Four days of value-giving that will be looked forward to by the thrifty women of this vicinity. Twice a year at inventory times we make a thorough inspection of every piece of merchandise in the store, and every effort is put forth by department managers to convert as much as possible of the stock into cash in order that as little as possible shall be recorded on inventory sheet. This means that scores and scores of articles and fabrics in the many departments will be repriced for quick clearance. Good dependable merchandise of the regular Bowman standard. But just before stock-taking time is an exceptional opportunity to find remarkable reductions on the many odds and ends that must make way for incoming merchandise.

Come Tomorrow---Wednesday. Continues
