BETHEHEM STEEL REBUKED BY TAFT

Bad Faith in Treatment of Employees Is Charged by War Board

Washington, Jan. 16.—The authority of the National War Labor Board to enforce its decrees now that hostilities have ceased, was challenged yesterday by counsel for the Bethlehem Steel company, who had asked to appear to answer complaints that awards made by the board during the war had not been carried out.

Joint Chairman Taft, of the board, questioned the good faith of the company and said its present attitude "colors the whole situation with a sense of injustice which makes one year for judicial power to compel compliance." He added that the board did not have this power, but would meet Saturday with employees' representatives to determine "what there is possible to be done in this situation."

Representatives of machinists and electricians employed by the Bethlehem company complained that awards of back pay were not carried out and that men who complained through the plant committees established by the board were discharged.

"Our position is that the award does not apply to-day," said Guy Currier, of Boston, attorney for the company, "though during the war we were prepared to accept anything the board recommended. We don't feel now that this board can go on adjusting grievances between employees and managements of the industrial plants."

Chairman Taft read a letter which the board received last September from E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem company, who expressed willingness to accept anything and allow the men to organize committees. He said, however, that the payment of the back wages under the award would be contingent upon the readiness to increase the payments to the company for the production of munitions.

"Now doesn't Bethlehem Company intend to stand by that faith which you entered into the agreement to enforce the award to this letter. I consider that your present attitude shows good faith. You intend to flout what has been done."

Attorney Currier objected to the construction placed upon the action of the company by Mr. Taft. He said that the war and had executions issued had not allowed increased payments on the company's war contracts and asked that a special section of the award be appointed to investigate the matter.

Attorney Currier said the Bethlehem Company was laying off large numbers of men and that the principal business has entirely stopped. He said that members of the shop committees created by the board had not been discharged in large numbers than had other employees.

"This is a very painful situation to me," Chairman Taft said in adjourning the session. "We wish to secure what these workers are entitled to have under our previous award. The present attitude of Mr. Grace and his company in refusing to accept after what has been done, colors the whole situation with a sense of injustice which makes one year for judicial power to compel compliance, but this board has not that power. I declare this meeting adjourned now to meet on Saturday with the employees' representatives to determine as early as possible in what there is possible to be done in this situation."

A Suggestion From Harrisburg's Newest Bakery The GUNZENHAUSER Bakery Eighteenth and Mulberry Streets We have been getting many phone calls for our bread from people in all parts of the city and surroundings, and these requests we want to take care of. Therefore we suggest that you call us on the phone, 4976 on either phone, tell us your nearest grocer, and we will see to it that he will be supplied with Gunzenhauser bread so that you can be served with it regularly. We will readily understand that it is quite a large task to organize a delivery service as large as would be required to serve this section and do it in a couple weeks. And whilst we are anxious to serve you, and serve you at once, we will ask you to be patient with us until we have our new plant running in the real Gunzenhauser way. After we have been here a little longer we hope to have Gunzenhauser bread sold at every grocer's in this section. We are happy to say that the majority of them are already on our list. Try a loaf of Gunzenhauser's bread and see how well you like it.
