

UP TO PIEZ TO PREVENT STRIKE, SAY LEADERS

General Walk-Out at Seattle Is Called For This Morning

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 6.—Seattle's general strike called for ten o'clock this morning, can be averted only by a concrete settlement of the shipyard workers' demands, by Charles Piez, head of the emergency Fleet Corporation, labor leaders declared late last night.

Interest centered in the reported receipt of a local labor official of a telegram from Mr. Piez, offering to summon a conference at once to consider the question of wages and hours provided the men would return to work and live up to their agreement with the government. This, the strike leaders said would not be acceptable.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 6.—Two representatives of the division of conciliation of the federal department of labor arrived here last night to attempt a settlement of the strike of silk mill workers here. They came at the request of Louis T. Bryant, of the state department of labor.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

A laxative to-day gives a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you'll have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

CITY TEACHERS TO BACK WAGE INCREASE BILL

Committee Advances Its Reasons For Endorsing Measure

Definite plans for the backing of the bill for increased salaries for teachers by the joint committee representing the Harrisburg School Board and teachers were made at a meeting this week. The report of the committee, giving the reasons for the action, is as follows: At a meeting this week of the joint committee representing the Harrisburg School Board and the Harrisburg teachers, definite plans were made to further in every way possible the passage of the bill for an increase of teachers' salaries.

According to official United States government figures, the cost of living has advanced 80 per cent, and inasmuch for every $100 paid a man teacher six years ago, he now gets $108, and a woman teacher $106, while they have to pay approximately $80 more to subsist, it can readily be seen that something must be done speedily if teachers are to stay in the profession.

In other lines of work, all the employes have received substantial increases, while the Pennsylvania teacher has advanced less than $20 a year. While Pennsylvania is the second richest state in the Union, 27 states pay higher salaries to their teachers. These men and women are supposed to train the future citizens of Pennsylvania, hence the highest type of manhood and womanhood should be employed. To do this certainly a living wage must be paid. The laborer ought to be worthy of his hire.

There is only one way to keep this type in the profession. The wages must be high enough to keep them from entering better paying positions. Already, the situation is critical, hundreds having left the profession in the past year to accept more lucrative positions.

The state must do for its teachers what every corporation in the United States has been compelled to do, namely raise the wages of those whom it employs.

The time has come in the history of this great Commonwealth of ours when either higher wages must be invited into the profession, as well as keep there, the efficient man or woman, or else the schools will deteriorate. If the schools deteriorate on account of the lack of efficiency on the part of its teachers, then likewise the coming citizenship of our great state will deteriorate. The greatest work of the public school is to train the boy and girl to be intelligent future citizens.

The appropriation asked for can only be used for increasing salaries and can be so handled by each local board that the teachers drawing the lower salaries can receive a higher rate of increase than the higher salaried teachers. This certainly must appeal to the intelligent thinker.

In view of the above facts the committee can not see how the great law-making body of our state can close their eyes to the importance of some action being taken quickly to remedy the conditions now existing.

Harrisburg Yank in Germany Believes He Will Soon Come Home

Ellsmere Fenstermacher, son of Charles Fenstermacher, 122 Chestnut street, writes home that he has every reason to believe that he will soon be on his way to the United States. He says: "I am now in the First Corps of the First Army with some other units added to it." He has participated in the greater number of the American offensives, he writes.

Speaking of Germany, he says: "I have been in Germany for an number of days and cannot say that I do not like the country, because I do. It is practically the same in every respect as our own, and the people treat us as they would in our own country and respect, largely, I think, because they realize that if they didn't, they would receive the same treatment that they dealt Belgium and France." Continuing, he writes: "We are stationed at a large Zeppelin hangar, near town (Trier, Germany), and it is one of the finest pieces of work I have ever seen. The doors are something like 110 feet high and made of steel. It is simply wonderful. In it we have some 150 German planes, which the Germans surrendered on their retreat. The Germans are very glad that the end has at last come, independent government like our and that they shall have a free and own."

Since he has been at Trier, he marched with his unit for two days along the Moselle river and has just arrived at Coblenz, being stationed at Fort Alexander, near that city. This post is capable of quartering 100,000 soldiers.
