

SENDS HOME BAYONET TAKEN FROM FOE ON BATTLEFIELD

Harrisburg Boy Wins Trophy at Risk of His Life; Saw Service With the 28th Along the Marne

Did you ever fondle a Hun bayonet?
If not, get in touch with Daniel H. Werner, who is due to arrive home tomorrow from Camp Meade where he arrived from France a couple weeks ago. Werner sent on the weapon with his story to his brother-in-law, Walter Moore, with whom Werner makes his home at 2502 Acute street, and a great number of Harrisburgers saw the villainous spear yesterday and heard the vivid narrative of its taking.
Werner, a lad of 18, went over with Company I, One Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, and fought at the Marne in the Twenty-eighth division. At a certain moment in the fray he noticed four Huns carrying off a Yank major, who is a Johnstown man. Without hesitation, Werner gave chase and when the three volleys from the Huns burst forth he dropped down as though dead. Another moment and he was able to spot three of the Huns with his repeater, but by this time the fourth Hun was atop of him with the same bayonet which Werner sent to Harrisburg yesterday. Being something of a wrestler he managed to seize the Hun and got his head under his own arm. Hooped up in this dilemma the Major suddenly appeared with: "Pull his head up a little further."

The rest of the proceedings are fairly gory, due to the elaborate use of a .45-caliber army revolver in the hands of the Major, who was so delighted to have been rescued that he offered Werner 1,000 francs as a present.

"Cure Your Rupture Like I Cured Mine"

Did Sea Captain Cure His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Die."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.
Captain Collins called the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither. He cured himself instead.

"Follow Men and Women, You Don't Have To Be Cut Up, and You Don't Have To Be Tortured By Trusses."

Captain Collins made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.
Anyone can use the same method! It's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collins book, telling all about how he cured himself and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any ruptured sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

PENNSY TO AVOID DUPLICATION

Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway May Handle Pan Handle Traffic

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—Negotiations have been opened in earnest by the Pennsylvania railroad management with the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway, looking to an arrangement, mutually advantageous under which the latter would become the route for a large amount of the heavy Pan Handle traffic to and from the Pittsburgh district. The matter has so far progressed that it is likely a tentative proposition will be in shape for further consideration by the end of this week. It is believed that the probability of an agreement being reached is more than good.
The basis for the present order of things in the railroad world, which recognizes the economic waste of duplicating costly facilities when those in existence can easily be made to serve the requirements of the situation, there offers in the Pittsburgh and West Virginia a way to provide the Pan Handle with a better line than its own for some fourteen miles, and at a cost less than an equal good new line could be constructed at the same time. Moreover, the Pan Handle enlarged access to the terminal and industrial district of Pittsburgh.
The Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, on its side, the proposition offers a way to utilize in fuller and increasing way its really valuable line into Pittsburgh, built a number of years ago without regard to cost, but in way to secure a low grade and enable economical operation. To make connections with the Pan Handle would have to construct about three miles of line at the western end of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia and a short spur nearer Pittsburgh where both railroads are at several points within a stone's throw.

Third Trial at Mail Service in Air Made Today Out of Gotham

New York, Dec. 20.—The third attempt by Post Office Department aviators to inaugurate aerial mail service between New York and Chicago was made to-day. Pilots Bissell and Lamb ascended at 8:10 a. m. at the postal station at Belmont Park and started with mail for Bellefonte, Pa., where they planned to turn it over to other aviators to be carried on to Cleveland, the second relay point.
On Wednesday and again yesterday through mail flights between New York and Chicago failed, owing to minor mishaps or depletion of fuel.
Bissell and Lamb carried 400 pounds of mail.
Failure marked the third attempt. Two hours after two aviators had left Belmont Park, L. I., with 400 pounds of mail, this mail arrived at the New York post office in trucks, and it was arranged to send it forward to Chicago by train.

Additional Sleeping Runs Added January 1

The railroad administration yesterday announced the restoration, on January 1, of fifteen through sleeping cars between New York and Philadelphia to Florida and other Southern points. They were discontinued north of Washington. To make connections with the Pan Handle would have to construct about three miles of line at the western end of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia and a short spur nearer Pittsburgh where both railroads are at several points within a stone's throw.

