

AND DEMOCRATS HONOR GORGAS PLANS LICENSE FOR FISHERMEN

Resolutions of Respect Passed on Death of Former Commissioner Chairman Richard W. Powell Backs Bill Which Appears in the House

Fishermen's license, which created considerable stir in the closing days of the legislature of 1917, bids fair to occupy a pretty fair place in the annals of the legislature. The committee on fish and fisheries this session, as a bill establishing a dollar license for all fishermen has made the appearance of the House with the influential backing of Chairman Richard W. Powell, of the Fish committee. Mr. Powell's bill is the result of the committee's work at the last session. The aim of the bill is to provide a definite revenue for the operation of the Department of Fisheries, just as the hunters' license furnishes the funds for the maintenance of the State Game Commission offices and its four game wardens and the bounty system. The bill aroused considerable opposition and much talk at the last session and was sharply attacked.

"This bill which I have introduced is virtually a duplicate of that in the session of 1917," said Mr. Powell. "The object is a dollar license and the proceeds to be devoted solely to the work of the State Department of Fisheries. If that department is to be run on a business basis, it must have money. There are many calls for State money and we have been going through unusual conditions which require large appropriations. The people at the head of the Department of Fisheries say more money is needed. I believe that the people in this State are in regard to a fishermen's license has changed since the last session, just as opinion has changed in regard to the license on the part of the State. The bill is now in the hands of the committee. It is estimated that the measure, if it becomes a law, will bring in about $600,000. There are almost 700,000 people who like to fish, many of whom it is calculated, would pay a dollar for the sport if the government would take care of the more fish and better stocking of streams.

PEACE OF JUSTICE AS BERNSTORFF SEES IT

frontier. Naturally, however, we do not desire a spread of Bolshevism over Germany and other countries. "As for point No. 7, we are prepared to pay for all damage done to the Belgian civil population and their property as far as is possible. That, however, would be the case if Germans were compelled to become French against their will. Likewise, it must be emphasized in connection with the point number seven, that we would forbid forcing Germans to become Italian subjects without their free consent.

"Point number ten, treating on the question of nationalities, has been subsequently enlarged by the American government, in the sense that the Slav nationalities of the former dual monarchy must be given the right of self-determination. Justice will demand that the same privilege be accorded to Austrian-Germans. In the same manner, we consider points number 11 and 12, which deal with justice that various peoples of the Balkan peninsula and the Ottoman empire should be given their rights without distinction and the freest opportunity for self-determination.

State Charities Board Reorganized by Governor; 3 Members Reappointed

Governor William C. Sprout last night reorganized the State Board of Public Charities, reappointing three of the members and appointing three new members. There are four hold-over members. The new board will meet shortly and elect its staff. Under the policy of the "governor the Board is to have its original powers restored and its recommendations for appropriations for hospitals and homes on a definite basis of service rendered will have more weight than ever before. These recommendations are now being made up following investigations.

Judge Isaac Johnson, of Media, chairman of the committee on lunacy and a veteran member of the board; Lewis Wolf, of Elkins Park, and Daniel J. McCarthy, of Philadelphia, were reappointed. The two latter were named in the last four years. Howard B. French, prominent Philadelphia, was reappointed by Dr. Brumbaugh who wanted to make room for William H. ACT ON PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSE

Military Training to Go With Physical Culture if Desired The bill prepared by the State Board of Education for a system of physical training in the public schools of Pennsylvania has been made ready for presentation in the legislature during the coming week. It is expected to have the effect of taking effect immediately upon its approval, except in third and fourth class districts.

The bill was drawn after an extensive study of the subject in the State conducted by Dr. J. George Becht, the secretary of the Board, during last year and some studies made by him in foreign countries. By the provisions of the bill the course "shall be adapted to the ages and capabilities of the pupils in the school and shall include instruction in personal and community health and safety and in directing and preventing bodily deficiency." Instruction in citizenship as they relate to community and national welfare is also mentioned, while for female pupils the bill prescribes instruction in domestic hygiene, first aid and nursing. The State Board is to make the regulations and administrative details of the course. A State supervisor will be named. An annual report will be required on the first Monday of July.

In addition it is provided "if the Board of Education of any school district shall determine that the course prescribed for male pupils shall include military training such a course shall be prepared under the direction of the State Board of Education, and the Adjutant General and shall be a part of the course of physical training for male pupils. All male pupils of the high school shall be required to take this course, excepting in the case of boys physically unfit, as determined by the medical inspector or whose parents may have written to take this course against military training."

The system will start in third class districts in 1920, and in fourth in the following year.

GOVERNOR SEES CAPTIVE PLANS

Declares the Brunner Scheme Will Make a Wonderful State Park "Pennsylvania has a splendid Capitol and your plan of surrounding it with a Capitol park that will be a civic center of the Commonwealth is a wonderful idea," said Governor McKelvey, of Nebraska, who came here today to inquire as to the methods used by the Keystone State in constructing a State House.

Nebraska has named a building commission headed by the governor and he inquired here today regarding the state's plan. Also visiting the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings to ask about the supply system and the state police offices to get the details of the police force. After a full day upon Governor Sprout, who outlined the general system of the state government and the police force, the governor went to the office of Superintendent George A. Shreiner of Public Grounds and Buildings, where he was given information and then shown the Capitol park extension plans.

Nebraska plans to spend $5,000,000 on its Capitol and the governor is one of the youngest executives in the United States is to be the chairman. He was impressed with the state's expenditures and the extent of the building and of the Brunner plans.

Team workers and captains will make daily reports. The goal of the drive is 1,500 members. On February 1, the membership of approximately 700 men will expire and the remaining total will be about 600. This does not mean a drop in membership, it is explained, but simply that the membership will expire and that an effort will be made to have them renewed and to secure more new members.
