POLICE SEARCH FOR MURDERER

Have Made No More Arrests, and Are Still Holding Johnson

The police were unable to obtain any new evidence yesterday in reference to the murder of S. Wolfe Jacob last Friday evening. Dandrige Johnson, arrested Saturday on suspicion, is still being held for further examination. A brother of Johnson arrived last Sunday from Jersey City and immediately retained Oscar Wick-ersham as attorney for Dandrige. Johnson denies all knowledge of the affair, but now admits that he was at the store of Jacob earlier in the evening, as well as a short time after the discovery of the murder. The clues held by the police have thus proved nothing.

Lykens Shops Closed on Sunday by Burgess' Order

Lykens, Pa., Jan. 28.—The famous "Garfield Blue Mondays" of last year are having a reproduction in Lykens this year. The day has been changed to Sunday when the borough is shut down by order of the Chief Burgess. The theory is advanced that the Burgess' proclamation has been issued at the instances of several businessmen, who desired the enactment that businessmen might have a holiday each week and their business suffer no loss. The edict of the Burgess provides that every shop in the borough be closed from midnight Saturday until Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.
