No Wonder the Grindstone Hummed

Eil N. Hershey is president of the Rotary Club but he ground the axes for the Kiwanis choppers just the same. Howard C. Fry resented the allegation that he was putting as many nicks in his trusty blade as he was in the fallen tree.

DUNDOFF FIGHTS HARD TO ESCAPE DEATH PENALTY

Father of Steelton Youth Tells on Witness Stand of Fight in Store

Vasil Dundoff, the Steelton youth who is on trial for his life, charged with murder, may know his fate late this afternoon or early this evening. All the testimony in the trial had been heard at noon today, and court adjourned until 1:30 o'clock, Judge S. J. M. McCarell announcing that the jury should hear the arguments to the jury, making it as short as possible. Both District Attorney Michael E. Stroup and William H. Earnest and Oscar G. Wicker, the latter two attorneys for the defendant, agreed.

During the morning session of court many character witnesses were called for the defense, all of them testifying that the defendant up to the time of the shooting had been known as an honest, industrious youth. Among these witnesses were many prominent businessmen and officials of the borough.

Has Good Character County Treasurer Mark Mumma, formerly tax collector in the borough, said he had known the family about six years and knew Vasil to be one of the best young men in Steelton. When cross-examined by the district attorney, Mr. Mumma said the youth's reputation was as good as the best. Others called by the defense were Mr. A. Allen, Chief of Police Grove, Irvin M. Durnbaugh, ex-chief of police; Claude Brinser, Frank Knoderer, Matthew M. Cusack, postmaster; Edwin M. Bonnet, a postal employe, and Benjamin F. McNear, Jr., counsel for the defense also said he intended to call William H. Nell, president of the People's

Output of Red Cross Is Steadily Growing Despite Signing of Armistice

The largest monthly total of production in six months was announced this morning by the Harrisburg chapter, American Red Cross, as the result of the past month's efforts of Red Cross volunteers, toiling in harmony with the "carry on" policy of the organization. For the month of November, $2,752 articles in the sum total of the chapter's activities, as announced in the report of the Woman's Bureau, made public today by Miss Anne McCormick, director, and Mrs. G. H. Orth, executive secretary.

Despite the announcement that armistice terms are signed and peace is here, it is the Red Cross policy outlined in the report to carry on activities. A glance at the report, giving the number of articles turned out, is sufficient evidence to show that the local chapter is in hearty accord with this policy.

The total work accomplished by workers in the knitting department was 3,173 articles; surgical dressings total was 21,632; miscellaneous articles, 35; hospital garments and supplies, 5,926; and refugee garments, 1,619. Two hundred sweaters and four comfort kits were presented to soldiers. Stock machines turned out 157 pairs during the month. Ninety-four cases, containing a total of 48,761 articles, were shipped during the month.

PENN-HARRIS TO BE THROWN OPEN ON DECEMBER 31

Public Inspection to Be Permitted Between 3 and 5 of That Day

After a conference between the owners and the officials of the United Hotels Company, which will manage the new Penn-Harris Hotel, it has been definitely decided to have the formal opening of the city's leading place of entertainment on the evening of December 31. From 3 to 5 o'clock on the afternoon of that day the hotel will be opened for inspection by the public, the sentiment of all concerned being in favor of the people of Harrisburg and Central Pennsylvania having the first view of the splendid building and its appointments.

At 7 o'clock the formal reception to the directors and stockholders will be given, to be followed with dancing in the great ballroom. There will be special music and it is intimated that a distinguished singer will add to the pleasure of the evening.

The formal reception and dinner on New Year's eve is to be followed by a larger banquet to which some hundreds will be invited under the auspices of the management of the hotel. This banquet will probably take place within a month after the formal opening.

Mrs. Laura Bishop, 213 Hummel street, was admitted to the hospital in a dying condition at 10 o'clock last night and died at 2:30 o'clock this morning. She was the wife of Frank J. Bishop, a bridgebuilder.

The two other cases admitted were Raymond Hackett, 125 State street, who is employed in the State Highway Department, and Peter Baker, a farmer, living near Duncannon.

ONE MAN WILLING TO WORK FOR THE CITY WITHOUT PAY

So the Job Goes to Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Who For Four Years More Will Help Ailing Feet of Coppers

For four years more Harrisburg patrolmen will be able to laugh at corns, chilblains and bunions—the horror of every man who has to spend as many hours on his feet as the policeman does in his day's work. "Every man ought to perform some public service, I think," said Dr. Lawrence, by way of explanation. "This is my bit. The men need the attention and their salaries are not so large that they can afford to pay, and I suppose if I asked for a salary it would be only the first of a long series of requests of the kind, so I do the work for nothing and get my pay in the smiles of the men—and say, if you think the friendship of policemen isn't worth something, just you go ask an officer to guide you to a chiropodist's office and observe what he says."

ARMY OF Y. M. C. A. WOOD CHOPPERS ENTER WILDWOOD

Wood For Winter's Burning Fiercely Attacked by Valiant Band

Wildwood Park, Dec. 7.—Wildwood Park, the most beautiful of Harrisburg's many natural preserves, has been invaded by an army of woodchoppers, several score strong, who allege they are the representatives of the Central Y. M. C. A. and are here to chop wood for the "Y" fireplace. They further state they have been sent here to stage the first annual woodchopping bee.

