112th Infantry Will Not Join in Review Because of Terrific Losses in Battle Line

COL. RICKARDS REVIEWS HIS FIGHTING MEN FOR LAST TIME IN DEMOBILIZATION CAMP

Members of Companies D and I Express Desire For Home-Coming Reception When They Arrive at Pennsylvania Station; Anxious to Get Back to Mothers and Wives

(Special to the Harrisburg Telegraph)

Camp Dix, N. J., May 2.—Companies D and I, the Harrisburg units of the One Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, Twenty-eighth Division, probably will arrive in Harrisburg late Sunday or early Monday, according to announcement made at the demobilization camp here to-day.

The companies have been so terribly battered by the enemy's fire that only a handful of the men who marched out of Harrisburg when the call came for troops are left. So many replacements were made that there are now more men from other states than Harrisburgers in the companies. Approximately 35 men are left in each unit while 150 officers and men answered the call of the National Guard in each of the companies of the old Eighth Infantry.

Suffered Terrible Losses

Because of the losses suffered by the entire 112th Infantry, Colonel Rickards was informed that his regiment would not be included in the units who will march in any review of the Keystone Division that may be held in Philadelphia. Instead the boys are anxious to be given a real old-fashioned bit of welcome at their home town when they arrive at the station.

The 112th swept by in review before its commander, Col. Rickards, shortly before noon to-day. Every man in spick and span attire was in line for what probably will be the last time. In addition to the martial air which is usual in the crack organizations there was a peculiar feeling among the men. There is little likelihood that they ever again will pass in review as a unit of fighting men.

Ready to Come Home

After the review the men seemed to feel that the end had come although they will not be mustered out of the service until Sunday.

First Lieutenant Charles Thomas, of Company I, with other officers said to-day that if members of D and I are mustered out at approximately the same time an effort will be made to have them all come home on the same train. It was said that Captain Henry M. Gross, of Harrisburg, who is a member of the 28th division headquarters, would be glad to furnish any information to Harrisburg people who wish to organize a home-coming reception for the men.

Captain Gross may be gotten on the telephone by calling the 28th Division headquarters in Camp Dix. Much joy was expressed by the men in learning that they would be held in service for a parade in Philadelphia. To a man everyone wants to get back home to mothers, wives and friends.

Arrangements are being hurried to provide a fitting reception for the home-coming of the brave Harrisburgers who fought the battles of freedom in France. A fitting celebration will be held out by the Home Polks Victory Association of the World War, which has been making arrangements for the homecoming of Harrisburg's own men after their year of hard service on the fields of France. A fitting celebration will be arranged. This enthusiastic promise is held out by Mayor Keister following his conference with the officials in charge of the arrangements. Harrisburg owes much to these men and it would be a shame if they were not fittingly received, the Mayor said and the city is not to be ashamed by her reception to her sons, he added.

Plans being considered by the committees who had been arranging for the reception, hastily called together this afternoon, by Mayor Keister following the receipt of information that Companies D and I of the old Eighth Regiment will arrive in Harrisburg ahead of schedule just as the boys are expected to arrive early on Monday morning, although this information is not definite.

WENT AWAY AS PRIVATE, IS HOME WITH GOLD LEAF

Major Wright Makes Most Rapid Promotion in the War

Advancing from the rank of a "buck" private to that of a major within two years, what is believed to be one of the most rapid promotions of any Harrisburg man during the present war, Major James Earl Wright, 1426 Regina street, is now at Camp Dix, N. J. He arrived in this country yesterday, landing at the port of New York aboard the Finland.

Employed in the Adjutant General's office at the outbreak of the war, Wright enlisted a short time thereafter in the One Hundred and Third Supply Train, with which he went to Mount Gretna, where he received his preliminary training. He soon was promoted to the rank of first sergeant of one of the companies of the train.

Following the reorganization of the Pennsylvania National Guard at Camp Hancock, Sergeant Wright was made a first lieutenant of a truck train. Holding this rank, he

Many Ministers and Laymen Discuss Plan For Raising Huge Sum

A half million dollars or more is to be expended in new building, social and educational projects in Harrisburg and adjacent territory under the survey of the Missionary Centenary of the Methodist Episcopal church, and practically every city and town in Central Pennsylvania will reap substantial benefits for years to come as a result of the survey just completed. This is the forecast made by Dr. Morris E. Swartz, of Baltimore, executive secretary of the centenary in an address before a conference of Methodist ministers and laymen held in the Camp Curtin Memorial Methodist Church to-day.

"Expenditures for various cities will vary in size," he said, "and will be made in proportion to the needs of the respective localities." The survey of the centenary covers the entire country and is the most complete ever compiled in religious history.

Leaving the Harrisburg Telegraph building to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock, Carl Hanson, president of the Overland-Harrisburg Company, driving a standard model '90 Overland, will start what will be the greatest test yet on record for a stock automobile.

Considerable enthusiasm has been stirred up among automobile owners all over the country by the remarkable performance of a model '90 Overland in Oklahoma City, when starting March 29, it broke the world's seven-day nonstop record. This car covered a distance of 4,370.1 miles, equal to the distance between New York and Los Angeles and back to Oklahoma City. The test was made with the car running continually in high gear without a stop for seven days and seven nights, and was held under the auspices of the Cahart Motor Company, of Oklahoma City.

WORLD PEACE IS NEARER AS HUNS WAIT ON TREATY

Pact Probably Will Be Signed Early in Week Beginning May 25

Paris, May 2.—No formal program was announced for today's session of the Council of Three, but it was officially stated that the meeting was being devoted to odds and ends and lesser details remaining to be put into shape for the final completion of the peace treaty.

If the work of carrying out the last phase of the peace negotiations progresses according to the schedule outlined in Paris dispatches, the treaty ending the great war will probably be signed early in the week beginning May 25.

The treaty will be presented to the Germans on Monday afternoon. Reports from the Peace Conference indicate that it is to be a "victors' peace," and there will be no oral conversations except the mere formalities when the treaty is handed over.

Fifteen days will be given the enemy to consider the treaty, with an additional five days or a week for the exchange of views between the Allied and German delegations.

Thus, at the latest, if present plans are followed, May 27 should see peace reigning once more between Germany and the Allied and associated governments.

Secret Peace Session To-morrow A secret plenary session of the conference will be held on Saturday, while on Monday a meeting will be held for the organization of the League of Nations. Italy's Milledre represented at the conference, but her ambassador is invited to attend such conferences as the regular
