Patrolman Declares His Wife Deserted Him

One divorce action listed for hearing at the session of court this week could not be disposed of when it was found that the man who was suing his wife for separation resided in Cumberland county and that the county court had no jurisdiction.

Early this afternoon President Judge George Kunkel heard the case brought by Patrolman Abraham L. Heagy against his wife, Mrs. Helen Heagy. He alleges she had deserted him. Counsel for Mrs. Heagy announced he had written to her several times notifying her to appear in court to-day as she had said she intended to contest the proceedings, but he received no reply from her.

Four Survivors of "Last Man's Association" Hold Meeting

It was a historic gathering of Civil War veterans at the home of Herman Neumyer, 320 Peffer street, when four survivors of the famous Clemmeh Band, of Lancaster, which responded to the first call with sixteen men, of whom but four are left. This gathering disclosed the vital fact that no more loyal Americans exist to-day than Germans of the earlier generation.

Mr. Neumyer, leader of the band, said in his pleasant home to-day, his eyes flashing, voice trembling, as he recalled the period of 1848 when Prussia first disclosed the iron hand by looting the province of Baden, after her attack on Austria. He told of the looting and declared: "The Hohenzollerns ruined Germany; they must be punished."

"Coming to this country with many others from Baden he was among the very first to respond to President Lincoln's call. At the gathering vivid history was narrated, of Chickamauga, especially. "It was there I saw General Grant for the first time," related the ancient warrior to-day. "He came down with Thomas, Rock of Chickamauga, Sheridan and Sherman to recover what Rosecrans had lost. He ordered our band to play just before the battle and when the shells fell thick, he called to me, as the leader of the band, 'Rebels can't shoot straight.'" Mr. Neumyer had to smile as he related what a fine brand of whiskey the General served him, and with what relish he partook himself. They stuck with the army four whole years and marched with Sherman to the sea. On playing at a Lincoln demonstration at Lancaster the four veterans laughed heartily at the recollection of how anti-Lincoln rosters rotten-egged the band, and Leader Neumyer, himself, was felled by a thrown stone. This band was attached to the 79th Pennsylvania Volunteers, under Colonel Hambright, of Lancaster. The delegation from this city came over in a limousine on which the words, "First Pennsylvania Volunteers—1861," were inscribed. Besides the local members of the association two members of Post 495, G. A. E., Martin Light and Nathan H. Ramsay, past officers of the order, made the trip.

CENTRAL FOLKS GO TO BANQUET

Alumni, Faculty and Teachers Ready For Wednesday's Big Event

"Let's go!" That's what the committee in charge of the Central High school banquet to be held Wednesday evening, said this morning. Everything is "all set" for a big time, and the committee is all "hot up."

Alumni, members of the faculty, and students of Central will attend the banquet. After the "eats" are consumed, a good "old-fashioned chat" will prevail and chances are that something may be done in regard to forming an association of Centralites. The hall will be decorated in blue and gray and music suitable for the occasion will be in style. A piano and victrola have been secured from local music houses. C. M. Sigler furnishing the victrola.

Miss Helen G. Hill and Russell E. Hill, of 805 North Third street, spent Easter at Atlantic City. Mrs. Charles Glass and Miss Abbie Glass, of Carlisle, formerly of Harrisburg, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Driggs, North and Nineteenth streets.

RED MEN PLAN FOR CONVENTION

State Officers Here For Big Fraternal Event of the Summer

S. Williams, Jr., of Scranton, great sachem, and John R. Greenleaf, great keeper of wampum, spent Saturday and yesterday in this city at the Penn-Harris to arrange for the 70th annual session of the great council of the Improved Order of Red Men, to be held here beginning Monday, June 9.

On that evening all newly-elected delegates will receive degrees and will be admitted to the council. The regular sessions will begin Tuesday morning June 10, with addresses by Governor William C. Sproul, Lieutenant Governor Edward E. Beldeman and Mayor Daniel L. Keister. Prominent members of the State will make responses.

A memorial service will be held on Tuesday evening when Past Great Sachem William H. Long, Hanover, will speak and Past Great Sachem A. C. Holland, Philadelphia, will pay a tribute to Past Great Sachem Doanmy and E. S. Rutherford who died within the last year. They were the only two men from Pennsylvania to ever reach this high station in the national organization of the order.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the parade on Wednesday afternoon. Local tribes are holding a weekly meeting to plan for the sessions and the parade. Warrior Eagle Tribe, No. 340 has already purchased fifty new costumes, and Complanter Tribe, No. 61, has placed an order for new uniforms. The next meeting of the committee of arrangements in the city will be held on Wednesday evening.

An unique badge will be furnished this year to the many delegates. It will be known as a Victory Badge and will have a design and an Indian on the center with a soldier and a sailor beside him and the colors of the order and the national flag above.

Coal Land Hearing Continued Until May 6

County commissioners continued the hearing of appeals of the Susquehanna Collieries Company from the assessments against coal lands owned by them, to May 6. At that time engineers for the county and for the coal company will report on the estimates of unmined coal in the ground and its value. In case the engineers do not agree and file a joint report separate statements will be presented.

Representatives of the Susquehanna Company in this city said they were unable to present to give further particulars concerning the reported estimates on the coal lands said to have been given an independent operator in Wilkes-Barre. It is said that the selling price is named at $1,500,000 but there has been no confirmation of the report here.

$40,000 LOAN FOR BATHING BEACH

Mayor Keister Proposed to Have Voters Pass on Improvement

The long-delayed plan to build municipal bathing beach took a more definite form Saturday when Mayor Keister said in an interview that he will back a popular loan of $40,000 to construct this much needed city improvement. He plans to put the loan before the people at the fall election.

"There has been a lot of 'stalling' about this bathing beach," the Mayor said in an informal interview. Every time we make up a city budget, there is talk of including $5,000 for a bathing beach. Anyone knows that $5,000 isn't enough money. We need $40,000 at least, and I propose to push a plan to put a popular loan to this amount before the people at the polls in the fall. The new bathing beach is to be built on the unit system, since plans are that as the city expands, the beach shall also be expanded.
