, he said, the sons of America had established anew.

"Through superficial thinking or through emotional frenzy, there are many people who think that where there is restraint of any kind whatsoever there can be no liberty," continued Dr. Hibben. "It would be well for us to recognize the truth that the idea of law is an essential element in the concept of liberty."

"Those who come to us from foreign shores must learn the first lesson of American citizenship, namely that in all matters of personal conduct there is an exact ratio which must be preserved between outer restraint and inner control, that as the outer restraint is lessened the inner control must be increased."

"We must remember at this time that our liberty has been re-established for us at a great price. It has been bought by blood. The rights we enjoy have been secured through the vicarious sacrifice freely offered by heroic souls who have fought and died for us. We must of our part keep faith with the dead, safeguarding the liberty they have won for us, with their lives, maintaining it upon the secure basis of the law of right and of justice, and daily living to realize the reign of peace and good will toward men."

BRISBANE DEFENDS LOYALTY TO CAUSE OF UNITED STATES

Tells Senate Committee of Washington Times Purchase and Contract With Hearst; Munsey Refused Offer to Buy Paper on Own Terms; Writes What He Pleases

Washington, Dec. 6.—In his testimony before the Senate committee investigating the purchase of the Washington Times by Hearst, William Randolph Hearst said that if the purchase of the Washington Times until after the transaction was completed, and that Mr. Hearst at first objected to it, because Brisbane's contract with Hearst stipulated that the former give his entire time to the Hearst papers at a salary of $2,000 a week. The witness said he told Mr. Hearst that if the Washington Times interfered with his work Hearst could take over the Times at the price paid to Frank A. Munsey.

He told the committee that he arranged the loan for the purchase of the Times with C. J. Feigenpan, a brewer of Newark, N. J.; that the transaction was a business affair entirely and that he did not know the other brewers who assisted him.

Feigenpan in underwriting the loan. The brewers advanced $275,000. Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, questioned Mr. Brisbane about editorial in which he said that "England has not always been renowned for her unselfishness."

You know how I feel toward your business." Brisbane then laid before Feigenpan the plan for a loan to purchase the Times and the brewer said he believed it would be a good investment. The witness went on to say that Feigenpan said he did not know that he could advance the full amount himself, but that he would raise the money among his friends.

Feigenpan, according to Brisbane, refused to take a mortgage on the Brisbane real estate, saying he did not wish to make a record of the loan as it might appear that he was purchasing newspaper support.

"Do you regard that as a loan or do you regard it as a gift?" asked Senator Wolcott, of Delaware. "As a loan absolutely," the witness replied.

Explains Berger Loan A loan by Mr. Brisbane to Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, the Socialist who was elected to Congress at the last election and who is under indictment for violation of the espionage law, was described by the witness. He said labor unions in Milwaukee erected a building which they called the Brisbane building, and that he loaned Berger $8,000 for the project.

Brisbane told the committee that in 1917, when the British government closed the trans-Atlantic cables to the Hearst newspapers and news agents, he communicated with Lord Northcliffe, and the latter "adjusted" the matter.

Writes What He Pleases Under his contract with Hearst, the witness said, he writes what he pleases, and Hearst publishes it if he wants to or declines to publish it if he desires.

"Mr. Hearst controls no one's political views; at least not mine," he said. The committee completed the examination of Alexander Konta, of New York, who had dealings with Dr. Bernard Dernburg, the German propagandist, relative to the purchase of a New York newspaper by the German government. It plans to hear A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Department of Justice investigation work of various German organizations and publications.

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT AMERICAN The war has taught us to save and serve. Don't waste food or fuel. If you eat wheat be sure it is the whole wheat. Don't waste any of it. It is all food. Shredded Wheat is the whole wheat, nothing wasted, nothing thrown away. It saves fuel and saves food, saves sugar and saves health. For any meal with milk or cream or fruits.

Wicked Son's Rival From House Porch

New York.—Charles M. Warner, millionaire president of the Warner Sugar manufacturing Company and a member of the Sugar Board, told before Justice Scudder in the Supreme Court at Mineola how, despite his seventy-three years, he had pounced upon Harry F. Holbrook, of the New York Athletic Club, and thrown him from a porch.

Charles Blaine Warner, son of the sugar man, is suing his wife for divorce. Holbrook is the correspondent. The plaintiff's father said the young couple spent their summers at their Kensington home, but in winter came to his apartments in Manhattan. In June his son went to a sanatorium for nervous trouble. His daughter-in-law telephoned him (the father) one night and asked him to come to dinner. He declined the invitation, but later decided to go. When he arrived at Kensington he found the younger Mrs. Warner the hostess of a party. She introduced him to Holbrook, the aged man testified he had said, "Then I grabbed him by the throat, kicked him off the porch and told him if he ever came back again I would kill him."

On Labor Day, he went on, he went to Goshen and broke into the Goshen Inn, where he found the defendant with a correspondent. She ran up to him, according to his testimony, and said: "I'm sorry, daddy. Don't tell Blaine. Kiss me, daddy. My son was away." Mr. Warner testified, "I gave his wife between $27,000 and $28,000 and paid many of her bills. Some of them—stiff ones—were dependent on me." Mrs. Mary Picklin, of 600 West One Hundred Thirtieth street, testified for the wife. She was with Mrs. Warner when the Goshen raid was made, and although she said Mr. Holbrook, of course, was there, nothing wrong had taken place. She said that before her marriage she was on the stage and appeared in many Broadway productions. "Chorus girl?" asked the plaintiff's lawyer.

BUSINESSMEN SHOW PEACE SPIRIT

technical skill and high ability; E. J. Stackpole, president of the National Telegraph, one of the national councils representing the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, and Warren Jackson, secretary of the Harrisburg Chamber. There is also present and taking an active interest in the proceedings Congressman A. S. Kreider, who is much looked up to by the representatives of the shoe and leather trades.

Fine Spirit Dominates

It is difficult to describe the deep earnestness that pervades the general and group conferences. All seem eager to reach a consensus that will aid in the solution of the tremendous problems that have developed suddenly with the ending of the war. These are complex in character, but a general spirit which dominates the whole convention is certain to inspire such action as will point the way to a reconstruction of industry and business in harmony with the ideals that actuated the county in the prosecution of the war.

Co-operation is Emphasized

There is absolutely no dissent from the general proposition that business represents capital, labor and agriculture with all their ramifications, and that only through co-operation can the problems which confront the county be solved in a satisfactory and permanent way. There is universal approval of the policy of a great merchant marine, and a general demand for the relaxing of the new day and of the financial restrictions. A spade is called a spade and the lid is off so far as suppression of speech is concerned.

Never before in the history of the United States has there been more friendly attitude on the part of employers toward employes. It is admitted that capital has been more responsible as labor for past differences and good will is more likely to play a big part in the business game of the future. These thousands of brainy leaders of industry and commerce recognize the new day and the rights of men are bound to figure more prominently hereafter in the relationships of the farmer, the laborer and the businessman. A new and finer creed is being written here by men of vision and high purpose.