Among the faithful men who invaded the park this afternoon are prominent Harrisburg businessmen, including J. William Bowman, Eil N. Hershey, John S. Musser, Frank B. Musser, Charles L. Schmidt, W. H. German, B. F. Barker and others whose names are familiar throughout Central Pennsylvania. The party reached here shortly before noon, with Captain E. F. Barker, who states he heads a businessmen's team, driving a seven-ton Mack truck in the lead of the parade. Following him came Charles L. Schmidt, well-known florist, in a small delivery truck, and Al K. Thomas, cashier of the East End bank, who also drove an immense truck. Questioned by a representative of the Harrisburg Telegraph as to what the object in bringing the trucks is, they explained they are going to transport wood from the park via autotruck. It was explained that the wood will be used to replenish the Harrisburg Y. M. C. A. fuel supply and will be placed in the "Y" fireplace during the winter.

The army of amateur lumberjacks carries with it a fully organized hospital detachment, a chaplain and a commissary department. Dr. Harry

DUTCH ARE WILLING TO GIVE UP KAISER

Crown Prince Censured

LONDON, Dec. 7.—An extraordinary meeting of the German cabinet was summoned at Berlin on Thursday evening to discuss the possibility of the Allies occupying Berlin, owing to Germany's alleged inability to carry out the terms of the armistice, according to Amsterdam advices to the Express.

MUNICH, Dec. 7.—The interview with Frederick Wilhelm, the former German crown prince, obtained by The Associated Press, was published here part to-day and has drawn out displays of anger from the local press. "If the former crown prince really made such statements he has done his reputation a bad service," says the Neueste Nachrichten. "His belated excuses and attempts to clear himself make such a disgusting impression that no one need to grieve over his flight to Holland."

STAPLE BUSINESS FIRST CONCERN OF LABOR AND CAPITAL

Plans Made For Getting Back to Peace Basis That Will Provide Work For Returned Soldiers; City Delegates Home

The Harrisburg representatives to the great Congress of businessmen at Atlantic City have returned home and promptly the convention the most important as to its discussion and results ever held in this country. It is expected that the local Chamber of Commerce will take immediate steps to form a committee on reorganization of industry and commerce with a view of readjusting the after-war conditions. This program will be followed by the committee throughout the country and it is hoped in this way to prevent the demoralization that sometimes follows war.

This would include plans for assimilating the returning soldiers and thus overcome the effect of sudden demoralization of large forces. The purpose is to provide employment promptly for all who have been serving the country since our entrance into the war.

Seek Peace Plans It would be difficult to overstate the importance of the convention in any brief way, but in addition to the decision to send a strong committee of business leaders to Europe to keep in touch with the peace conference, recommendations were made urging the government in the cancellation of war contracts to promptly and equitably adjust these contracts.

PRESIDENT GETS SEA LEGS ON IN TRIP TO FRANCE

Wilson Cheerful Under Bright Skies and Ocean Sunshine on Third Day Out

On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Dec. 7.—President Wilson's third day at sea found him much improved in health. His cold is yielding to treatment and his voice is rested and much stronger.

Having cleared the work which had accumulated at his desk, the President yesterday enjoyed a day of recreation and exercise. His ship ran into somewhat better weather this morning after a night of heavy weather. In the afternoon he promenade along the decks and joined a party at the rail watching the lower grades whose stories of experiences in the submarine zone are tremendously interesting. When it was learned that a film starring a famous comedy was to be shown during the evening on board the ship, the President announced that he intended to be present, evidently anticipating the entertainment with pleasure.

Hears Interesting Stories The party included officers in the lower grades whose stories of experiences in the submarine zone are tremendously interesting. When it was learned that a film starring a famous comedy was to be shown during the evening on board the ship, the President announced that he intended to be present, evidently anticipating the entertainment with pleasure.

While Mr. Wilson was on deck, he earnestly conferred with Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador at Washington, and had a short conversation with Secretary of State Robert Lansing and Henry White, colleagues of the President on the peace commission. No formal conferences have been held so far and it seems apparent that plans for the peace negotiations have been well laid out.

Keeps in Touch With Affairs Mr. Wilson has been solicitous of the comfort of those accompanying him and is personally seeing that all orders are carried out. He reads every wireless message received and peruses the ship newspaper with much interest. Before leaving the George Washington he intends to inspect the ship from stem to stern and meet the officers and crew.

Paris, Dec. 7.—The program for President Wilson's visit here is not yet fully settled, according to Marcel Habu of the Echo de Paris. He says however, the crack troops forming the guard of honor already have been selected. It is probable that President Polonceau will give a lunch for Mr. and Mrs. Wilson on Saturday, December 14, the day they arrive in Paris.

HOLLAND SUGGESTS HOHENZOLLERNSBE EXILED ON ISLAND

Would Place ex-Emperor and Crown Prince in East or West Indies For Life

ALTERNATIVE IS SURRENDER TO WORLD COURT OF JUSTICE

London, Dec. 7.—If the Allies insist upon the delivery of the former German emperor and crown prince to an international court of justice, Holland will yield, but will first urge that the Allies content themselves with an undertaking by Holland to intern them for life in one of the Dutch colonies, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Express.

Holland, it is understood, will suggest that Herr Hohenzollern and his son be placed on an island in either the East or West Indies, where they will be guarded by a Dutch fleet.

It is also anticipated that Holland will be asked for compensation for permitting a violation of her neutrality by allowing German troops to pass through the province of Limburg on their retreat from Belgium, and receiving German ships from Antwerp.

This compensation says the correspondent, possibly may be the cessation of certain territory along the Belgian frontier owned by Holland since 1839, perhaps the southern part of Dutch Limburg, the population of which region is claimed to be principally Belgian.