Big Cod For President

Boston, Dec. 20.—A 24-pound codfish, caught off Nantucket by the steam trawler Fish Hawk, was shipped from here yesterday to Paris as a gift to President Wilson for his New Year's dinner. It is the largest codfish that has been brought into the market here recently.

Paycar Will Move Westward Tomorrow

The Philadelphia division pay car which has been paying employes in Harrisburg since Wednesday, will leave to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock for westward movement to Rockville by way of the freight track. It will leave Harrisburg for Royaltown at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Jersey Train Hits Auto; Two Killed and Two Hurt

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 20.—Samuel Combs, 40 years old, and Joseph Felix, Jr., eleven, were killed, and Joseph Felix, Sr., aged 59, and Joseph Vader, aged eleven, all of Spotswood, were fatally injured when a Pennsylvania freight train struck the automobile in which they were riding, just before midnight last night. The injured were brought to St. Francis' Hospital here.

Noted American Women Return From France

Mrs. Vincent Astor and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Sr., both of whom have been engaged in canteen work overseas, have arrived from France aboard the French liner La Lorraine. Mrs. Astor had been in France since June, 1917. She was engaged in canteen work at Brest, where, with 450 women under supervision, her canteen fed as many as 6,000 American soldiers in a day. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, who also had been engaged in canteen work, is returning for a three months' furlough after which she will return to France and aid further in the care of the American boys.

Get Behind the Shield!

Toward a required total of $1,000 for the Salvation Army Christmas dinner, $200 has already been raised. It was announced this morning by Captain Myers Neilson, officer in charge of the local branch. Checks for small and large amounts are pouring in with every mail but Capt. Neilson wishes to impress upon the people of Harrisburg and surrounding country that if the needy poor are to be cared for, the full thousand dollars must be forthcoming.
"We appreciate very much the kindness of the good people of Harrisburg," said the captain. "They have been so kind to us. And we are sure the city will open its purse strings and help us in this newest appeal."

Several ten-dollar checks from prominent people of Harrisburg were among the gifts received this morning. From a prominent woman in Middletown came a ten-dollar contribution with a kindly and courteous letter. The contributor said there is small opportunity for the people of the small towns to contribute to a worthy cause and she was very grateful to be allowed to brighten someone's life somewhere.

Accompanying another gift was a statement from the contributor, "The Lord will pay me back for this," it said. "I shall never be in want." And ten dollars dropped from the envelope.

RARE GIFT FOR WILSON
London, Dec. 20.—A dispatch from Rome to the Daily Telegraph says that when President Wilson arrives in Rome the Italian government will present to him a magnificent old picture, recently discovered there. It is painted on a piece of one of the sails of the caravel on which Columbus sailed to America.

New Suit Too Much For "Chiefy" Gilner

Patrick Gilner, otherwise "Chiefy," the self-appointed custodian of the State Capitol, who underwent his Christmas bath, shave and haircut yesterday and was outfitted with new clothes and a tall hat, fainted to-day in the State Department of Banking while parading in his new plumage for inspection. The "Chief" spent most of yesterday and this morning visiting departments to exchange greetings and arrange for improvements to the Capitol and to the diet of the squirrels. Indigestion complicated his pride in his new habiliments and he keeled over. He was restored later and sent home. "Chiefy" has been in imaginary charge of the State House for many years and is known to thousands of men who have been in public life. The Fishman Garage, of Harrisburg, was chartered with $10,000 capital to-day, the incorporators being Samuel Fishman, S. Levinson and M. Kopolowitz. The Modern Utilities Co., to deal in tools and fixtures in this city, was also chartered to-day with $5,000 capital by Edward A. Herre, Paul F. Herre and Grover C. Prantz, of Harrisburg. State Treasurer Kephart, who has been ill in Philadelphia, is improving. Oscar K. Kohl was to-day appointed justice of the peace for Palmer township, Northampton county.
