BELL 1901-2356 UNITED

HARRISBURG, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1918.

FOUNDED 1871

The greatest Christmas value of them all!
A year's membership in the American Red Cross costs $11.
You cannot afford NOT to enroll during the Christmas Universal Roll-Call December 16th to 23rd.
A button and flag are presented to every new member this week.

Evening Dresses

The Holiday festivities will be unusually brilliant this year, as peace and victory have supplanted the grim shadow of war. Dainty frocks for formal and semi-formal occasions are rapidly emerging from the workrooms of the manufacturers that have been producing the less elaborate garments of war-time days.

Imagine a tancy tinted tulle, draped over silver cloth and tinted fabrics. The gleam of metallic laces in silver and gold, a touch of royal blue and angel sleeves of filmy tulle. A dainty creation at $29.50.

A charming model in a combination of tulle and taffeta bands of pale blue. Georgette foundation, overdrapery of plain tulle and bodice of tulle and tulle, finished in back with butterfly bow of tulle. $35.00.

An exquisitely timed model in Nile green, silver cloth slip foundation, with four separate over-tunics of different delicate shades, giving the rainbow effect. Bodice of crushed satin embellished with iridescent sequins and ruffles, shoulder strap in same tulle—this model having a note of elegance most appealing. $45.00.

Another in delicate pink tulle, draped over pink silver cloth—tunic and bodice trimmed with iridescent sequins. Tunic on extra side gracefully draped with ruffled treatments. Ribbon ornament and soft plaited cord girdle of pink silk. $49.50.

Designed in black and embroidered in gold, is another gown executed in new materials of richness and beauty. Loose side panels and trimmed with three rows of black velvet bands and bodice of crushed panne velvet edged with silver cord and shoulder strap of tulle. This model is an excellent value at $49.50.

Other models $29.50 to $65.00.

Bowman's Annex Gilbert Building Opposite the Court House

If you cannot find what you want on the six large floors of this store, suppose you try the Bowman Annex. There you will find the closing-out sale of Henry Gilbert & Son's high-grade stock of holiday novelties. And bear in mind, these novelties were purchased long before the war; consequently, of the highest grade workmanship and material, minus the high war prices that became effective on similar merchandise later. Prices are especially low. Also a complete line of Toys sold there.
