PARIS PLAN WILL MAKE WORLD SAFE

Theodore Marburg, Former Minister to Belgium, Predicts Good Results

Carlisle, Pa., March 28.—Speaking before the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce to-day Theodore Marburg, former minister to Belgium, writer and authority of note on economics and international relations, predicted that from the Paris conference would come a plan to make the world safe. The luncheon was attended by about 150 business men from all parts of the Cumberland Valley. "The fighting still going on in Europe calls for action, but need not cause anxiety. It is a case of the wood-mold burning after the forest fire has been conquered. The great fact is that we have got Germany down and intend to keep her down in the military sense. We have got her fleet and do not intend to let her build another. We have got many of her guns and shall not let her replace them. "The next great fact is that we have overthrown autocracy everywhere. Self government makes for good will. The triumph of self government will alone tend to suppress the spirit of aggression. "Mr. Marburg then proceeded to analyze in detail the Paris Constitution, emphasizing as its big features, the obligations to refer disputes to inquiry before nations are allowed to fight, the development of international law by the proposed body of delegates, the establishment of a true Court of Justice to interpret such law, and the opportunity for improved labor conditions through international action.

LABOR BOARD GIVES DECISION

Special Examiner Clears Up Points in Wage Scale and 8-Hour Day Questions

Chambersburg, Pa., March 28.—A decision which will cause an unusual amount of work for the five local industries on which the national war labor board recently placed a mandatory wage scale and an eight-hour day, has been made by Stiles T. Jones, a special examiner sent here by the Government to explain any obscure points in the labor board award. He has announced that the war labor board's award is to be interpreted to mean that the eight-hour day principle is retroactive to August 26, 1918, just as the wage scale and the remainder of the award. The award did not specifically state that the eight-hour day was retroactive and a decision on that portion of the award was awaited with considerable interest and anxiety. According to Mr. Jones' decision every employe who worked more than eight hours on any day since August 26, 1918, shall be paid time and half time for the overtime. To calculate the amounts due different employes will necessitate much clerical work. Four of the five companies affected by the war labor board's award, have formally accepted the award. These are the T. B. Wood's Sons Company, the Chambersburg Engineering Company, the Chambersburg Foundry and Machine Company and the Haefor Foundry and Machine Company. The fifth industry, the Wolf Company, has not rejected the award, but in the case of this company there yet remain some points to be cleared up concerning the retroactive feature.

FISHING WILL BE EXTENDED

Series of Rulings Favorable to the Sport Announced by Commissioner Buller

Water and power companies which had received permission from the State Department of Fisheries at the outbreak of the war to forbid fishing within certain distances of their works have been notified by Commissioner Buller that the war is over and that they should remove signs prohibiting fishing and replace them with others allowing fishing in the former limits. The order will affect a number of companies.

Commissioner Buller also issued notice that rulings of Federal food administrators regarding fish are no longer in effect and that the regulations on bass will be enforced. Officers, however, are instructed to notify people before making arrests for violations.

In another ruling the Commissioner holds that hereafter the department will consider a burr of three points as one hook, thereby permitting the use of the plug bait of three burrs of three points each. This ruling, Mr. Buller says, was because of investigation of complaints from fishermen who contended that the ruling made it impossible to use plug bait.
